There was a little man To the polling he ran With a vote in his vest pocket fast; He was sure he couldn't make Such a thing as a mistake; But he tried to scratch the ticket, And doing this so quick it Was the wrong side. He voted for At last.

We talk about the horrors of Armenia, and the woes of the poor Cubans and weep over the sorrow of the child-wives of India. We even shed tears for the memory of Henry George, who after all is fortunate in that he died in the zenith of his fame before the least of his followers could grow weary of him or the world had time to smite at his theories, but close to our home and our hearts, it seems, is a story as touching as could be conceived by the trained thought of the greatest writers of our time and perhaps because it is so near and alas so common in this region, we pass it by with but brief care; yet what could be more filled with heartbreak than the tragedy of the Von Storch mine just enacted in this community? There are those whose eyes grew dim with tears while reading in "Sir George Trevelyan," Mrs. Humphrey Ward's recent and great book, "Marcella," the scene when the hero, dying in a mine, writes a painful last letter to his faithful little wife with whom his life was just beginning to run smoothly. The story of Fire Boss Hill's last farewell to his loved ones needs not the touch of a famous novelist's pen to make it one of the most pathetic tales of the age.

The navy department wants a leader for its Marine band. What's the matter with our Bander? But then what should we do without him? They must have a very capable man, however, as successor to John Philip Sousa and Panfili.

REPUBLICANS WILL WIN TODAY'S BATTLE

Pluralities Ranging from 1,500 to 4,000 for the Candidates.

VIEWES OF THE COUNTY CHAIRMEN

John H. Thomas, Who Is at the Head of the Republican County Committee, Is Confident of the Election of the Entire Ticket—Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, of the Democratic Committee, Makes a Similar Claim, Receiving Election Returns.

The Republican campaign of 1897 is all over now save the voting. Inasmuch as it is the voting which counts, Republicans are urged to poll their ballots early and see that the entire party vote is brought out. The advantage in voting early is that it leaves the voter free to give time to the getting out of the vote which has to be gotten for, rain or shine, every Republican in Lackawanna should do his duty. It is the one way to make party principles effective.

The Tribune predicts the election of the entire Republican ticket, by pluralities ranging from 1,500 to 4,000. If the complete party strength gets to the polls these figures will be exceeded. The larger the pluralities, the less chance there will be hereafter for the Democrats to make a winning fight in Lackawanna. Consequently every Republican vote polled today will tell not simply for present but also for future success. Turn out, then, and make the victory a wholesale surprise party for the local agents of Bryanism and the vicious Chicago platform.

Republican and Democratic headquarters were scenes of great activity yesterday afternoon and last evening. The rain made it disagreeable for the party workers to get about, but they kept on the move, nevertheless, completing the final arrangements for today's voting, which promises to be heavy.

John H. Thomas, chairman of the Republican county committee, was in the best of spirits when seen by a Tribune reporter at Republican headquarters last evening.

"It is certain that the entire Republican ticket will be elected," he said, when questioned by the reporter. "The campaign of abuse the Democrats have conducted up to this point, in fact, it has weakened them, for the voters of the county will tomorrow distinctly disapprove of such campaign methods. Our committee members who are closely in touch with the voters all over the county have furnished us with conservative, authoritative information and from my knowledge of the feeling of the voters I predict the election of the entire Republican ticket by pluralities that will leave no doubt about the political complexion of Lackawanna county."

PURELY A ROMANCE.

"The eleventh-hour story of the effect that the county committee has abandoned the fight for some of the candidates is a romance pure and simple. One united fight for all the candidates has been made from the beginning and so it will be to the end. The Republican candidates are standing shoulder to shoulder. The fight of one is the fight of all."

"Great interest has been shown by the Republican voters in this fight. The meetings throughout the county have been wonderfully enthusiastic and well attended, and another evidence of interest in the candidates is shown in the number of volunteers who are actively working for the success of the ticket."

"I would urge upon every Republican the necessity of going to the polls tomorrow and casting his vote for his party's candidates. We want to make this victory as decisive as possible and if every Republican does his duty Lackawanna will give a splendid endorsement to the Republican principles that are bringing back to the people of the county the comforts and plenty that Democratic policy and blunders had almost banished from the land."

