Interesting Views of Rev. James Hughes, D. D., Late of South Africa, Concerning the Contest.

Rev. James Hughes, D. D., late of South Africa, was an interested observer of yesterday's election, and in speaking about it to a Tribune reporter last night he gave the following interesting views concerning it: "I was very anxious to rally forth this morning from my quiet habitation into or near the arena of what I had been informed was likely to prove the scene of a determined, if not a sanguinary contest, for political positions, much coveted by many public spirited men. From the highly colored pictures said to be descriptive of elections in America, whether municipal or state, which had been presented to me, both in this country and in distant lands, produced in my mind the impression that it was likely to witness a veritable pandemonium, where language would be blue with sulphur, and actions both sylvan and satanic. Whether any stranger could venture to appear in the public streets without being armed as some English men are armed when they go out among the Kafirs and wild beasts in Africa with bow-knives, pistols and revolvers, was a question seriously debated by some who 'press to know.' "Having seen a little of public life in more than one zone of this rolling globe, and having participated to a limited extent in the exhilarations of an election, both imperial and local, which have often proved to many aspirants for political fame even more exciting than the chase, I was desirous to see for myself, especially as I have elected to live under the Stars and Stripes, I was desirous to see for myself how elections were conducted. Hence with some degree of diffidence and much curiosity I went forth from my quiet retreat into the open thoroughfares and principal commercial arteries of the city of Scranton, but to my agreeable surprise I soon discovered that the people of America, if we may take a Scranton election as a sample, are and have been grossly misrepresented, and cruelly libeled. I moved about from polling station to polling station, and I must say that I was delighted with the quietude that prevailed even at the places where party hate and personal animosity are generally fanned and are most emphasized. I saw a little drunkenness, I heard very little rude language, and I saw nothing of roudism. "Of course I saw nothing of what was going on behind the scenes, but judging of things as they presented themselves to a person moving about the town, and going from street to street, and from alley to alley, I must say that I was most highly pleased with the conduct of the people generally at the exciting time of a hotly contested election. "Perhaps persons hailing from countries which it has been my pleasure to visit might possibly consider the election on Tuesday a trifle tame. "In England, Scotland, Wales and South Africa, etc., a very liberal use of cabs and other vehicles is made, even at municipal elections, and those vehicles are well covered with placards, on which bills in bold type you would find the words vote for so and so, the name of the candidate given together with his special qualifications for the support of the constituency. Not only so, but the polling stations in those countries are always well adorned with large posters in different colors. The two great political parties in Great Britain are called 'Liberals' and 'Conservatives,' and they usually have placards or bills of different color, the one red and the other blue, and at some of the elections the whole scene is very picturesque. "Noisy crowds patrol the streets, some times singing election ditties, and at other times calling for cheers for their favorite candidates. Those who drive in opposition cabs, etc., frequently enliven the scene with party reports and election squibs. Persons who are accustomed to that sort of thing might possibly consider the election on Tuesday a little tame, but as far as I could judge of the conduct of the rank and file of the community was concerned it will bear inspection and was very creditable to them."

FUNERAL OF WM. L. WHESTONE.

Attended by Sons of Veterans and the P. O. S. of A. The funeral of the late William L. Whetstone was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phineas G. Whetstone, 425 Fourteenth street. A large number of friends and relatives were present and the Sons of Veterans, Camp No. 8, and Camp No. 178, Patriotic Order Sons of America, were very well represented. The deceased being a member of both orders. The floral tributes were profuse and exquisite in design. Rev. A. L. Hamer, Ph. D., pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church, conducted the services and preached a touching sermon. He made frequent references to the many sterling qualities possessed by the deceased in life, and yet no one should question the insurmountable wisdom of Him who had out of this young man in his early manhood. The church choir sang several selections. At the close of the services the remains were viewed. They were then borne to the Dunmore cemetery, where they were laid to rest. The burial service was conducted according to the ritual of the two orders to which the deceased had belonged. The pall-bearers were Evan Jones, Alfred Bevan and J. P. Koch, of the Patriotic Order Sons of America; John Steinlecks, Sebastian Pfeiffer and S. C. Hutchinson, of the Sons of Veterans. The flower bearers were Thomas Davis and John Hume, of the Sons of Veterans; C. E. Seeley and J. J. Green, of the Patriotic Order Sons of America.

CLOSE OF DEVOTIONS.

The services which marked the close of the period of forty hours' devotion began last Sunday morning at St. John's German Catholic, were conducted last evening. The services began at 7 o'clock and consisted of singing and ritual. At 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Father Joseph, of the Order of Capuchin Fathers of New York city, preached an eloquent and instructive sermon. After the sermon the priests clothed in their vestments, the acolytes, Sabbath school children and members of the Sodality moved in solemn procession down the church aisles. The period of devotion was then brought to a close by the administration of the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.

NORTH SCRANTON.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Neat, of Wells street, a daughter, Edward Burton, of Ashley, Pa., is the guest of Miss Estelle Robinson, of Dean street. William Richards, of Spring street, is slightly indisposed. A horse belonging to Dr. Sureth gained its liberty from D. D. Jones & Sons' barn yesterday afternoon and when reaching the square Walter Mabey, a young lad, essayed to capture it and in the attempt he in some way got tangled up in the harness which was on the horse, and was powerless to protect himself. Officer Palmer, who was doing duty on the square at the time and realized at once the perilous predicament of the boy, with rare presence of mind he strode the horse in his flight and probably saved young Mabey's life. The boy escaped, little the worse of his experience. The remains of Michael Murtaugh will be interred this morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Holy Rosary church. The St. Leo's, of the West Side, and the North Scranton team will play basketball tomorrow evening in Company H armory. The Rev. E. F. Richards, of Chicago, delivered a lecture last evening at the Christian church. A large throng was present. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, Marquette council, No. 423, Young Men's Christian Association, will hold its second annual social in St. Mary's hall.

