YOUNG WOMAN SEVERELY SCALDED

Hot Water from a Boiler Dashed Over Her.

Miss Amy Maud Davis, daughter of Robert Davis, of 69 Archibald street, was severely scalded yesterday morning while engaged in getting out the family washing. The young lady was about to lift the boiler from the stove when it suddenly slipped from her grasp and the hot water was dashed over her.

Her hands, arms and lower limbs were painfully scalded. Neighbors came in and applied cooling lotions and last evening the sufferer was much improved. No serious results are anticipated.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Olive Jopling and brother of Pittston, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid, of Jackson street. Frank Hagen, of Tenth street, is in New York city on business. Miss Anna Miles, of Kingston, is the guest of West Scranton friends. Miss Minnie Meder, of Sixth street, is ill. Mrs. L. H. Gaylord, of Windsor, N. Y., has returned from a visit with W. C. Vosburg, of Sixth street.

MINOR NEWS NOTES

The funeral of the late Anthony Rogan, of 523 Broadway, will take place this morning. A solemn high mass will be celebrated at the Holy Cross church at 9 o'clock and interment will be made at the Holy Cross cemetery. A concert for the benefit of John T. Davies, of Fourteenth street, a student at Factoryville, is being arranged by several friends who are interested in the young man's ambition to enter the ministry. A fine programme is being arranged. The concert will be given on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the First Welsh Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Huff, residing in the central city, were arrested by Patrolman Hart early yesterday morning and charged with being drunk and disorderly. In police court Alderman Johns fined Mr. Huff $3 and his wife $5. The man paid his fine and Mrs. Huff was committed to the county jail for 15 days in default of her fine.

This evening at the Jackson Street Baptist church a harvest concert will be given by the Sunday school, assisted by the choir and an orchestra. The church has been elaborately decorated, surpassing anything seen in our city. Vegetables and fruits of all kinds will be displayed in a most tasteful manner. The church has a most unique appearance, and the programme under the direction of Professor Lewis Davis will be a success. The church doors will be opened at quarter to eight.

The members of the St. Leo's Tourist club met last evening in the St. Leo's Battalion rooms, on North Main avenue, and completed arrangements for their entertainment and social, which will be given on Friday evening in St. David's hall.

William B. Davies, of Nanticoke, was cured with Aninal Extracts. Free book to those who write to ANIMAL CHEMICAL CO., Washington, D. C.

ON TO VICTORY

Every indication points to a rousing Republican victory for the entire ticket next Tuesday. The party's fighting blood is up at last and that portends a Waterloo for the enemy. But no individual Republican should relax his efforts. This is the chance of a life time to rivet and clinch Republican supremacy in once Democratic Lackawanna.

NORTH SCRANTON

John Davis, of Wayne avenue, is dangerously ill with typhoid pneumonia. Miss Annie Durkin, of Durkin street, who has been visiting relatives at Beech lake, Pa., for the past three months, has returned.

Henry Mead, of Parker street, left yesterday for a trip through New York state. Miss Mary Brennan, of New York city, is visiting friends here. Mrs. Henry Miller and sons, of Mary street, left yesterday for Iowa, where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Oscar Wannacott, of Carbondale, is the guest of Mrs. C. F. Crossman, of Throp street. The first night of the musical comedy "The Millionaire," at the Grand Opera house, was a success. The crowd was large and everybody had a good time. Germania hall never looked prettier with its garb of fancy decorations.

The Rev. Dr. Bird delivered a lecture to a good-sized audience last evening at the Christian church. The services over the remains of Eva, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis, were held yesterday at the family residence, 2017 Margaret avenue. The Rev. H. H. Harris, of the Calvary Baptist church, of Taylor, was the officiating clergyman, and during his brief remarks spoke words of consolation to the grief-stricken parents. Many friends from out of town attended the funeral. The floral offerings were beautiful. The funeral cortege, which was exceedingly large, proceeded to Washington street cemetery, where interment was made.

Thomas Judge, a young man employed as tracklayer in the Cayuga mine, had his leg badly fractured by a fall of rock yesterday morning. Judge, with a number of fellow-employees, was engaged in repairing the road when, without any warning, a large piece of rock became loosened and fell directly on Judge's leg. He was removed to his home on Cayuga street, where the broken member was set by physicians.

