Mrs. Lowry Gave an Interesting Discourse Concerning the Good That It Is Doing.

The Simpson church was crowded last night to hear addresses by the pastor and Mrs, Lowry, the secretary of the Young Woman's Christian asso-Rev. Sweet based his remarks on the work of Christ in raising to life the daughter of Jairus, speaking ecially of Jesus Christ lifting womanhood upon a plane of equality with men and making provision for an equal development. His address was introductory for Mrs. Lowry, who spoke on The Origin, the Need and the Work

Starting with the statement of the organization of the society at Normal university. Ill., in 1872, she traced its development until it branched out in international ways. She spoke of its international conventions-the first of which was held in our city in April, 1891-and of its world-wide work, citing the great work being carried on in the city of London, England, Mrs. Lowry then eloquently described the work now being carried on in this city. Scranton being the headquarters for the state work, as well as taking excellent care of local needs. Here in our city the society is caring for young women not in one department of their life alone, but physically, socially, intellectually, morally and spiritually. The gymnasium of the society is heping to develop the physical side of young women's life, making them strong in body and better fitted to face the responsibilities of physical life. The social life found multiplied opportunities for increased true and pure enjoyment, making attractive this department of life, so that it should be superior to the street and greatly in advance of that furnished by the avernishing the young women of today was making possible mental development for any young woman desiring to secure an education.

Woman's Christian association has ed a name as yet. brought to the front puts its stamp upon every attendant. Its classes for spiritual helpfulness, its Bible classes, its morning prayers, its Sabbath services, its constant endeavors to bring Jesus Christ into the lives of the young women commend the work of the socicty to all.

Her conclusion was an exhortation to bring our powers into play for the performance of the tasks which were given us to perform and that God would give us constant grace and increase our powers according as the tasks present themselves. Mrs. Lowry is a pleasing speaker and she thoroughly succeeded in interesting and instructing the large audience present.

HAWAIIANS HEAR MORGAN.

He Talks to Them of the Benefits and Wisdom of Annexation.

Honolulu, Oct. 4.—United States Schator Morgan, of Alabama, made his first publie appearance before the Hawaiian people on the evening of Sept. 20 at Kawaiahao church, on which occasion, at the instance of several prominent Hawaiians, he de-livered an address to the natives upor the benefits of annexation. It is estimated that between seven hundred and eight hundred persons were present, of whom fully three hundred were native Hawaitans. Among other things Senator Morgan said: "I suppose no American senator ever had a more important duty to perform than I have. Since I have been in Hawall I have felt as if I were in a part of America to which I had never been before. This is an American country, and when annexation takes place its own people will merely be coming to their own. We are not anxious to recruit soldiers from the fifty or sixty thousand people We are not anxious to secure their land. We are anxious for only one thing -to secure you from aggression from foreign powers. Almost every island in the South Pacific is now in the hands of either Germany, France or Great Britain, and my opinion is that the only solution fo the Hawdian Islands is in annextion to the United States. The seventy-five mill-ion people in the United States are not going to permit foreign aggression in these islands."
