CHANGE IN THE CABINET

That McKenna Belief Will Succeed Justice Field.

THE TALK OF WASHINGTON

Many Changes May Be Made in the Near Future.

The Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Day, Supposed to Be the President's Choice to Succeed to the Attorney Generalship -- No Prospect of Mr. Sherman's Retirement.

Washington.Oct, 13.-Coming changes in the cabinet consequent upon the prospective retirement of Associate Justice Stephen J. Field from the bench of the United States supreme court and the appointment of Joseph McKenne, now attorney general, to fill the vacancy, for the moment monopoize attention in Washington. There seeems this morning not to be the slightest doubt that Justice Field is to retire from the bench. His closest friends say that he has fulfilled his ambition there and is ready to leave public life. It is thought certain that Justice Field's successor will be Mr. McKenna

The attorney general this morning had a long conference with President McKinley, and although it is not known that the coming change in the supreme court bench was discussed, it may be presumed safely that the subject came up. After the conference the attorney general declined to say anything about his probable new appointment. "You cannot prove or disprove it by me,

If Mr. McKenna retires from the office of attorney general there is reason to suppose that Judge Day, the assistant secretary of state, will be named for the place. Judge Day is not contented in his present office, and it is generally supposed that when he took it at the solicitation of President Mc-Kinley it was agreed that he would be transferred as soon as an opening for his promotion presented itself. The opening most to the liking of Judge Day would be a vacancy in the attor-ney generalship, and it will be particularly pleasant for President McKinley, as he is anxious to have Judge Day at the cabinet table. The assistant secretary of state had a conference with the president of nearly two hours' duration this morning.

It is not b lieved here that Colonel J. J. McCook of New York is being thought of as successor to Mr. Mc-Kenna. Colonel McCook is not anxious for the place.

OTHER CABINET CHANGES.

These changes, the retirement of Justice Field and the promotion of Mr. McKenna and Judge Day, are practical certainties. Talk of other cabinet changes in connection with the retirement of John Sherman from the office of secretary of state halts. Mr. Sherman said today: "So that old story is aroun1 again? Well, I much prefer that absolutely nothing be published about it, but if something must be printed, I will say that I have no idea

That declaration is broad enough to stop speculation as to Mr. Sherman's successor. If Mr. Sherman changes his mind before the close of the present administration his successor will not be Mr. Long, now secretary of the navy, as has been suggested, because ir. Long would not give up that place for any other in the cabinet. Some people who profess to know say that successor would come from New York, and would probably be Whitelaw Reid.

"A modern school of doctrinaires have sprung up among you, college pro-fessors who declare that political party must not have anything to do, cannot be permitted to participate in this election in Greater New York, and therefore a self-appointed Citizens' union has risen in your midst to divide the vote and throw the election to Tammany Hall if possible. They have said We-these 250 candidates-we will nominate your candidate and you must elect him at the risk of being accused of throwing the election to Tammany.

"They have insulted the Republican party, though its leaders over and over again sought conferences and were turned aside with contempt. The Re-publicans have therefore nominated their own candidate and will fight to a finish." Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, and District Attorney Olcottt also spoke.

GEORGE TALKS ON THE COMBINATION

The Jeffersonian Democratic Candidate Explains His Nomination.

That He Can Defeat Both Van Wyck and Tracy He Has Not the Slightest Doubt .- The Issue Solely Between Low and George.

New York, Oct. 13.-Henry George, candidate of the Jefferson Democracy for mayor, tonight gave out the following letter concerning the recent combination with the Citizens' union:

On Friday, Oct. 5, in Cooper Union, I ac epted the nominations tendered me-that of the people there assembled, upon the datform and resolution there adopted; that of the United Democracy, that of the Democratic alliance; that of the Man-lattan Single Tax club, and that of the eople's party.
In accepting these nominations, it was ny intention to do so myself alone, and to leave every question of who should run with for other offices to be settled by the organizations themselves, trusting that his might be accomplished either by a mion upon such offices or by my running for mayor upon the tickets of all, leaving aubordinate offices to be filled in by each,

As the only way of satisfactority settling nose details the short time allowed by ne necessity of action under the law. ubmitted this question to a committee appointed by the chairman of that meet-ng. After careful examination this committee has recommended to me that there be printed on the ticket to be given offi-cial currency under the emblem of the oster, such names for city offices as may be selected; that there should also be printed the names selected by the Citizens nion for candidates in the county of New York; by the Democratic organiza-tions for the counties of Kings and Queens, and by the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson for the county of Richmond.

The judgment of this committee, unani nously expressed, commends itself and has my entire approval. I am the candiinto of whoever may choose to vote for me, and do not presume to ask him to vote for anyone else. But, since we have not the pure Australian ballot, it is nec-essary that I should take the most rea-sonable means of being presented fairly to the voters for their suffrages. I do this in the manner recommended to me by the ommittee, leaving to the individual the responsibility of selecting who he choose for himself. I have at the some time withdrawn my acceptance of the nomination of the United Democracy, the only organization supporting me that has made a eparate ticket.

I thus carry out in its spirit and meaning the pledge made at the People's mass meeting at Cooper Union on Oct. 5.

