ARCHBALD HAS A RECORD-BREAKER

Biggest Political Gathering the Town Has Ever Seen ... Tommy Daniels Was Given a Reception that Surprised Everybody, the Many Democrats Who Were Present Joining in the Cheering of His Name -- Mudtown and Simpson Also Have Rousing Meetings.

"The biggest political meeting Archbald ever had" is the way everyone referred to the gathering which last night greeted the Republican candldates and speakers at Linde's hall. Extra chairs were placed in the front of the hall and in the aigles and stand. ing up in the rear and along the walls were fully four hundred who could not be provided with seats. The attendance was far more than any one anticipated and what was still more surprising in the face of the fact that Archbald is the home of one of the Democratic candidates, a big percentage of those present were men who are generally identified with the Democratic party.

Even Democratic office-holders and ex-officials of that faithwere not wanted ing in the throng and their joining in the applauding of Republican speeches betokened that they were not there simply as curious spectators. The reception given Tommy Daniels was another pleasant surprise, and if signs are not amiss his opponent is counting too much on his Archbald neighcanvass.

The meeting was presided over by cehbald's popular young citizen. Attoracy C. A. Battenberg, and he made a model chairman, his prefatory speech and introductions being very timely and well put. The speakers were Hon. John R. Farr, District Attorney John R. Jones, John M. Harris and Fred, W. Fleitz, Hon. J. J. Snyder, of Lehigh, who was expected to be present, telegraphed that he could not make connections, but would be on hand tomorrow.

FARR SPOKE FIRST.

Mr. Farr was the first speaker and for nearly an hour held the closest attention of his auditors, evoking at frequent intervals ringing applause as he told in his convincing, argumentative style of the proud history of the party that saved the nation, then made it the grandest country on the face of the globe, and is now engaged in removing from its path of progress the obstacles placed there by a blundering Democracy, which a wise people in a moment of thoughtlessnes permitted itself to experiment with. His sketch of the Republican party in the state of Pennsylvania and his enumeration of the deeds it has done in placing the grand old Keystone commonwealth at the head of the sisterhood of states were among the best received things of the evening. In closing, Mr. Farr referred to the local ticket, and addressing himself to Republicans and the new and welcome allies of the party of protection and Cooke, James Bell, Anson Van Camsound money, said: "Individually they are worthy of your support; the prin- James A. CAR TRACKS WERE UNDERMINED

And it Was Necessary Last Night to Transfer, Passengers for Several Hours at Wood Street--Break Caused in the Water Main -- Foundations of Several Houses Were Disturbed -- Gaping Hole 60 by 30 Feet.

During yesterday there was more caving on North Main avenue, near Wood street. Early last evening the filling performed by the street department on Tuesday had settled and there appeared a huge hole sixty feet long by thirty wide and ten deep. Street car traffic was impeded for several hours, it being necessary to transfer passengers around the scone of the trouble, The wall in front of Thomas Green's house on North Main avenue was disurbed, as were the foundations of Green's house and those of Peter Sereni, John Tafe and John Zurfluh, The cave, which on Tuesday extended to within two yards of the street car track, undermined the track at 7 o'clock last evening and prevented the passage of cars.

A large force of laborers was hurried to the spot and after four hours of filling and propping, succeeded in making the track secure and at 11.15 o'clock the cars began running. Meanwhile, passengers were transferred afoot for a half block at that point.

The settling of the earth from beneath the water main of the Providence Gas and Water company caused a break in one of the joints. There vas a blg flow of water until a gate above the break was closed. Late last night the "squeezing" had almost ceased. There was an occasional evidence of disturbance below the surface and it is not improbable that further trouble will be experienced in that vicinity today. squeezing" is in the abandoned Rock support." This clever presentation of speech related something told him the whole issue in a nutshell was received with evidences of the warmest appreciation

John R. Jones was born in Archbald. If anybody thought that his native heath was not proud of him that body should have been anywhere within a quarter of a mile of Linde's hall last night when the popular son of the upper valley made his appearance on the platform. It was simply another link in the chain of wildly enthusiastic ovations that he has been meeting with since he went out on the stump. Not satisfied with showing him by applause of the most emphatic kind that the mudslinging of his opponents is having the opposite to its intended effect, many of the andience, as has been the experience at all the meetings, gives more direct and unmistakable evidence of its sentiments in this regard by shouting out such exclamations as: "Leave it to us, John;" "They can't beat you," and the like,

Mr. Jones' manly refutation of the base libels that his political enemies have sigzed upon as the only possible means of defeating him was hardly ecessary in that meeting, judging from the demonstrations of confidence in Mr. Jones and disgust at the despicable methods of his enemies.

ATTORNEY HARRIS' ADDRESS. Attorney John M. Harris made his first appearance as a speaker in the present campaign and as is his wont he said some things and said them well. "If there is a man with a grievance against any particular candidate or some leader or some particular action of your party you should not throw away your party convictions to satisfy that grievance. Men have come to me and have said: 'John, get out of the ranks; they have not treated you right.' They meant well, but they simply don't understand. A man who will sacrifice his party convictions to vent some individual spite, falls short of being wise. He hurts his party but little; he injures himself, if only in his own self-regard, much. The man who is a partisan from selfish motives is a poor kind of a party man."

In speaking in a general way Mr. Harris made a trite comparison of the Republican and Democratic parties, by calling attention to the fact that only two important measures, idvanced by Democracy, have ever been made a part of our national policy-the lessening of the period of residence for naturalization from fourteen to five years and the establishment of sub-treasurles. The record of the Republican petty ward office. Voters might cust party, on the other hand, is a text book of American history.

Mr. Fi-itz made the closing speech summing up the local situation and presenting each of the various candidates in a brief personal skutch. The cheering that followed the mention of Tommy Daniels' name was second only to that which the audience gave when Mr. Jones' name was presented.

Mr. Fleitz told a good story illustra-tive of the local Democracy in this campaign as regards their action in the matter of platform. It was about the farmer who when he saw his bull tackling a railroad train shouted "You're all right, Nero, I admire your courage but your judgment isn't worth B. CUSS.