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, chairman of the Democratic county committee, was found at headquarters giving final instructions to party workers.

"We expect to elect the entire ticket," he said.

"When pluralities will your candidates have," was asked.

"I have no figures to give you," replied the colonel, with a smile that was very expressive, "but we are going to win."

"On what do you base that statement?" queried the reporter.

"Principally on the unity and enthusiasm that exist among the Democrats of the county. Last year's vote is no criterion by which to judge what tomorrow's vote will be. The national issues caused a big change in the vote one year ago, and aside from that we had not enough of funds to place workers as one-sided the polling places of the county. This year a united party is fighting for success. The candidacy of the Independent Republicans will be of benefit to us and the popularity of Freeman Leach, the Prohibition candidate for sheriff, will also be to our advantage. The disaffection in the Republican ranks will cost that party many votes and leads me to the conclusion that our entire ticket will be elected."

PROHIBITION OUTLOOK.

The Prohibition campaign managers say they will nearly double the vote of 800 they received in the county last year. They believe that Freeman Leach, their candidate for sheriff, will poll 1,400 votes and that Dr. Swallow will exceed that.

The men in charge of the campaign of Okell, Westfah, and Atherton refused to say how many votes these men will poll. They profess confidence in the election of the independents.

RECEIVING THE RETURNS.

Arrangements Made by the County Committees and Organizations.

The Republican county committee has arranged to receive returns at headquarters in the Erie building on Washington avenue. From all parts of the county returns will be received there as well as bulletins concerning the vote throughout the state and in New York city. In Music hall the Democratic candidates will receive returns. At both of these places the public generally will be admitted.

The Bowling Association will receive returns in its rooms on Spruce street. Members have the privilege of taking their friends with them. At the Bicycle Club house a "smoker" will be conducted for members at which the returns will be read. The members of the Excelsior Social club will hear the returns in their cozy apartments on Wyoming avenue.

RALLY OF THE C. E.

That Is One Object of Next Week's Trolley Day.

The promoters of the plan of the Christian Endeavor union to lease the trolley lines of the Scranton Railway company for one day, wish it understood that the object is not solely for money-making. It is as much created, they say, for the purpose of bringing about a rally of the Christian Endeavor members.

A big meeting will be held on the trolley right, Thursday, Nov. 11, which will be addressed by at least one noted speaker from abroad. The identity of the speaker has not been made known; the committee is now in correspondence with several men well known to Christian Endeavors. Neither has it yet been determined where the rally meeting will be held.

LAST WORD TO VOTERS.

That the entire Republican county ticket will be elected today is conceded privately by well-informed Democrats; but they hope the pluralities will be small, so they can claim a moral victory for Bryanism and free silver.

It rests with Republicans to cancel this hope and elicit for years to come, Republican supremacy in Lackawanna county by getting out the complete party vote. Rout out the stay-at-homes line up the wavering. Let's make this victory a stunner!

MESSAGES UNDERGROUND.

Cables in Conduits Recently Laid by Central Pennsylvania Telephone Co. Connected with Exchange.

The new conduit system recently put in place in the central city by the Central Pennsylvania Telephone company was put into operation yesterday for the first time in this city or, for that matter, in this end of the state.

Many of the messages from central city telephones today will speed along underground to the exchange and then around about some busy thoroughfare under your very feet and, if this hint were not given, nobody would be any the wiser.

The work of disconnecting the overhead wires and connecting the underground cables was begun yesterday and by night fall two cables, effecting 150 'phones were in operation. The work was done by a number of expert wiremen from the telephone company's headquarters at Williamsport.

After the wires were joined test calls were sent to each telephone station under the direction of John Bailey, manager of the local exchange. The success of the work was complete not a single break being detected.

The two cables put in use yesterday have the new transmission to 'phones (first along Washington avenue, to Spruce, to Wyoming; and (second) along Adams' avenue to Linden to Washington. In each case there are 120 pairs of wires in a 3-inch pipe and each wire is insulated.

Manager Bailey last night expressed his pleasure at the success of yesterday's test. He was confident that few if any of the central city telephons subscribers would be aware of the change. The numbers, calls, etc., would remain according to the latest directory issued.

The new toll system referred to at length in previous reports has already been adopted by 75 subscribers.
