OCTOBER WEDDINGS.

Krantz-Sweeney.
At St. Rose church, yesterday morning, Miss Ellen Sweeney and John Krantz, both of South Church street, were married by Rev. J. Coffey. The nuptial mass was celebrated at half-past eight o'clock. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sarah Sweeney, and the groom by his brother, Charles Krantz. The bride wore a gown of cream brocade, with rich chiffon and ribbon trimmings. The bridesmaid was dressed in organdy, over silk, with lace trimmings. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krantz, of South Church street, and a beautiful dinner was served to the guests, who were relatives and immediate friends. In the evening a reception was given to the German Singing society, of which the groom is a popular member. The young people will begin housekeeping on South Church street and received many congratulations. Among the guests from out of town were Joseph Krantz and Andrew Hoffman, of Honesdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Krantz, of Forest City.

Clarke-Pope.
Yesterday afternoon, at half-past three o'clock, the marriage of Miss Margaret Pope, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Pope, of Canaan street, and James P. Clarke, of Canaan street, was solemnized at St. Rose church. The bride's maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, of Pittston; John Dalton, of Canaan street, was the groom's best man. The bride and groom each wore a gown of white silk, with pearl and lace trimmings. A reception was held in the evening, which was largely attended. Some very valuable gifts were received from friends. The young people, who are well known and popular in the city, will reside on Canaan street with Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Clune, of Canaan street. Among the out-of-town friends at the wedding were Misses Mary G. Clarke and Nellie Morrissey, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Anthony Dougherty, of Pittston.

LAI D AT REST.

A large number of friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Frank Shaffer at the home of her father, J. W. Smith, at Fairview, on Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. George A. Place, of the Methodist church. A quartet, composed of Mrs. Abbey, Miss Grace Hathaway, Bert Dix and W. R. Moon, sang several selections. The pall-bearers were members of the Waynesville club, P. O. S. of A. A large number of friends were present from out of town.

ITALIAN CITIZENS CLUB.

Another club of Italian citizens has been organized in this city, called the "Italian Citizens' Free Club." The society is a free and independent organization and has twenty members. The following officers were elected: President, Santa Susa; secretary, Salvatore Beracchio; trustee, John Gardella.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NOTES.

Rev. H. B. Garner and his wife spent a few hours with Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Joslin yesterday. Mr. Garner was pastor of the Honesdale Baptist church thirty years ago. He now resides in Downingtown, Chester county.

A bicycle race between Thomas K. Lee and B. R. Wickwire has been arranged in connection with foot ball games at Alumni park on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. C. B. Hackley, of New York, who was formerly a resident of this city, visited friends on Tuesday. She is the founder and supporter of the Daisy Memorial kindergarten at Arch-bald.

Clifford Chapman has obtained a two months' leave of absence from the Delaware and Hudson locomotive shops and is making a visit in cities in the west.

Mrs. Richard Mallon, who has been

When a baby smiles in its sleep it is the mother's fond belief that the child is growing. No woman attains the supreme joy of womanhood until she knows the caressing touch of a first-born's hair. No woman knows the supreme sorrow of womanhood until she sees her baby in the cold embrace of death. Thousands of women daily achieve womanhood's supreme joy, only to meet, a few days or weeks or months later, its supreme sorrow. This is because many babies are born into the world with the seeds of death already sown in their little bodies. If a woman would have healthy, robust children, strong and able to withstand the usual little illnesses of childhood, she must "look before she leaps."

If a woman will take the proper care of her health in a womanly way, during the period of prospective maternity, she may protect herself against much pain and suffering and possible death, and insure the health of her child. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest of all medicines for prospective mothers. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It allays inflammation, breaks ulceration, soothes pain and tones the tortured nerves. It banishes the usual discomforts of the expectant period and almost painlessly. It insures an ample supply of nourishment. It is the greatest known nerve tonic and invigorator for women. All good doctors say "No" and stick to it when urged to accept a substitute said to be just as good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"I had miscarried twice and was so weak I could not stand on my feet," writes Mrs. Minnie Smith, P. M., of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and now has a healthy baby and am stronger than ever before.

