

COMPLETE OFFICIAL COUNT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 11.—The following are the official totals of last week's election, as computed at the State Department tonight:

Table with columns for Counties, Auditor General, and State Treasurer. Lists election results for various Pennsylvania counties.

REPORTS ON STATE WORK

feel that no business done for him is unimportant and let us be prompt in giving our share toward the support of the Master's work which He has given us, doing every "whatsoever" in His name.

WILL NOT BE HARD. With this spirit in it it will not be hard for us to raise the $2,000 desired by the executive committee for the prosecution of this work committed to us. My prayer at this time is "Let thy work prosper, O Lord our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands establish thou it."

Mrs. Gates then read the report of State Secretary Miss Mary S. Dunn. Early in the year she requested that even half salary be withdrawn, and that her future services should be a labor of love. She believed that close personal contact was necessary in such a large field as Pennsylvania, and that money given to the state should be expended to procure specialists of fine ability. Such a plan has been blessed.

Balance as per report, ninth annual convention, Harrisburg, Pa., 1907. Appropriated for special work. Cash collection at Harrisburg convention. City associations. College associations. Interest. Individual members. Ladies' work. Sabbath schools. Various towns.

MISS HAYES' REPORT. Miss Emma Hayes, state city secretary, gave an interesting report. She had introduced association ideas at Reading, where a flourishing city association was organized. Two new general secretaries have been added to the state.

SOME FOOLISH PEOPLE

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They say "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price, 25c, and 50c. Trial size free. At all druggists.

M. Gates talked on "Business Methods" giving many valuable suggestions. She based her remarks on Hokenish, as noted in 2 Chron., 29. He first went to inquire of the Lord, consecrated himself to the work, and then called in his helpers and declared: "The Lord hath chosen you to stand before Him to serve Him, be not negligent."

The special committees and their monthly cabinet meetings were urged with quarterly association meetings with careful selection of officers and committee chairmen. Promptness in making reports and in the continuous work were enjoined, together with intelligent reading of association literature.

Miss Jessie Gilchrist, of Bloomsburg Normal school, read a thoughtful paper on Bible classes, in which she gave valuable suggestions from experience in that school. The life of Paul is the subject of the year. Bible bands of eight, with a leader, have been most successful.

Miss Brooks gave a brief talk on Bible study. "Promise-a-Day" was the title of a paper by Miss Cornelia Newby, of Harrisburg. Mrs. C. Stephens, of Williamsport, told of methods of conducting "Gospel Meetings."

Miss Ellen Kincaid, of Pittsburg, gave a charming talk on "Personal Prayer for Souls." "Try, pray, love a little harder" was the precept she laid with her listeners. Personal letters to the associate members and house to house visitations among the unsaved were recommended. A season of prayer followed.

Miss Bertha M. Wood, of Reading, talked on "The Girls' Branch." To hold the children, the girls, they must be entertained, but education must not be forgotten. A complete organization should be made from the branch, supervised by older members. She advised many plans that have proven successful in her work. Mothers' meetings should go hand in hand with the direction of the Girls' Branch.

A reception was held in the First Presbyterian church last evening, which was very largely attended. The Sunday school orchestra of Dr. Fox's church gave selections. Miss Harriet Laclair presided at the piano. Today's sessions will be held in the First Methodist church. This afternoon, from 4 to 6, the Kingston association of Young Women society will hold a reception for the school and college delegates.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25 cents.

TEMPLE CUP SERIES TO BE ABANDONED

Work of the National Ball League Magazines at Philadelphia.

PROPOSITION FROM MINOR LEAGUES

It Modifies the Rules Relating to Drafting of Players—National Board of Arbitration Re-Elected. Players Secured—A Donation Made to the Man Who Was Injured by Tim Hurst.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—The National base ball league magazines got down to work today, having devoted a couple of days wholly to social pleasures and sight-seeing, and incidentally to figuring on the exchange of players. Only one session of the annual meeting was held, however. This session lasted from 12 to 5 o'clock and adjournment was then taken until tomorrow morning. It is expected that the meeting will be concluded tomorrow. One of the important results of today's meeting was the abandonment of the Temple cup series of post-season games, which have been played between the clubs ending first and second the last four seasons.

The resolution providing for the abandonment of the Temple cup games, which was unanimously adopted, was the one which was offered at last year's annual meeting by Mr. James A. Hart, of Chicago, and then defeated by the vote of only Mr. Hart in its favor. The resolution prohibits exchange of players at any time between National league clubs, and declares that the league shall in no manner authorize or lend its support to any game or games between the clubs of its membership, except those provided for in the regular adopted schedule.

The only opposition manifested to the adoption of the resolution was on the part of Mr. Freedman, of New York. The New York magazine felt convinced that his team would next season finish close to the top, and, for the benefit of his players he wanted the Temple cup series to be continued. To make its adoption unanimous, he voted with the rest in its favor, but remarked that he would set aside a fund of $5,000 or more to be presented to his men should they finish at the top of the season of 1898.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Young, Byrne and Watkins, was appointed to communicate with Mr. Temple, of Pittsburg, the donor of the prize, to ascertain his desire as to the disposition of the cup.

PROPOSITION FROM MINOR LEAGUES. The proposition from the minor leagues which modifies the rules relating to the drafting of players and which was favorably recommended by the National board of arbitration, was adopted. It provides that no player in the Eastern, Western or Atlantic leagues shall be drafted by the major league until he shall have been two years with the minor league clubs, and that not more than two players can be drafted from any club of these leagues.

The present National board of arbitration, consisting of Messrs. Young, Robinson, Soden, Byrne, Hart and Brush, were re-elected, and the board of directors, which is chosen by lot, will consist of Messrs. Von Der Horst, of Baltimore; Reuch, of Philadelphia; Earl Warner, of Washington; Fullam,
