TWO WEDDINGS YESTERDAY.

Popular Young Ladies Wedded, One at Home and the Other at Church.

The wedding of Miss Ray A. Williams, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Williams, of 129 North Summer avenue, to Dr. Daniel Webster Evans, of Dell Rapids, South Dakota, occurred yesterday morning at 11:30 at the family residence. It was a very quiet affair. The couple were unattended and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Davies, pastor of the Welsh Calvinistic church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few invited friends.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was artistically decorated with smilax, roses, chrysanthemums and potted ferns. The bride was prettily attired in a neat fitting tailor-made gown of a new color shade of rhabdium cloth, trimmed with embroidered chiffon and brown marten. She carried a bunch of white chrysanthemums.

At 12 o'clock those present were served a beautiful wedding dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Evans departed via the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western 1:55 train for Chicago and Dell Rapids, where they will reside. They expect to be at home after Dec. 15. Mrs. Evans enjoys a wide circle of friends and was an active worker in her church. Dr. Evans, though not so well known here, has a lucrative practice at Dell Rapids, South Dakota, and is much esteemed.

Rev. J. B. Street, pastor of the church, performed the beautiful ceremony, the bride being given away by her father.

As the party passed from the church the flower girl went before and scattered the chrysanthemums which she carried along the aisle. They left immediately for Hoboken, N. J., where they will reside in a newly furnished home. The bride was escorted in a gown of rich dark-green velvet with old rose sash and sable fur trimmings and carried white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor wore green whipcord cloth with ribbon and broadcloth trimmings, and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The flower lassie looked charming in blue organdie with lace trimmings.

Mrs. Simpkins is an engaging young lady and for some time has been employed in Clarke Bros' shoe department as a saleslady. Mr. Simpkins holds a responsible position at Hoboken under the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, and is a respected young man in the community where he resides.

NOT A JUSTIFIABLE MURDER.

At the session last evening of the Literary and Debating society of St. Brendan's council, No. 243, Young Men's Institute, the debate was: "Resolved, that Brutus was justified in killing Caesar," and the judges, James Shea, William Martin and Joseph Gagnor, not caring to alter history, awarded their decision in favor of the negatives. The affirmative debaters were William Shean, Thomas McGuire and William Glancy. Those of the negative were William Glroy, Joseph Barrett and Patrick Gray. Leo Crossin declaimed and Amos Emery gave a special reading. President Frank McLean was chairman. The next debate will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 16, and will be upon "Resolved, that the tramp nuisance should be abolished."

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Quite a number of people were entertained last evening in the auditorium of the Hampton Street Methodist church with an exhibition and lecture upon Bunyon's "Pilgrim's Progress," by J. R. L. Thomas, of New York city. The exhibition was given by the aid of a powerful stereopticon and over sixty slides were thrown upon the canvass. Mr. Thomas has devoted much time and effort to make this lecture complete and instructive as well as entertaining. In the course of his remarks he draws many a moral lesson, emphasizing it with the picture thrown upon the screen.

RECITAL LAST NIGHT.

A large audience listened with evident satisfaction and enjoyment to the exercises given by the pupils of Professor Silas Rosser, last evening at the recital held in the music store of D. R. Thomas, at 115 North Main avenue. The playing of each pupil evinced a studious care upon the part of the teacher and careful attention by the scholar. The pupils who played were the Misses Lulu Watkins, May James, Lizzie Kemmerer, Margaret Thomas, Edith Miller, Mary Doran, Lorretta Fahoy, Annie B. Williams and George Martin. Mrs. B. T. Jayne, soprano soloist, and Richard Thomas (Llew

Mrs. R. Ware, of Clark's Summit, is the guest of West Scranton relatives.

Grant Corbin, of North Summer avenue, is very low at his home from an attack of illness.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Blanche Wood to Thomas, at Mr. Hobart H. Barnes, to take place on Thanksgiving eve.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Hoover will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Warkes, 117 North Main avenue. Interment will be made in Washburn street cemetery.

The bowling match, which was to have been held last evening at Warkes's alley, has been postponed, owing to a recent death in the Warkes family. The match will be played in a week or two.

Preparations are being made for the debate upon "Resolved, that governments should control the railroad and telegraph lines," which will be given on Wednesday, Dec. 3. This is the first debate of a series, which will be conducted under the direction of a committee, selected from the seven councils of the Young Men's Institutes in this city. The event will probably be held at Mears' hall, and St. Brendan council, No. 213, will be pitted against John Boyle O'Reilly council, No. 124.

The Misses Sarah A. Evans and Margaret Lewis, of New York city, are guests at the home of Mrs. Morgan Evans, on South Rebecca avenue.

William E. Millover, of Hallstead, Pa., was fined $2 in police court by Alderman Kellow yesterday morning for being drunk.

A twilight concert for Thanksgiving evening is being arranged for by the Simpson chapter, Epworth league of the Simpson church. The chapter's regular business meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 16, having been postponed from last evening.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

Trouble in the South District of Lackawanna Township—Election Day Responsible for Proceedings.

