GROVE HEROINE OF HICKORY

Miss Grace Waterman Slaughters a Reptile -- Whisperings of Interest to the Railroad Boys .- A Prosecutor Wanted .- Personals.

Special to the Scranton Tribune, Susquehanna, Oct. 5.-Over in the Deep Hollow section of Great Bend township, a number of the denizens have established a snake farm. There are twenty mounds of earth on the snake farm, prepared in such a way that the snakes use them for nests, and there are about a dozen nests in each mound. The nests are expected to turn out about a dozen rattlesnakes each year, and the stock will increase rapidly. The prospectors have a contract with a Philadelphia patent medicine firm, that is making a rheumatism ure, for 250 snakes next season at $2.75 each. Others will be sold to New York dime museum managers and circuses will purchase a few. Great care is taken of the young snakes. The newly-hatched snakes, if not properly cared for by the mother, are taken to a hut nearby, and there fed with bugs caught for that purpose. Sometimes the eggs are hatched out under the stove. A doz-n very large snakes, with their fangs drawn, are kept about the home of one of the firm as pets. The snakes are excellent mousers-much better than cats. The proprietors wander about the farm, taking no other precaution against the reptiles than to wear thick boots.

THE CREAM OF THE NEWS. Rev. P. J. Gough, the late able and popular curate of St. John's Catholic church, has been transferred to the cathedral in Scranton. During his stay among us he has made very many friends, who regret his removal hence. He has just returned from a flying trip to Germany. Rev. J. W. Malone, late of the Scran ton cathedral, succeeds Rev. P. J. Gough as curate of St. John's. Father Malone celebrated mass in the Starruca church on Sunday. After a protracted illness of consumption. Thomas Best died at his home on Laurel street on Saturday, aged 23 years. The funeral occurred from St John's Catholic church on Monday afternoon, Rev. J. W. Malone officiating.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sherman on Wednesday evening, Bert Wood ward, of Lansboro, and Miss Maude Sherman, of Susquehanna, will be united in marriage.

RAILROAD WHISPERINGS. After a few days' short time, the Eric shops were on Monday placed on full time. During the temporary absence of night Ticket Agent Chamberlain, at about 10 o'clock on Friday night, a thief forced the door of the Eric ticket office, grabbed $45, exodusted instanter, and is still at large. In his haste the thief falled to rifle the cash drawer.

While assisting in making up a train n the Susquehanna yard on Sunday evening, George Springstien, of Tioga Centre, N. Y., fell between two cars and was instantly killed. He was 25 years old and unmarried.

During the month of September about 15,000 more cars were handled in the Susquehanna yard than in the corresponding month of last year. The funeral of George Tibbits, one of the oldest engineers on the Susquehanna division of the Erie, occurred in Honellsville on Friday. Some of the Erie trainmen are credited with forty and forty-five days in September. Two summer passenger trains have been taken off the Erie west of Port

Owing to a rush of business, an extra locomotive has been placed in the Susquehanna yard.

HEROINE OF HICKORY GROVE. Miss Grace Waterman, a comely young school teacher, is just now the heroine of Hickory Grove. For some time past she has vearned to distin-guish herself by killing a rattlesnake A few days since her wish was gratified in a very unexpected manner. Afa meadow, and in doing so she saw, just ahead of her, a splendid specimen of the rattler. Placing her books upon the ground, she struck at the snake with her parasol. The reptile was ready for battle and instantly coiled himself around the parasol. Miss Waterman books she continued on her way, but in a moment she discovered that she was surrounded by snakes of different sizes, all of them in positions of attack or defense. The plucky girl armed herself with a stout hickory club and at once commenced striking the reptiles right and left. In about five minutes she had killed every one of them, fourteen in number. Several of them were over four feet in length. Three of them had fifteen rattles. Miss Waterman arrived home little worse for her

WANTED-A PROSECUTOR. On Friday night Frederick O'Dell, a Brushville farmer, came to town, and after purchasing some clothing and storring away a few beers, started for home. He was joined by Michael Reardon, a well-known young man of the town. When in the western end of the borough, Reardon drew a revolver, and demanded O'Dell's pocket book, new hat and pants. O'Dell gave them up and went home. On Saturday he came to town and swore out a search war rant and the stolen property was found in Reardon's home. Reardon was soon arrested and placed in the lockup. The case was called before Justice Tiffan; at 2 o'clock on Monday, but during the morning the prosecutor was "seen and when the case was called he wa non est. An effort will be made to se cure his attendance today.

