CHLOROFORM WAS USED.
While Mr. and Mrs. Kittle Slept, Money Was Taken from Their Bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kittle, living at 59 Merrifield court, West Scranton, were chloroformed as they slept, Tuesday night, and upon awakening found that some one had taken $3 from the bed upon which they reposed. The police in their investigation yesterday found no evidence of forcible entry.
The only person other than Mr. and Mrs. Kittle in the house Tuesday night was their 15-year-old son. He, however, could not give any explanation of the unusual occurrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Kittle's sleeping apartments are on the second floor. They retired quite late. At about 2.30 o'clock Mr. Kittle awoke and detected an odor of chloroform in the room. He aroused his wife and, suspecting that something was amiss, set about to investigate. They ascertained that $3, which had been placed under a pillow before they retired, was missing and that $3 had been taken from between the mattress and springs of the same bed.
Mr. Kittle dressed and went to the Hyde Park police station and informed Lieutenant of Police Williams. An examination of the house was made, but no earmarks of a burglar were discovered aside from the absence of the money.

Detective John Meir, of the police department, was at work on the case yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Kittle said they supposed burglars had entered the house by means of the front door.
This door was barred on the inside by a heavy bolt. Burglars, it was thought, by shaking the door had worked the bolt from its place. Lieutenant Williams tried to accomplish this feat, but despite a heavy shaking the bolt would not move.

The only other supposition was that entry was gained through a small window in the coal cellar. Upon examining this window it was found that the dust on the sill had not been disturbed and no other marks of an entrance by this way were discovered.
The matter is a mystery to the police.

THE PARDON CAME TOO LATE.
Butler's Postmaster Was a Day Behind with His "Character."

Mrs. W. B. Dugan, agent for the Associated Charities, yesterday received a letter from Jesse Abram, who runs the postoffice at Butler, N. J. Mr.
Abram wanted to testify to the good character of George Luke, or "Ludlum," the boy who stole Albert Henne's bicycle some months ago. "He is a good boy," says the postmaster; "he could sing and dance like a regular star and when he sang and made a living by his talents some day." The "character" would have made a great hit with a jury but young Luke was sentenced to three months in the county jail by the court last Monday.

EIGHT WERE CAPTURED.
Part of the Gang of Tramp-Beggars
Now in Jail.

Eight tramps were arrested at noon yesterday near the Dickson Works by Patrolman Peuster, Neuls and Block.
They are supposed to be part of the gang which infested lower Lackawanna avenue Tuesday night.
The gang was not given a hearing yesterday. Razors, strops, brushes and other paraphernalia of a respectable tramp were found in the possession of the gang. It is not improbable that the mayor today will decide to form the men into a chain gang.

ARABIAN MEETS A HORRIBLE DEATH

His Legs Cut Off by a D. L. and W.
Passenger Train.

HELPLESSLY GRIPPED IN A SWITCH

He Was Held in a Vice-Like Clutch to Await Sure Death—Lived Three Hours and Died in the Lackawanna Hospital—Had Been Looking for Work and His Family Awaited His Home-Coming.

While walking along the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western railroad, Bloomsburg division, near the Scranton street crossing, Miceil Silva, an Arabian, got his foot fastened between a switch with the main track and passenger train No. 39, due in this city at 8 o'clock, coming along at that fatal instant, bore down upon the helpless man and crushed him under the wheels. With both legs ground from his body Silva was taken to the Lackawanna hospital where he died at 11.15 o'clock last night.

Silva was a visitor here. He came from Dutch Junction, N. Y., on Tuesday to visit his brother, Joe Silva, who lives in the Arabian settlement about Robinson street, within one hundred yards of the scene of the accident.
With Silva came his wife and young son.

HIS WIFE WAITED.
Yesterday he went out with the intention of securing employment and it was while returning to tell his brother and wife of his success or failure to get a job that Silva met death. No one was with Silva at the time.

He managed to say after the accident that he was walking on the south track and saw the headlight of the proaching train. Being unfamiliar with the run of the tracks, Silva stepped across to the north track, on which the train was moving. The glare of the electric light at the Scranton street crossing blinded Silva and when he discovered his mistake and saw the train right in front of him he became confused and in his leap from the track his foot caught in the switch and was wedged so firmly that he could not stir.

Throwing his arms across his face as if to hide the monster instrument of death the doomed man passed the last few seconds in prayerful silence. Engineer Spytals saw the man standing as if dumb-struck in the track, but the engine was on the full throttle and could not be stopped until the last car had crossed the body.

LIFTED FROM THE TRACK.
The train was finally stopped and the crew carried Silva to the baggage car. His legs were carried separately.
From the baggage car the injured man was taken to the station and afterward to the Lackawanna hospital. Despite every attention by Dr. A. J.
Connell, the staff physician, and Drs.
Newbury and Hank, Silva died from his injuries shortly after 11 o'clock.

Another Track-Walker Killed.
Joseph Baganzio, while walking the tracks of the Ontario and Western railroad company at Peckville, was run down and killed by a freight train yesterday morning by a train. Coroner Longstreet will investigate today.

COMPANIONS IN MISERY.
One Wants to Get Away from Jail;
The Other from a Wife.

