OCTOBER WEDDING.

At high noon yesterday in the First Presbyterian church, Miss Gertrude Raynor was married to Maurice Gillespie Watt. The church was crowded with friends, and many were unable to find room within the building. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and beautiful flowers. The party as they entered were preceded by the ushers and flower-bearers, James H. Paul, J. H. Reese, D. L. Crane and R. A. Jadwin advanced in front, followed by Rebecca Meaker and Frazer Lathrope bearing flowers. During the approach of the bridal party as the bride advanced unattended, a chorus composed of Mrs. Hannah Leonard, the Misses Anne McMillan, Oliva Herring, Jessie Moore, Millie Ulmer, Grace Hathaway, Frances Daley and Josephine Burr sang the words of Lohengrin's wedding march, while the accompaniment was rendered by Professor A. P. Thomas. The bride and groom, with the groom's best man, Maxwell D. Lathrope, were met by the pastor, Rev. Charles Lee. The service, with a few impressive words, was short, and the party retired as the march of Mendelsshon was rendered by Professor Thomas. A reception, attended by about 175 guests, followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Samuel E. Raynor. The newly-wedded pair have departed upon their tour. Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. E. Simmons and Miss Clara Simmons of Wilkes-Barre; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Law, Mrs. A. S. Baker, Mrs. Silkman, Miss Silkman, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jadwin, of Scranton.

We ought to sell ALL of the School Shoes that will be sold in Scranton this fall. But we won't. Some people are such poor judges of QUALITY that they would pay $1.00 for a shoe that is nearly all shoddy, rather than pay $1.25 for a really good shoe. These people's trade we won't get. We will get the trade of people who like to make sure of what they are buying. Those who are good judges and don't want job lots of trashy stuff. We are better prepared than anyone else to serve such people and we will sell them school shoes "or any other kind" that will prove cheape "than any other shoes they can buy.