GREEN RIDGE.

R. W. Kellow is seriously ill at his home on Monsey avenue. The regular monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church was held last evening in the church parlor, after which a social was conducted. The new No. 28 school on Wyoming avenue has been completed and is now being occupied. Mrs. O. W. Freeman has returned to her home on Monsey avenue, after visiting relatives in Delaware, Colorado and a series of meetings will be conducted in the Asbury church, beginning tonight. J. L. Race, of the South Side, will have charge of them. John Coons, of Deacon street, is seriously ill with typhoid fever. Frank Cox, of Dover, N. J., is visiting friends on Capouse avenue. A large number were present last evening at the meeting of the Willing Workers, held at the home of Miss Edith Warman, on Penn avenue. A programme was carried out and a social time was had. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reed, of Green Ridge street, were given a pleasant surprise party on Monday evening. Those present were Misses Ella Stuart, Margaret Lewis, Lizzie Snydam, Mr. and Mrs. Keisling, Mr. Smith, Rev. W. J. Ford, Edward Finn, Miss Nye and Miss Edith Davis.

OBITUARY.

The sudden and entirely unlooked for demise of William Lever, of 1122 Lafayette street, occurred yesterday morning at his residence. His death was due to typhoid fever. He was 79 years of age. Mr. Lever was in good health and arose as usual at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. He attended to a few small household duties and then went to bed. His son-in-law, Mr. Snow, who had just called when a dizziness seized him. Mr. Snow called his daughter, Miss Margaret Lever, and then hurriedly summoned Dr. F. C. Hall. Medical skill proved fruitless and the old gentleman died within a few hours. The deceased was a resident of West Scranton for forty years. He was a member of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church and his family acts for others and he was a member of many. His wife and four children, one son and three daughters survive him. His daughter, Mrs. George W. Morgan, of this city, and Miss Margaret Lever, of this city, and John Lever, of Carbondale. The funeral will occur on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It will be held at the Simpson church and interment will be made at the Forest Hill cemetery.

Miss Jennie daughter of Henry Wehrum, general manager of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, died yesterday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alfred Grant, of North Main street, of typhoid fever. She had been ill two weeks. The deceased had just returned from her twenty-sixth year and all of life seems to have been happy. Her end came, Miss Wehrum had received an excellent education in the public schools, at Keystone academy and at the Lehigh University. One year ago, being anxious to earn an independent livelihood, she applied for and secured a position as teacher in the public schools, being assigned to the school. Her attentiveness to duty and sunny disposition soon endeared her to her associates, teachers, pupils, and when this illness overtook her more solicitous inquiries were made than those which came from Miss Wehrum's school. The remains will be viewed at the house on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock; interment in Dunmore cemetery.

Edward E. Morgan died yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett, on Second street, Jersey. The deceased had been ill for many months. He was 70 years of age and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the Baptist church and was an earnest devotee of his religion. He was born in South Wales in 1826, coming to this country from Caerphilly South Wales, in 1850. He settled in Centralia, Columbia county, in 1871. He left there and came to Jersey, where he has since resided. The deceased is a brother of the late Samuel Morgan, who died a few years ago at Jersey. He is survived by a brother in Danville, Ill., and a sister in Abernethy, South Wales; also two daughters, Mrs. G. Jones, of Hometown, O., and Mrs. William J. Jernyn, of Jersey. One daughter, Mrs. William Thomas, died in Iron Mountain, Mo., six years ago. The funeral services will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Brown will officiate. Interment in Shadydale cemetery.

Frank W. Watson, an old and respected resident of Peckville, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Hoyt, on Main street, at midnight on Monday. He was the effects of the third stroke of paralysis which he received last Wednesday. Mr. Watson was born in Boston, Mass., in 1828. He moved to Peckville, Pa., and was one of the leading plumbers and gas fitters for many years. In 1870 he embarked in the hardware business, and after his wife's death he moved to Peckville and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Hoyt. Mr. Watson was a veteran of the late war, and at the time of his death was a member of Lieutenant Ezra Griffin post, Grand Army of the Republic, of Scranton, and was a member of Harper lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Peckville. The funeral services will be held at the house on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, after which the remains will be taken to Scranton to St. Louis. The Extra Griffin post will take charge of the funeral. Interment will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Blood Poisoned.

FEARFUL RESULT OF IMPROPERLY TREATING AN ABSCESS.

Mrs. L. E. Browning, of Pueblo, Painfully Afflicted from a Complication of Diseases—Her Remarkable Fortitude.

From the Chief Clerk, Pueblo, Col. "I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," she continued, "the best tonic I have ever known." "A friend not long ago was telling me of her mother who at a critical period in her life. She had been subject to terrible fainting spells, and the whole family would work over her. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not only stopped the fainting spells, but given her so much strength that she is able to take up her family duties again." "I recommended the pills also to a young lady whose pale face made one pity her. She looked as if there wasn't a drop of blood in her body. She was so weak that she was not able to attend school, but after taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for awhile she has gone back to school, and, with her rosy cheeks and bright eyes, she looks like another girl." (Signed) "MRS. L. E. BROWNING." Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of May, A. D. 1897.

GEORGE W. GILL, Notary Public.

IT IS NOW NOVEMBER

And so far, we have had little or no cold weather, consequently winter stocks of every description are hanging fire. Buying on faith is part of the lot of the aggressive dry goods man. He anticipates conditions, and should they fail to materialize all his plans are upset. We anticipated normal weather conditions (there was no reason why we shouldn't have done so) and we bought accordingly; nay, we did more, in the face of an advancing tariff, we bought for this year and next as far as it was safe to do so.