Only two new cases of any importance were filed in Prothonotary Fryer's office yesterday. The remarkable to say, they have similar motives.
In one the party seeks release from jail; in the other from his wife.
The first party is Dbnato Gentile.
He was committed to the county jail by Alderman Wright at the instance of Michael Jordan, who charged him with having, on Sept. 12, aided and abetted one Joseph Lunno "to make an assault on Giovanni Gilbert and shoot him with intent to kill." Gentile says this is all wrong and through his attorneys, Taylor & Lewis, he seeks liberation by habeas corpus proceedings.
A writ was directed to issue, returnable next Saturday morning.
The second murderer against his vinculation is Julius Benke, of this city, whose wife, Henrietta John-Benke, he alleges, treated him cruelly and did other things which a good and faithful wife would not do. They have been married since 1872.

PAVEMENT TO BE REPLACED.
Barber Asphalt Company Expects to Begin the Work Next Week.

Next week City Engineer Phillips expects that the work of repaving the portions of the street recently owned by the Central Pennsylvania Telephone company for the purpose of laying its conduits will begin. The Barber Asphalt company is now engaged in as-phalting South Main street, Pittston, but has the work so well in hand that it expects to be able to transfer a number of its workmen to Scranton next week.

As soon as the paving for the telephone company is completed the Barber company will begin to repair the asphalt paves of the city in accordance with the terms of the contract recently executed.

AN INDEPENDENT CHAP.

Youngster Left His New York Home To Lessen His Widowed Mother's Family Expenses.

Thirteen years of age, but twice that many in experience, Roy Townsend told who he was, what he was, where he had been and his destination to an interested circle in the central police station last night. The lad was picked up at 10 o'clock by Patrolman Hawke at the Erie and Wyoming stations on North Washington avenue. He had just finished his supper at the restaurant across the street and was feeling comfortable, but very sleepy. He paid twenty-five cents for the meal.

When young Townsend was taken to the police station he was put through a severe question test. His home, he said, is in Ellenville, Ulster county, New York. Ellenville is one of the small towns on the Delaware and Hudson river and Wyoming station is near the Erie and Wyoming stations on
just finished his supper at the restaurant across the street and was feeling
twenty-five cents for the meal.

According to the youngster's story, he started from Ellenville last Tuesday. He rode on a boat to Hawley, from whence he stole transportation on the Erie and Wyoming freight train to Scranton, reaching here last night.
It didn't cost anything to ride on the canal boat because he knew all the men along the line.

Didn't he himself work on a boat for three years? Why not? "Why, most everything, was tiller and driver and anything you could name. The boy's blackened hands and face bore out his claim. He left the canal boat with just one silver dollar in his pocket.
After paying twenty-five cents for his meal at the restaurant last night he had as much left.

"What did you get for supper?" was asked. "Oh," answered the boy, as he gravelly crossed his legs. "I had a cup of coffee and some bread." "Didn't you have any meat?" "No, I don't like meat." He said he didn't smoke.
"Chew!" he exclaimed at that smoggation; "no, indeed; what would a kid like me 'chew' for?"

Work at Jermyn No. 1 Colliery to Be Resumed Monday.

The fire in Jermyn, No. 1 mine is now under control and work will be resumed at the colliery, probably, next

The fire started by the explosion of gas, it is supposed, on or about Sept.
21 and on Sept. 25 the frightful accident by which five men met death took place. Since the accident every part of the mine has been out and no expense spared to extinguish the burning coal.

HAVE NOT FOUND THE AMERMAN WILL

Possibility That No Written Bequest Has Ever Been Made.

CONSEQUENCES THAT WILL FOLLOW

Owing to the Fact That the Large Estate of the Deceased Was Almost Entirely in the Form of Personal Property an Immense Bond Would Be Required from the Administrator—Judge Archbald May Have a Nice Plum at His Disposal.

There is a possibility, and quite a strong one at that, strange as it may appear, that the late Hon. Lemuel Amerman died intestate.

As yet no will has been found and no one knows whether or not one exists. When, after the funeral, the matter of a will was broached, it was discovered that neither the family nor the business associates of the deceased had any knowledge of its whereabouts or even that such an instrument had ever been made.

Monday a search was begun and although it has been assiduously proceeded ever since, no will has been discovered, at least not up to late yesterday afternoon, when Charles F. Van Nort, father-in-law of the deceased, informed the register of wills of the possibility of letters of administration being applied for.

$100,000 LIFE INSURANCE.
Mr. Amerman carried $100,000 worth of life insurance and this alone, as it is personal property, would require a $200,000 bond from the administrator.
There is a possibility, however, that this bond would be lessened to a degree by direct bequests contained in the policies.

Another matter of great moment, which the absence of a will affects, is the ascertainment of the executorship of the Amerman estate, a position worth at least $5,000 a year for eighteen or twenty years. The Handley will directs that his executors may bequeath their offices to their heirs or others, and it further stipulates that in case any of them fail to do this, the president judge of the county shall name the executor. There is a stipulation in this item of the Handley will that when an executor shall appoint his successor he shall make acknowledgment of the same before a notary public or some other officer authorized to receive acknowledgments. As far as can be learned no notary or other such officer has as yet disclosed any proceeding of that nature having taken place before him.

If a will is not found the estate will according to law be divided among the widow and children.