The quick constipation-cure—Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—Never gripe. Accept no substitutes or imitations.

A visitor in this city for some time, will soon leave for Florida.

FACTS ABOUT EGGS.

Their Value As Food and How to Prepare Them in Various Ways.
Four boiling water over frozen eggs and let them remain until the water is cold. They will then be nearly as well as fresh eggs. Keep them frozen hard until ready for use.

To determine the age of eggs, dissolve a quarter of a pound of salt in a quart of cold water and drop in the eggs one at a time. If a day old an egg will settle to the bottom in three days it will float; if more than five days old it will rise above the water in proportion to its age.

To ascertain the quality of eggs make a come of stiff white paper, place the egg to be tested, one at a time, in the large end and look through the small end toward the sun. If the contents look clear, the egg is good, though the shell may be discolored; if spots are seen it is not good.

Do not wash eggs designed for hatching. Pack them carefully as gathered in dry sand; when ready for incubation, drop the eggs in tepid water and reject those that will not settle to the bottom. Chicks will develop in ten days two days earlier than in those covered with water.

Water forms about 70 per cent of a fresh egg. This begins almost immediately to evaporate through the pores of the shell, and the air entering induces bacteria, which causes the contents to deteriorate and in time to decompose. Place new laid eggs in a wire basket and immerse the basket for five seconds in boiling water. A very thin coating of coagulated albumen is thus formed next to the shell; the pores can then be closed by rubbing the shell with a cloth dipped in linseed oil.

Eggs boiled 20 minutes are more readily digested than if boiled five. They are dry and mealy and more easily acted upon by the gastric juice.

The whites of eggs will cook more rapidly if cold. A pinch of salt added helps to cook them in warm weather.

Eggs laid in March or April, if rubbed with vasoline, into which has been basted a little salicylic acid, and packed in salt, will keep several months without perceptible deterioration.

A raw egg swallowed immediately is very effective in removing a fish bone which has been lodged in the throat. The white of an egg is an excellent application for the treatment of a blister mixed with the white of an egg a blister will seldom follow the application of the plaster.

Hoarseness and tickling in the throat are relieved with a gargle of the white of an egg beaten with a fourth of a tumbler of warm sweetened water.

If the yolks of eggs are well beaten and a little flour sifted over the top, they will keep for a day or two, but leave the whites unbeaten if not used at once.

An egg in a bottle is a great curiosity. Soak an egg in very strong vinegar until the shell softens, when it can be gently forced, lengthwise into a wide-mouthed bottle. Pour very cold water over it repeatedly, and it will resume its natural shape.

To restore the color to black kid gloves, apply with a soft sponge the white of an egg beaten with a small quantity of good black ink.

An old but very effective remedy for a toothache is to place two or three whole eggs in very strong vinegar (boiled down to increase the strength, if necessary). In three or four days the acid will have consumed the shells. Beat the mixture well and thicken with honey. Take two table-spoonsful before each meal.

When eggs are plentiful and cheap save all the shells; when they have accumulated, crush them very fine and dry them. Beat half a dozen eggs and stir the shells into the mixture, then spread and dry them. Put into a thin muslin bag and hang near the fire to keep the contents dry. When eggs are high or scarce a tablespoonful of this mixture, soaked in cold water several hours, will settle coffee as well as a whole egg.

The yolk of an egg is a very good substitute for cream in coffee, and will answer for three cups.

A raw egg beaten with a little pulverized sugar, half the quantity of cream or milk is excellent for convalescents or elderly people. Very sick people can sometimes eat the yolk of a hard-boiled egg when the white cannot be eaten with safety.

The skin of a boiled egg, moistened and applied to a sore, will soothe, suppurate and relieve soreness in a few hours. It is also an excellent application for a sty or inflamed eyelids.

A plaster composed of the yolk of an egg and salt will relieve pleurisy, kidney and neuralgic pains.—Albany Cultivator.

A POLITICAL POINTER.

If you endorse the free-trade and free-silver Chicago platform as the Lackawanna Democracy does, "fully and without reserve," then work and vote for Schadt, Horn, et al. If you believe in McKinley, protection and prosperity, turn these agents of Bryan down.