Patrick McDonnell, of Minooka, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzlement, preferred by John Lydon, of the same place. The warrant was issued by Alderman Howe, and Mr. McDonnell waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at court. Martin McDonough qualified as his bondsman.

The case grows out of a dispute that occurred in the South district of Lackawanna township last election day. Mr. McDonnell was judge of election, John J. Joyce was majority inspector, and John T. Brown minority inspector.

The members of the board were present at the polling place on time, but the booth was not in readiness, that is, the guard rail was not in place, and there were no tables or chairs, nor any fire. That was due to the fact that the booth had just been completed by the carpenters. When everything was in readiness to swear the board in, John J. Coyne entered a protest against the right of Mr. Joyce to act as majority inspector. He alleged that Mr. Joyce was over 22 years and had no tax receipts. Mr. Joyce was elected last spring, and he was then under 22, and of course, was a qualified elector without tax receipts.

There were upwards of forty men present besides the board when Mr. Coyne objected to Mr. Joyce's right to serve, and mostly all of them had much to say on the subject, so that it was not exactly as quiet as a graveyard at midnight. While the interchange of opinions was going on, Mr. Joyce took his departure from the booth and went home.

The question then arose as to the manner of filling the vacancy. Mr. McDonnell claimed he was vested with the power of appointing an inspector, but it was about twenty minutes to 9 o'clock and Mr. Coyne claimed the electors present had the power. Mr. McDonnell went ahead and appointed P. J. Philbin, ex-jury commissioner. The electors chose John Lydon. Mr. Lydon lost no time in getting inside the guard rail and he took possession of the two lists of voters and the registry lists.

He appointed John J. Cusick clerk, Mr. Brown, about whose right to serve, there was no question, appointed P. J. Philbin clerk, and Mr. Philbin, the judge's appointee, chose John Kelly as clerk. Mr. Lydon gave one list of voters and a registry list to Mr. Brown and Messrs. Philbin and Kelley were left out in the cold. Mr. Kelley did not remain in the booth very long, but Mr. Philbin did. He sat there until the vote was counted at night, although he did no work of any account.

Messrs. Brown and Lydon signed all the returns in the spaces designated for the inspectors, and at the instance of Mr. McDonnell, P. J. Philbin attached his name to the returns also. It was the same way with the voucher for the pay of the board.

Mr. McDonnell drew the money at the county treasurer's office out when he came to paying the inspectors and he was in a quandary. He paid Mr. Brown and the two clerks, but when it came to paying the other inspector he held back and refused. If he paid Philbin, he was afraid Lydon would sue him and vice versa. He was holding the money and still he is awaiting some way out of it, when Mr. Lydon swore out the warrant aforementioned.

OBITUARY.

W. T. Davies, of Olyphant, died very suddenly at his home at 7:30 o'clock last evening of heart disease. Dr. Davies had conducted a shoe store on Lackawanna street, and was around and attending to his business until yesterday afternoon, when he became suddenly ill, and after a few hours passed away. Deceased was well known in this valley, and his death will be a shock to his many friends. He was born in South Wales fifty years ago. He leaves three children, Mary J., Augustus and Trevor. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SOUTH SCRANTON.

E. Puerucci, of Brick street, and his laborer, Mike Dusok, were seriously injured by a premature blast at Connell & Co.'s tunnel, in the Twentieth ward, yesterday morning. Both men were badly burned and it was feared at first Puerucci was injured fatally. Last night he was pronounced out of danger, but he will be disfigured and possibly maimed for life.

Miss Mamie Coyne, of Hazleton, is the guest of friends on Palm street.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rink's 4-year-old son, Frank, who died Wednesday afternoon, after a week's illness, will take place at 2 o'clock p. m. today. Services will be conducted at the home by Rev. Father Stoppani and interment will be made at the German Catholic cemetery at No. 5.

Carl Harring left yesterday for Berlin, Germany, where he will make his future home. Tuesday night he was conducted a surprise party by a large throng of his friends at the home of Rev. H. F. Lisse, on Maple street.

The Young People's society, of the Cedar Avenue Christ Lutheran church, celebrated its tenth anniversary with a social in the lecture room of the church Wednesday evening.

Adolph Gladstiel was held in $200 bail before Alderman Ruddy, of the Twentieth ward, to answer a charge of perjury, preferred against him by Alexander Anselwitz.

DUNMORE.

Mrs. Patrick Murphy, an old and much esteemed resident of this place, was buried yesterday morning. The remains were conveyed from her late residence, on East Drinker street, to St. Mary's church, where a requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. M. E. Donlan. The pall-bearers were: James Duffy, William Brennan, James Connors, Patrick Murphy, James Fitzpatrick and Gus Duffy. Interment was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

At noon Wednesday Miss Anna Smith was married to Eugene Seigle in the Methodist Episcopal parsonage by Rev. C. H. Hayes. They are spending their honeymoon in New York city.

Charles Mills is on the sick list.

The funeral of Anthony Bolans, who died Wednesday evening, will take place Saturday morning at 9:30 and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.
