GOLD IN WAYNE COUNTY.

Farmers Stop Farming and Search for the Yellow Metal. Gold fever has broken out in a quite pronounced form in Wayne county at Clemo, a little station on the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad, a few miles from Lake Ariel. The cause of the excitement is the reported discovery of traces of the yellow metal on the farm of P. L. Rutledge, two miles from Clemo.

What first led to Rutledge's belief that gold was on his farm, is not known but he was sanguine enough to secure the services of C. S. Babcock, of Randolph, a diamond drill and gold mining expert, who is said to have put down the first shaft at Cripple Creek and was lately located at Carson City, Nev. From a piece of rock on the Rutledge farm, Babcock separated a comparatively large quantity of gold dust. He obtained the residue by submitting the rock to a corrosive acid test. He made quite an extensive examination of the farm and ventured the opinion that it contained evidences of gold and iron.

BOUQUET OF PRETTY OCTOBER BRIDES

William Joseph Peck and Miss Lawson Hart Wedded at Pittston.

THE SCHOOLEY-LAZARUS NUPTIALS

Miss Mattie J. Kennedy Married to James P. Devine in St. Patrick's Church-Nuptials of Miss Dora Reinhardt, of the Pine, and Mr. Biddleman, of New York City. Clarence B. Sturges Married at Southport, Conn.

William Joseph Peck, son of Cashier W. H. Peck, of the Third National bank, and a member of the firm of Miller & Peck, was married in West Pittston yesterday morning to Miss Lawson Hart, daughter of Theodore Hart, editor and proprietor of the Pittston Gazette.

The wedding occurred at the bride's home, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Arthur, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Dr. C. M. Griffin, pastor of the Elm Park church, of this city. The groom was attended by Joseph J. Osterhout, of Pittston, and the bride by the groom's sister, Miss Alice Peck. Mr. and Mrs. Peck left at noon via the Lehigh Valley railroad for New York city. They will reside in a newly-furnished home in this city at the corner of Penn avenue and Delaware street. Their marriage was witnessed by the following from this city: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peck, Miss Grace Peck, Mrs. Sarah L. Peck, Nelson Peck and Mr. and Mrs. George N. Millar.

Schooley-Lazarus.

A social event of exceptional interest took place at the home of Mrs. Justine Lazarus, North Main street, about 10:30 o'clock this morning—the marriage of her daughter, Miss Margaret J., and Edwin Schooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schooley, of South Main street. The ceremony which united these two young people was performed by Rev. Dr. Parke in the presence of about twenty-five relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride was appointed the young people entered the front parlor unattended and took their position between two large portraits of the bride's grandparents. The bride was attired in a handsome traveling costume. Congratulations over the entire company sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast prepared and served by Mrs. Drake, caters. The bride received a number of beautiful gifts, which were greatly admired. Amid a veritable shower of rice, Mr. and Mrs. Schooley left on the 12:25 Lehigh Valley train for their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother.

Those in attendance from out-of-town were: Miss May Steele, Scranton; Mrs. Dickover, New York; Miss Jessie Miller, Miss Mame Miller, Miss Maud Firestein, Ray Roth, Mrs. Moore and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Evans, of Wekes-Barre.—Yesterday's Pittston Gazette.

Devine-Kennedy.

At high noon yesterday in St. Patrick's church, Miss Mattie J. Kennedy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kennedy, of 563 Pleasant street, was married to James P. Devine, of Division street. As the hour of twelve was announced, Mendelshon's wedding march, executed by Miss Durkin, heralded the entrance of the bridal party. They passed down the main aisle and were met at the sanctuary railing by Rev. D. A. Dunne, who performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nona Kennedy, and John J. Devine, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. The costume worn by the bride was a handsome one of blue poplin cloth, trimmed with braid and martin fur. The whole set off with a gainsborough hat. The bridesmaid was similarly attired. During the ceremony Miss Durkin played "Oh! Promise Me," and at the departure played the march from Lohengrin.