MARRIED AT WILKES-BARRE

Miss Bessie V. Butler, of Wilkes-Barre, was married to Attorney Robert J. Murray, of this city, in St. Mary's church, Wilkes-Barre, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Hoban, who also celebrated a nuptial mass. Rev. A. T. Broderick, of Wilkes-Barre, was deacon and Rev. J. M. Hussie, of Ashley, sub-deacon. Miss Anna O'Neill, the church organist, played the wedding marches, and during the mass Miss Sadie Kaiser sang "Give Thanks." Francis O'Neill sang the "O Salutaris."

The bride was attired in a gown of Venetian gray with white chiffon and pearl trimmings. She carried a prayer book, and was given away by her brother, Zebulon Butler. The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre, who wore a costume of blue broadcloth and carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by P. O'Malley, of this city. In the church during the tying of the nuptial knot and the mass were a large number of the friends of the young people from this city and Wilkes-Barre. After the church services a reception was held at the Butler residence on South River street, which was attended by only the immediate friends.

THEY ENTER A PROTEST

The property holders on certain parts of Mulberry street met last evening to protest against the assessment for paving Mulberry street. They who assembled last night claim the assessment is not equitable; that they are called upon to pay for paving a street which other property holders receive greater benefit and therefore this latter class should bear a greater part of the expense.

The street car tracks of the Scranton Railway company play the important part in the assessment which the property owners who met last night have properties which front on parts of Mulberry street that are double-tracked. They therefore claim that a smaller space of street is paved at these points than at other points of the single track, and they do not think it equitable that the assessment should be the same to them.

The "double-trackers," as this faction may be known in the agitation which is promised, point out also that the railway company has its own exclusive privileges between the rails and between the tracks.

At the meeting last night the matter was thoroughly discussed. Charles Schlager was chairman. Another meeting will be held in a short time to adopt a definite method of procedure.

CAUSED EARTH TO SETTLE

A cave-in of a portion of the Rock vein of the Von Storch mine at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon reached the surface on North Main avenue. The surface of the earth settled several feet in depth beneath the sidewalk on the west side of the street and along the roadway to near the street car tracks. The occurrence attracted to the spot hundreds of sightseers, most of them persons of that vicinity, who feared the cave might affect their properties.

Street Commissioner Dunning was quickly notified of the occurrence and at once put a number of teams at work hauling stones and dirt for filling the hole. This work was accomplished at 7 o'clock last evening.

The cave was in front of the residence of Thomas Green. The Green building was not disturbed yesterday, but for a year that structure and others in the vicinity have shown slight effects of the "squeezing" in the working, which extend beneath that locality. A large double house owned by Peter Ceren, and near the cave-in, has not been disturbed.

Late last night there were no evidences of further "squeezing."

D. & H. SUNDAY TRAINS

Three Trains Each Way, It is Said, Will Be Put on Soon.

There is again talk of Sunday trains on the Delaware and Hudson road. The company officials will only say that the matter has been discussed and will not admit that any definite understanding has been arrived at.

The rumor that is afloat has it that West Scranton is to be put on two of them making round trips from Carbondale to Wilkes-Barre and the third making the trip from Nineveh to Wilkes-Barre and return. This would save a service from this city of three trains each way.

The company has been averse to Sunday trains but it is said it has been moved to put them on through the demands of its patrons along the route and of the connecting roads at either terminal.

NOTABLE CONVENTION

Will Be That of the Young Women's Christian Association.

"It is rarely possible that one has the opportunity of hearing so many prominent speakers as will be present at the State convocation of the Young Women's Christian Association to be held in this city Nov. 11 to 14," says Miss Edith K. Price, the general secretary of the international committee, who has great magnetic power as a speaker and her field of work extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The convention will also be favored with the presence of Miss Annie Reynolds, the world's secretary, who is soon to sail for the purpose of again visiting the association across the sea.

"Efforts are being made by the state committee to render this convention one of unusual interest.

"It is hoped that the people of this city will contribute in every way possible to make the convention a notable one."

BOY ON A TRICYCLE

Collided with a Coal Wagon and was Injured.

Frank Gould, 4 years old, a son of A. R. Gould, of 408 Clay avenue, had a foot badly bruised in a collision with a coal wagon at the corner of Jefferson and Mulberry streets yesterday. He was riding on a tricycle down Mulberry street when the accident occurred.