SOME SUNDRIES. "Columbia," the new national hymn, written by Rev. D. D. Jenkins, the gifted Uniondale clergyman, is meeting with a ready sale, and making the author famous. It is enthusiastically received wherever it is rendered. The reverend gentleman writes good poetry. and his lines mean something. He has a brilliant future.

Hon. Amos J. Cummings was temporary chairman of the recent Democratic convention in New York. Being temporary chairman of a Tammany conven-tion is a possible honor, but for downright pleasure Amos would prefer to sit in a boat and troll for pickerel on the raging Susquehanna.

Some years since, a Susquehanna ounty man was offered a foreign consulship, the salary of which was $3,000 and the expenses $4,500. He wrote the Secretary of State that if the government would loan him $1,500 he would take the job; otherwise it might go to Hoboken-or words to that effect-and he would continue to practice law and skin clients. He has never yet seen the $1,500-nor the office across the salted

The next Women's Christian Tempernce Union county convention will be held in Thomson. A mid-year convention will be held at Herrick Centre. Jerome Dewitt, esq., a native of this county, is the Democratic candidate for mayor of Binghamton.

There was a large attendance at the ounty fair. The receipts were about G. E. Stanton has been appointed postmaster at Glenwood. The Jefferson Branch Union of Christian Endeavor societies will hold its next convention at Herrick Centre, on Wednesday, November 10.

Rev. J. S. Lewis has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Springville Methodist Episcopal church, occasioned by the death of Rev. Abram Scoffeld.

IN A LINE OR SO. Mrs. Ione Walton, of Scranton, will inspect Moody Relief Corps this evening. She will be accompanied by Mrs.

Susie Loomis, also of Scranton. The Kalser-Watkins Concert company gave a splendid entertainment in Hogan Opera House on Thursday evening, before a small but very apprecia tive audience. Faulty advertising had much to do with the small attendance. Erie Hose company will hold its twelfth annual ball in Hogan Opera House, November 24. The car movement over the Erie in the month of August was the greatest since October 1, 1890. The movement for September without question exceeded the record of any month since the construction of the road. These are Republican days.

AVOCA.

St. Mary's church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon when James Ward and Celia Conway, both fied in a very unexpected manner. Af-ter closing her Oak Hill school for the day, she had occasion to pass through M. F. Crane. The bride and her attendant, Miss Josephine Harrington, of Wyo-ming, were handsomely attired in dark green gowns with braided trimmings James Robinson waited upon the groom. After the ceremony a reception was tendered the friends of the contracting par-ties at the home of the bride's mother Miss Conway is an estimable lady, and dashed the parosal against a tree and for a number of years has been em-the snake was killed. Picking up her ployed as housekeeper at the parochial residence, Mr. Ward is collector for the Prudential Insurance company. They will reside in a neatly furnished home on the West Side.

At a meeting of the school board held on Monday evening Miss B. Reap was transferred to Primary A. room No. 3 outlding. Miss Kate Campbell will take charge of Primary B. No. 2 building. The change will take effect next Monday. John Liney was granted the use of a room in No. 1 building to open select night school. Rev. J. J. McCabe will officiate today at the marriage of his brother, Louis, to Miss Fitzsimmons, of Pleasant Mount. All members of the Avoca Hose company are requested to meet in their rooms tomorrow morning at 19 o'clock to pre-pare for the afternoon parade at Wilkes-Barre.

Stephen Romanak, a laborer employed in the Langeliffe colliery, was instantly in the Langeliffe colliery, was instantly killed yesterday morning by being struck in the head with a heavy piece of overhanging rock. Deceased was about 23 years of age and boarded with his brother, Jacob, on the West Side. He has been in this country but a few months. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning with a requiem mass. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery. be made in St. Mary's cometery.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review

New York, Oct. 5.—Not for many weeks has Wall street been so dull as to lay, it was offered as an explanation that it was offered as an explanation that the eve of the Jewish day of atonement called many brokers and operators .rem the street. But there was a manifest disposition to refrain from trading, and yesterday's sharp reaction seemed to admonish the buils that conditions are not yet ready for a resumption of the advance. The favorable factors which developed during the day, although they veloped during the day, although they affected for a time the individual stocks to which they applied, were ineffective in causing a general advance, and most stocks closed lower. Total sales of stocks were 346,600.