The ceremony was witnessed by the many friends of both parties. The immediate relatives and friends sat down to a dainty post-nuptial repast at the home of the bride's parents, and later Mr. and Mrs. Devine departed on their wedding tour on the 3:30 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train. New York, Boston and Philadelphia will be visited and upon their return they will reside at the bride's home. Both are well-known young people, Mrs. Devine having been employed at the Globe Warehouse for several years, and Mr. Devine a trusted employee of the Traction company, being night superintendent of the Linden street barn.

Biddleman-Reinhardt.

Miss Dora, the accomplished daughter of Foreman and Mrs. Adam Reinhardt, of the Pine, was married to Mr. Biddleman, of New York city, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents and was performed by Rev. Frederick Zizelman, pastor of the Zion German Evangelical church, of Mifflin avenue. Only the immediate relatives and friends of both parties were present.

The bride was attired in a neat-fitting traveling costume of gray cloth, and was attended by Miss Biddleman, a sister of the groom. The bridesmaid was also prettily gowned. John Reinhardt, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony a beautiful wedding repast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Biddleman departed via the 1:40 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for Niagara Falls and other points on their wedding tour. They will reside in New York city. Mrs. Biddleman is well known here, and is a young woman with many pleasing traits. Mr. Biddleman holds a responsible position with a large insurance company in New York city. A little tinge of romance lends zest to the happy event, as the families of both contracting parties came to this country together many years ago, when the couple were but children, and the attachment formed then resulted thus happily.

Carroll-Fitzsimmons.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at St. Patrick's church, Miss Mary Fitzsimmons, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fitzsimmons, of 417 North Summer avenue, was united in marriage to Stephen J. Carroll, of Twentieth street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Dunne, in the presence of numerous friends. The bride, attired in a pretty gown of cadet blue cloth, with trimmings, was attended by her sister, Miss B. Fitzsimmons, similarly attired, as bridesmaid. James Durkin acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding repast

MARTIN JORDAN'S LEG PUT IN EVIDENCE

Exhibited Before a Jury in Common Pleas, Yesterday.

HAD TO BE WITHDRAWN, HOWEVER

Three Physicians Called by Plaintiff Failed to Testify as the Plaintiff Expected, and to Show That the Doctor's Didn't Know It All the Leg Itself Was Submitted to the Jury--Verdicts in Three Cases.

Hon. Martin Jordan's left leg was the prominent thing in evidence about the court case yesterday. It was offered as plaintiff's "Exhibit A" in the case of Jordan against the city of Scranton which was called for trial before Judge Gunster in court room No. 2.

Jordan is suing the city for damages resulting from a broken leg which he alleges he sustained by falling on an icy sidewalk on Mattes street in February, 1895. Doctors Leet, Smith and Stevens were called by the plaintiff to show the nature of the injury and testify that it was of a permanent nature. They examined the leg and then one after the other testified that it was just as strong as it ever was and that Jordan is not now suffering and never will suffer any serious effects of the fracture. This was not at all pleasant to Mr. Watson, attorney for the plaintiff, and he proceeded to have his client exhibit the leg to the jury. Jordan dismounted, unshod and rolled up his trousers to the knee and then passed the leg in question around for inspection.

OBJECTION MADE.

Before Mr. Jordan got fairly well started on his exhibition tour of the jury box, happy idea struck City Solicitor McGinley and his assistant Mr. Davis and with a demand to know if the exhibit had been marked as per court rules, stopped the show.

Mr. Mahon declared it to be "Exhibit A, pro plaintiff," but before Steno-grapher Coston could so mark it another objection was raised by the city's attorneys which made the taping unnecessary. The objection was that Jordan's leg was being exhibited to discredit the testimony of the doctors and as a party cannot discredit his own witnesses the exhibit was irregular. Judge Gunster ruled that this was good law and Jordan consequently had to withdraw his leg.

Mr. Mahon was not at all pleased with the outcome of his expert testimony and said to Dr. Leet after he came from the stand "I congratulate you on the excellence of your job." It was Dr. Leet and that by reason of his condition on the day in question was guilty of contributory negligence. This is the first appearance of Mr. McGinley as the city's attorney in a trial.

INSPECTED THE LAND.

The jury in the culm case, accompanied by the attorneys, litigants and Judge Archbald, went to Peckville yesterday.
