BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Mr. James A. Lansing has purchased the Jessup lots on Clay avenue, opposite Colonel Bates' home, "Breezy-mountain," and will erect a handsome residence thereon.

Janitor Benjamin found a whisky bottle in one of the "jury" pillow-cases the other day that the grand jury forgot to mention in its report.

The skin grafting process promises to be a great success in the case of Mrs. H. A. Connell. Already the flesh has begun to knit.

The managers of the Home for the Friendless will hold their regular monthly meeting this morning at the usual time and place.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith, formerly of the Moses Taylor home, are rejoicing over the advent of a baby in their home.

PERSONAL.

Patrolman Sloat is enjoying his annual vacation. Miss Swan has removed from the Faurot house to the Nash.

Herbert E. Medway left yesterday for New Haven to resume his studies at Yale college.

Meyer Davidson returned last evening from New York, where he was selecting his winter footwear.

Louis H. Zimmer, driver at Casey & Kelly's jewelry, and wife have returned from a visit with friends in New York city.

Arthur Davis, son of Lieutenant of Police John Davis, and Richard Williams, of Taylor, leave Monday for Bloomsburg State Normal school.

Dr. I. F. Everhart, N. E. Rice and James Heckel, of this city, have returned from their hunting trip in the northwestern part of the state of Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sumner, of Philadelphia, are the guests for a few days, of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kingsbury, of Clay avenue. Mr. Sumner, as is well known to many of our residents, is an old Scrantonian, and for some years has been purchasing agent of the entire Pennsylvania railroad system.

Goods advertised for years are certain to have merit or they would not be popular. Substitutes are usually "unknown quantities." The moral is obvious. Get what you ask for—take nothing else.

Passengers for New York city should take Lehigh Valley railroad. Sleeping car placed on track at Wilkes-Barre 9:00 p. m. for occupancy. Leaves at 2:30 a. m. arriving New York 8:25 a. m. Reservations at City Ticket Office, 309 Lackawanna avenue.

CAMPBELL BOY RETURNS.

It Was Thought He Had Been Killed by Lightning in Kingston. Last Fourth of July, Michael Campbell and Alfred Hagen, two young lads, of Capoune avenue, ran away from home. A week or so later Hagen returned home and reported that he had lost Campbell in Syracuse. A month later a boy answering young Campbell's description was killed by lightning at Kingston, Pa. Mrs. Campbell went thither forthwith upon hearing the news, but the body had been buried before she arrived. She thought to have the remains exhumed, but when the undertaker told her that the body had been so disfigured by the lightning that she would not be able to identify it, at all events, she decided not to persist in her determination. She and the rest of the family dreaded all along that the boy buried at Kingston was the one they so anxiously sought, but yesterday the dread was removed and joy installed in its place, for on going to the door at 2 o'clock in the morning, in answer to a timid knocking, Mrs. Campbell saw her long-lost and deeply-mourned boy standing before her. He had made his way to New York after becoming separated from his companion in Syracuse and remained there, living as best he could until a few days ago, when he wearied of his hobo life and decided to return home. He made his way thither by stealing rides on coal and freight trains.

BREWERS' SYNDICATE.

Will Not Begin Business Today as Was Anticipated—Stegmaler Refuse to Enter the Combine. Today the brewers' syndicate, to be known as the Pennsylvania Central Brewing company, was to begin business, but some details in connection with the title of the brewery which are being gobbled up by the syndicate, have yet to be arranged, and consequently the date of the beginning of the business career of the syndicate was postponed one week. Another reason for the postponement was that it was expected the Stegmaler, of Wilkes-Barre, would get in out of the wet, and with a view to winning them over J. H. Persch, who is the representative of the syndicate in its negotiations, has been in Wilkes-Barre for several days. Christ Stegmaler said last night that he had given their final answer yesterday, and that they would not join forces with the syndicate, although several tempting offers had been made to them to do so. As the Stegmaler's brewery has a capacity of 200,000 barrels a year, it is liable to make some trouble for the syndicate.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

Langfeld's Millinery Opening Is Announced for Monday and Tuesday. The millinery season cannot be said to have fairly opened in Scranton till Langfeld has made his first show of new creations.

Profiting by the experiences of past seasons, when pattern hats and bonnets that cost him hundreds of dollars were deliberately copied by trimmers sent from other stores in and out of Scranton, M. Langfeld determined on two things, and these, as already stated, before making a display, and secondly, to make sure that styles were actually settled at home and abroad before he invited his friends and the public to see the best that the art and skill of two continents could produce, and these, as already stated, the opening this season is a little later than usual, and has been fixed for Monday and Tuesday next. As usual, the public are cordially invited to attend this feast of loveliness prepared for them in the spacious millinery show rooms at 324 Lackawanna avenue.