More Than Probable.

From the Chicago Record.

IS CALIXTO GARCIA SIMPLE AT FIRST.

It is Foolish to Neglect Any Form of Piles Cure Them at the Beginning.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages, without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it--Hyrman's Pile Cure.

It allays the inflammation immediately, heals the irritated surface and with continued treatment reduces the swelling and puts the membranes into good, sound healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Here are some voluntary and unsolicited testimonials we have lately received.

Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "I have been a sufferer from piles for fifteen years, the Hyrman Pile Cure and Hyrman Pills gave me immediate relief and in short time a complete cure."

Major Dean of Columbus, Ohio, says: "I feel it due to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from the Hyrman Pile Cure, I suffered from piles for forty years and from itching piles for twenty years and two boxes of the Hyrman Pile Cure have effected a complete cure."

Most druggists sell Hyrman Pile Cure or will get it for you if you ask them to. It is one dollar per package and is put up only by the Hyrman Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

as "the savior of Cuba," the "liberator of the Orient,"

Even Garcia's enemies respect and admire him. When near the city of Holguin the commander of the Spanish forces sent the following message to Garcia:

"I have today given permission to more than 100 families to remove their personal effects and belongings to some place in the country where food may be obtained. I am told that you have plenty, and it is impossible for me to longer provide for them in Holguin. Some of them may be of a political sentiment unfavorable to your cause, but I trust that you will treat all with justice and toleration." This man, it is needless to say, was not a protege of Weyler.

While preparing for an expected battle, Gen. Garcia impresses one as being perhaps over-anxious, if not nervous, but the moment the first shot is fired and the engagement is really on he seems to undergo a complete change of temperament. The thicker the bullets whistle by the more satisfied is his smile, and his coolness under fire would almost suggest that he thought death a huge joke.

An illustration of this eccentricity was afforded one morning in July last. The general admonished me for taking a short cut across country to witness one of Rabi's famous machete charges. "Your horse," he said, "got tangled up in the thorns of a pine fence. You carried no machete, and had not your gun come along and cut you free you might have been killed or captured. I don't want to bury you in Cuba, so you will please me this morning if you will keep close to me, or at least where I can keep an eye on you."

COOLNESS UNDER FIRE.
Ten minutes later we ran unexpectedly into a small convoy on its way from Gibara to Holguin. We had turned on the railroad. It was a convoy on both sides. They did not know our strength, or we theirs. The fight was short, sharp and hot as long as it lasted. Most of the struggle took place in the road between our advance guard and the convoy's rear. The latter took a body of cavalry in a north to the right and Brigadier Menocal mother to the left. But in the meantime a detachment of fifty Spaniards had gained the crest of a little hill and were pouring a very hot fire from their Mausers into the general's staff, which had halted in the highway. Gen. Garcia's dress and commanding appearance on horseback had attracted the enemy's attention, and they were making a target of him. I was just in the act of cutting into a beautiful July pineapple, the first of the season, when along came an accommodating Mauser ball and sliced off a piece of the rind. The general saw it and smilingly called out: "Turn the other side of the fruit toward the enemy and they will feel it for you." I ate the fruit, but not until we got into a more sheltered spot.

HOW HE GOT HIS WOUND.
While reconnoitering with a detachment of twenty men, in the fall of '75, Gen. Garcia found himself suddenly cut off from the main body of his troops.

Two hundred Spanish guerrillas, led by a Cuban traitor, had completely surrounded the little force of insurgents. Volley after volley was poured into them until Garcia alone remained on his feet. He discovered that the enemy were bent on capturing him.

This meant capture, disgrace and an ignominious death. Garcia's eyes fell into their hands Garcia placed the muzzle of his heavy revolver beneath his chin and fired his cartridge, intending to blow himself into eternity. His head was thrown a little too far back.

Gen. Garcia is probably the best organizer and tactician on the island. He has not only the brains, but the nerves to accomplish a feat in modern military tactics, or at least in that portion of them which might be of service in Cuban warfare.