Mr George said today:
That I can defeat both Van Wyck and Tracy, I do not feel the slightest doubt. In my opinion the issue is solely between Mr. Low and myself. I think I shall beat him. My stand here for local election is based almost entirely on national issues, and I think much of my strength comes from that very attitude.

ESCAPE OF THE CUBAN GIRL

Miss Evangelina Cisneros Arrives on the Seneca.

MOST DARING FEAT ON RECORD

By the Aid of Liquid Refreshments the Detectives at the Wharf Are Lulled to Slumber .- The Escaped Prisoner Appears in Men's Clothes Until the Ship Leaves Port.

New York, Oct. 13.-Miss Evangelina lisneros' escape and safe arrival on he Seneca was one of the most daring feats ever attempted and successfully carried out. While she was still in prison her friends secured a passport for one Juan Sola, and a stateroom on the Seneca was held in the same name. This was three days before the boat sailed. On the Saturday when the Seneca was to leave Havana detectives watched her gangway with extra caution. All day long they remained at their post, examining the passports Their vigilance would probably have prevented the departure of Miss Ciseros from Cuba, had it not been for a little refreshment which was served on them by friends of Miss Cisneros, who were aboard the Seneca. The refreshment included wine. The chief of police of Havana came aboard while the refreshment part of the plot was in progress, and it is alleged that he, too, fell a victim of the wiles of the

Cisneros faction,
A few minutes before the Seneca was ready to pull out from her dock, a slim young fellow came running across the wharf. He had no baggage and was fashionably dressed. The detectives stopped him. "My name is Juan Sola," he said, and he showed his passport. Everything was satisfactory, and he was allowed to go aboard. It is said that if it had not been for the wine, the strange treble and rather curlous figure of Senor Sola might have excited the suspicions of the Spanish detectives; but the scheme worked successfully. CAPTAIN STEVENS ANGRY. Captain Stevens, commander of the Seneca, was angry when he discussed the Cisneros incident with the reporters. He said:

"Since the commencement of the insurrection it has been the custom the Spanish authorities to post a couple of detectives at the head of the gangway of ships lying at Havana. before the Seneca sailed, the chief of police, his deputy and his secretary came aboard. They made no search and asked no questions, although upon three former occasions they had searched the Seneca from stem to stern and keel to promenade deck, looking for suspects. Captain Stevens said that to the best went aboard at Havana were the Lastic family, the Del Real family, eight Chinamen and a man whose name appeared upon the advance passenger list as Juan Sola and who must have had a passport. When it was discovered that Juan Sola was a girl, the Juan was changed to Juana, and Miss Cisneros came in under that name. ### AN APPEAL TO THE LOYAL DEFENDERS

They Are Urged to Support the Beacom-McCauley Ticket—Circular from War Veterans Clubs.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The Pennsylvania Association of War Veterans' clubs has issued a circular to "The Loyal Defenders of Their Country" in this state, urging support of the Beacom-McCauley state ticket. It says, in part:

"It is the belief of this organization that the best interests of our state and nation are conserved by maintaining the supremacy of the Republican party. One year ago a com-rade of the war was elevated to the office of president of the United States. The votes and influence of the veterans materially aided in the election of President McKinley. That contest meant a great deal to the veterans of the country. Our comrades had been shamefully treated by the administration of Grover Cleveland. The policy of Hoke Smith has not been forgotten by the mained and wounded veterans of the late war. The contest is not yet ended; it has but begun. The policy of the present administration has been dignified, aggressive and patriotic. The business interests of the country are reviving under the industrial and financial policy of the new administration. Prosperity is once more smiling on a hopeful people.

While our business conditions have steadily improved, the welfare of the old veterans has been carefully guarded. Many of our comrades who were wrongfully dismissed from federal positions without cause by the administration of President Cleveland have been reinstated. The present commissioner of pensions is a loval comrade and in sympathy with the justice and equity of the claims of worthy soldiers, their widows and families. We can now have reasonable hope for a fair and just disposition of claims heretofore neglected.

The new administration is now on trial. The result of every state election this fall will be construed as either an endorsement or disapproval of its policy. This is peculiarly true of Pennsylvania. We have always stood in the front of the battle for Republican supremacy. We are on the threshold of an administration that promises much for the benefit of the material, business, commercial, industrial and soldier interests of our country. It is our duty to support it loyally and faith-

"The Republicans of Pennsylvania have nominated candidates for auditor general and state treasurer. They are men of unimpeachable character, strict integrity, and well fitted for the positions to which they aspire. 'Major McCauley is a one-armed soldier, who did his duty bravely on the battlefield and suffered in the terrible prison pens of the south. The Hon. James S. Beacom is a splendid representative of the young Republicans. He is a gentleman of scholarly attainments and honest purposes. He has succeeded in life by his own exertions and has the confidence and esteem of his neighbors and friends in a marked degree. "Our candidates being worthy, deserve the support of every citizen who values the history and traditions of the Republican party. Our grand old commonwealth, that responded so nobly to the patriotic call of President Lincoln, will not fail to endorse the loyal administration of President McKinley by giving a magnificent majority to the candidates of the Republican party at the approaching election on the second day of November next.