TEA AT Y. W. C. A. ROOMS.

An Annual Event of Committees of the Association. The annual tea of the combined committees of the Young Woman's Christian association held their annual tea last night in the rooms of the association on Washington avenue. About ninety ladies were present.

Mrs. Ripple, president of the board of managers, presided. Miss Katherine Timberman and Miss Wolfe sang the beautiful duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd." Miss J. L. MacColl, formerly his secretary of the Young Woman's Christian association in New York, but now head worker in the Young Women's Settlement in New York, gave a bright and enthusiastic talk to committee workers. Miss Timberman and Miss Wolfe each sang a solo.

A social time was enjoyed and the members of the entertainment committee served ice cream, cake and coffee. Mrs. R. J. Matthews and Mrs. M. F. Kays presided at the table, which was tastefully decorated.

MANY ARE DISAPPOINTED.

No More Naturalizations Until After the Election. Yesterday, Judges Gastner and Edwards announced in their respective court rooms that after the close of the day's session there would be no further petitions for naturalizations heard until after the November election.

In consequence of this announcement there was a big rush for papers during the afternoon, fully 200 applicants being on hand. About one hundred of them got a hearing. The rest had to go away disappointed.

Faurot House Changes Hands. S. D. Oberfeld, for many years manager of the Central hotel at the Delaware Water Gap, today succeeded to the proprietorship of the Faurot House, Mrs. Mary Faurot, who has conducted the well-known home-hotel for seventeen years, will retire from business. She proposes going to Florida to recuperate her falling health, but what she will eventually do as regards returning to business life she has not as yet decided.

Steinbeck Placed Under Arrest. P. Steinbeck was arrested yesterday for receiving stolen goods and Alderman Millar held him under $200 bail. Steinbeck, it is alleged, is the peddler who bought from boys the bells, pendants, etc., taken a few months ago from No. 7 school building.

DARING WORK OF BURGLARS

Entered the Residence of Garrett Bogart Before 5 O'clock Last Evening.

THEIR PLUNDER FOOTS UP $1,675

Work Was Undoubtedly Done by Professionals—Residence of John Stanton in Platt Place Entered Two Weeks Ago—Manner in Which the Cracksmen Secured an Entrance into Mr. Bogart's Residence—No One at Home at the Time.

Burglars, supposed to be a gang that has operated in this city for two weeks, entered the residence of Garrett Bogart, superintendent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, at the corner of Spruce street and Adams avenue, last evening, and secured booty to the value of $1,675, mostly jewelry. The work was done between 6.50 o'clock and 7.50 o'clock, when there was no one at home. Lighting the gas and stationing a sentry outside, the gang ransacked every room in the building. A list of the goods stolen is: One gent's 4 1/2 carat diamond ring; value, $500. One lady's ring, diamond cluster, 30 stones; value, $250. One breast pin, seven diamond pendants; value, $250. One lady's gold watch, hunting case; value, $50. One lady's crescent diamond ring, nine stones; value, $100. One gent's gold ring, turquoise stone, two diamonds; value, $150. One lady's ring, garnet stone, diamond circle; value, $100. One gent's heavy gold watch chain; estimated at $100. One gent's gold chain, amethyst; value, $80. One gent's gold scarf pin, set with diamonds; value, $50. One pair of gold cuff buttons; value, $5. One $100 bill. Two $20 bills. One clothes brush, silver back; value, $5. Total value—$1,675.

TAKEN TO NEW YORK.

John J. Jordan's Condition Has Become So Alarming That He Will Be Treated at Pasteur Institute.

So alarming have become the symptoms of hydrophobia in John J. Jordan, of West Lackawanna avenue, father of the boy who died last Friday of the terrible ailment, that his physicians, Doctors Wehlauf and Erady, decided last night to send him to the Pasteur institute in New York and he was taken thither on the 1.10 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train this morning, Dr. Brady accompanying him.

While in his death throes Friday afternoon the lad inflicted a slight scratch with his finger nail on the inside of his father's right arm, midway between the wrist and elbow.

The wound was treated with a precaution it was considered immediately. At first it was thought nothing would come of it but in a few days the arm commenced to swell and grow painful and physicians were called to attend him.

All ordinary means were taken to allay the pain and swelling, but they continued to increase alarmingly and finally it was resolved to send him to the Pasteur institute.

The Pasteur people claim that their treatment is efficacious if applied within nine days after the symptoms first develop. Jordan will be in the institute one day before the expiration of the limit.

SUCCEEDS MR. STURGES.

O. D. Ashley Elected a Director of the Ontario and Western.

Says the New York Sun: O. D. Ashley, president of the Wabash Railroad company, was elected a director of the New York Ontario and Western Railway company at the annual meeting of the latter company in this city yesterday, succeeding Edward B. Sturges, of Scranton, Pa., who retired. Otherwise the old board of directors was re-elected.

