The more delicate classes of wires find application in scientific instruments. So fine are these that it is difficult to get them measured; but the task has been accomplished, and platinum wire has been drawn to 1-7000 of an inch, and to even greater fineness. Aluminium wire has been drawn a fine as 10,500 yards to the ounce, a size to fine to be practically measured by any guage or instrument. While menfioning practical examples of finedrawn wires, it may be stated that iron has been attenuated, so that over two and a half miles in length only weighed one ounce. Again, twenty-four grains of gold have been drawn on silver wire to a length of 120 miles.