The driver of the wagon disappeared without waiting to learn the result of the boy's injury. His name has been learned however, and he will be arrested today.

Had to Jump.

THE FATE OF A PROMINENT MARINE GROCERYMAN.

P. H. Monahan, one of Detroit's Oldest and Best Known Merchants Meets with a Serious Experience.

Prominent among the business men of Detroit, Mich., is Patrick H. Monahan, who resides at 109 Baker street.

He has been actively engaged in the grocery business for the past forty-seven years, of which forty-two years have been in Detroit. Coming here nearly half a century ago he started into business at the corner of Second and Jefferson avenues, and for years catered to the marine trade. From Duluth to Buffalo his name as an honorable, honest, and successful dealer in goods is well known.

No matter what time of day or night, the Monahan Marine Grocery was kept open for the convenience of the lake boats. He is the best known and oldest retail grocery dealer in Detroit. He has been successful in business by his square dealings, and is yet to be found behind the counter, as well as his large store, corner of Twelfth and Baker streets. To a reporter, he recently said: "When we first opened the Jefferson Avenue store we had to work day and night. The reason we were so busy was because we filled their orders at once. Every hour counts with them and we had a double shift of clerks. For a week I had to be hustling all my life. No man can succeed in business without hustling. Some people hustle too much, and I was one of them."

He presented a humorous picture of the deal with which soldiers threw away their overcoats, wooden blankets, rubber blankets, soap, underwear and other burdensome articles while marching toward the front, and made this a simile to the abandonment of the conceits of youth and vaunting ambition during mature age. As a soldier, he said, he has no pockets. But all the youthful experiences were the teachers of the man. One must have been in the water to know how to swim; to know life, one must have experienced it.

People wonder how he presents coldness and apparent lack of interest now shown by Civil War veterans in things of the present. It is forgotten that these men lived a lifetime in five brief years, from '61 to '65; that in this brief period they passed through the wildest, most frightful and fatal experiences the world has known. Is it strange that everything now seems flat and insipid to the soldier? that his life seems to have long ago been lived to the limit? that he neither laughs nor cries when others laugh or cry?

The closing part of Dr. Paxton's address related particularly to the early experiences of the recruit and the speaker's own sensations in the carnage at Chancellorsville.

GENERAL HANCOCK. He was within a few feet of General Hancock when that general's horse was shot from beneath him and described his great excitement and courage. At that time only three regiments, left to cover the retreat of Hooker's command, were at Chancellorsville House and Hancock's coolness as he quietly requested: "Gentlemen, follow me." Hancock, the latter fragment to the new position, communicated itself to the few soldiers left. They retired in good order. "The noblest of them all was Hancock," declared Dr. Paxton, in his reference to the Union general.

Dr. Paxton was introduced by Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan, an acquaintance of many years.

Oneida Combination Underwear

Ladies who have once worn combination underwear will never think of going back to the ill-fitting and uncomfortable two-garment system.

The reasons for this are obvious. The combination affords perfect comfort, without in any way marring symmetry of the figure, for there is not such a thing as a pleat or wrinkle from the neck to the ankle, while the elasticity and perfect shaping affords unlimited freedom of motion without the slightest interference. Perfection is not gained in a day, and the drawbacks that at first marked the introduction of combination underwear have now been completely overcome in the newly Patented Oneida Underwear for Ladies and Children.

We have other combinations in stock besides the "Oneida" goods, but nothing as good as "Oneidas," and there is no reason on earth why we should favor this make more than any other, were it not for the fact that it is better in every respect than anything else that we know of.

Oneida Combination Underwear

for Ladies and Children, is made from the finest imported wools, selected cotton, etc. It has many advantages that cannot be set forth in a newspaper advertisement, but which will readily be appreciated on sight.

We will make a special display of these celebrated goods for a few days and invite you to come and see it. It costs no more than other makes, and, as already stated, we know that it's better than the best of other makes.

Beginning Today, Oct. 23

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Frank Giles, after a lingering illness and extreme suffering, died yesterday morning at her home on South Second street, Jersey. Deceased had reached the age of 52 years. She was respected and loved by all her neighbors and those who know her, and they will miss her deeply. Deceased is survived by her husband and seven children, as follows: Frank, William, Edward, Mary Jean,