At the meeting, in reply to the inquiry of a stockholder as to whether there was any prospect of a dividend on the stock, president Thomas F. Fowler said that the matter had been under consideration, but that the largest interests thought it unwise to declare a dividend until there was a reasonable certainty that it could be maintained.

BOIES WHEEL COMPANY TO DISSOLVE

Formality Consequent Upon the Sale of the Works Last May.

The Boies Steel Wheel company, through its president, Col. H. M. Boies, and its secretary, J. D. Sherer, yesterday made application to court to have the corporation dissolved. A rule was granted to show cause why the dissolution should not be permitted. On Oct. 25 was fixed as the time for hearing arguments.

The Boies company sold out to the steel wheel trust last May. The present move is simply for the purpose of annulling the charter and discontinuing the state taxes thereon. Warren & Knapp are attorneys for the petitioner.

ROBBED OF HIS OUTFIT.

Poor Digges Befriended a Man Who Proved Base and Thankless.

Mike Digges, of 1209 South Washington avenue, appeared at the police station yesterday and told a story of how he had been robbed by a man he befriended. Two weeks ago Anton Dubon came here from Baltimore and Digges took him to his boarding house and allowed him to sleep with him. Wednesday morning when he awoke he found that Dubon had disappeared and with him went two watches, two chains, one ring, two cuff-buttons, one air of trousers, shoes (No. 8), one brown coat and a white soft hat. Digges wants the police to catch Dubon.

FUNERAL OF JOSEPH SMITH.

Followed to the Grave by a Cortege a Mile Long.

There were no new developments in the Jermyn No. 1 mine disaster yesterday, save for the funeral in the afternoon of one of the victims, Joseph Smith. The cortege was nearly a mile long and was headed by the Hungarian band playing dirges. The funerals of Franklin, Watkins, Tompkins and Gallagher, will be held this afternoon. Franklin will be buried at Durysa, Watkins and Tompkins in Marcy cemetery, Lackawanna, and Gallagher in Minooka cemetery.

WILL GET EXTRA PAY.

Crematory Employees Come Under the Provisions of Eight-Hour Law.

In response to a request from the board of health, transmitted through Secretary R. J. Murray, City Solicitor McGinley has decided that the crematory employees come within the provisions of the municipal eight-hour law.

This means two hours extra pay for each of the three men working at the crematory for every working day since the law went into effect, July 28 last.

INSPECTION OF THE NEW ROAD

Railroad Officials Ride Over the Susquehanna Connecting Railroad.

READY FOR THE ROLLING STOCK

Today the Road Will Be Put Regularly Into Service for Hauling Coal from Breakers in This Vicinity to the Main Line of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern—Big Steel Viaduct at Moosic Was Completed About an Hour Before the Party Crossed It.

A number of officials yesterday made a formal trip of inspection over the new Susquehanna Connecting railroad, which runs from Paddy's Landing in Luzerne county, on the main line of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern, the coal field branch of the New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad, to Greenwood, in this county. The road was built for the purpose of taking coal from several mines in this vicinity to the main line of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern. The inspecting party consisted of President Hopkins, Vice-President Moore and General Superintendent C. D. McKelvey, of the New York, Susquehanna and Western; ex-Judge W. J. Lewis, of this city, president of the Connecting road, and John Shields, the contractor, who constructed the road.

The party made the trip in President Hopkins' private car, going over the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern to Mill Creek, and Delaware and Hudson to Greenwood, where they crossed over to the Connecting road and made the run of eight miles over the new road to Paddy's Landing. The road was found to be all that was expected and today will be put regularly into service, hauling the coal that heretofore went over the Delaware and Hudson road. The new road will save the New York, Susquehanna and Western about $300,000 a year in coal tolls. Wilkes-Barre and Eastern rolling stock will be used.

The big steel viaduct at Moosic was completed about an hour before the inspecting party passed over it. It is the largest of its kind in this part of the state. Another viaduct, north of Moosic, which will carry a branch road to Jermyn's collieries over the Lackawanna river, and a network of railroad tracks will be completed in about two weeks.

HE HAD BURGLAR TOOLS.

Taylor Authorities Bag a Dapper Youth on Suspicion.

At 11.20 o'clock Wednesday night Constable Allen, of Taylor, arrived at the county jail with a dapper young Poland, Faustin Yatzkofsky, whom 'Squire Doles had committed to await trial for burglary.

There have been numerous robberies down the valley of late, and after much nosing about the constabulary of the locality hit upon Yatzkofsky as the likely culprit. He was arrested and the suspicion was confirmed by the finding of a kit of burglar tools in his possession.
