 Our Welsh Letter—
 It is hardly necessary for us to call the attention of our Welsh subscribers and patrons to the generous space that is being devoted to their interest in every Sunday Free Press. In a special department, compiled by one of the ablest of the Welsh-American journalists of this section, Mr. John Courler Morris, appears not only a prompt and intelligent resume of the latest happenings in old Gwalla, but also sparks from the pens of her best literatures, sprightly written reminiscences of her foremost characters, beautiful pen-pictures of her noted pupils orators, besides concise news of her Eisteddfodau and carefully prepared reviews of her many important industries. This department from week to week virtually presents a miniature view of Wales and Welsh subjects, yet it is only one of many features of the paper, which is a handsome twelve-page issue with something in it to charm and instruct every member of the household. The paper will contain many beautiful illustrations—and the cream of advertisements. You cannot afford to miss tomorrow's issue.
 Order it at the Free Press office—and have it delivered every Sunday morning at your home before breakfast.

COURT WOULD NOT ALLOW IT.
Daughter Denied Reimburse for the Care and Keeping of Mother.
 Judge Archbald yesterday refused to allow a daughter to collect from her mother's estate for board and care in the absence of a definite agreement.
 Mrs. Mary McClain, of Dunmore, died intestate, leaving a bank account of $23,82. C. B. Gardner was appointed auditor to distribute the funds among the seven heirs, Thomas, Patrick, Michael, James and John McClain, Mrs. Winifred Rooney and Mrs. Ann Arthur, children of the deceased. The debts were found to amount to $26,85. The balance of $24,94, the auditor gave to Mrs. Rooney to apply on her claim of $75, for board and care of her mother, who died with her for the eight years preceding her death.
 Thomas McClain took exception to the report, alleging that there was no agreement between the mother and daughter about board, and further that the mother boarded herself, she having had a separate room, and ate her meals at a separate table. Mrs. Rooney presented verbal testimony to show that there was an agreement that the mother's money should go to her as reimbursement for keeping her, but the testimony was, as court put it, "loose and uncertain," and on this ground the exceptions were sustained.
 It was further decreed that the residue of the estate should be divided equally among the heirs. Each will thus inherit $2,57.

SOLD BY SHERIFF CLEMONS.
 Number of Properties Disposed of in the Arbitration Room.
 In the arbitration room of the Court House yesterday morning Sheriff F. H. Clemons sold the following property:
 Property of Emma Carpenter in Dalton, sold to second purchaser for $1,000. Price for $500, third piece to E. H. Short, fourth piece to E. F. Tinkham, attorney, for $1.
 Property of Adolph Altmowski, South Scranton, sold to Spruka Bros. for $2,200.
 Property of James J. Walsh, Olyphant, sold to James J. O'Malley for $1,500.
 Property of H. C. Patrick, farm and building lots in Clark's Summit, sold to William Atherton for $5,000.
 Property of Z. Phillips, administratrix, West Scranton, sold to Thomas Carson for $7,200.
 Property of Ellen Jones, in West Scranton, sold to Taylor & Lewis, attorneys, for $17,400.
 Property of Fred Kunz, in South Scranton, sold to Spruka Brothers for $3,600.
 Property of A. L. and John Rice, in Scranton, sold to the New Schiller Building and Loan Association for $20,000.
 Property of Nathan Vidaver, administrator, and M. D. Stalbert, in Covington township, sold to H. G. Stalbert for $41,750.
 Property of Richard Dougherty in Old Forge, sold to E. Laird & Brother for $24.
 Property of Bridget Sailer, in Scranton, sold to the Building and Loan Association for $212.

AL REEVES' BIG COMPANY.
 Begins a Three Days' Engagement at Davis' Monday.
 The Barnum of all attractions, Al Reeves' Big Burlesque company, greater and grander than ever, with a costly set of new and magnificent scenery, costumes and grand electrical effects, will be the attraction the first half of next week at Davis' theater.
 Neither time nor money have been spared to make this show a big success. The past success of Mr. Reeves' company is a guarantee that the one to be seen here next week is well worth seeing, and contains so much comedy that the audience are kept in a continual roar of laughter from start to finish. The show starts with a laughable and grand comedy, "Fadden and Dugan's Tribulations." The closing burlesque is entitled "An Isle of Gold," which gives a very laughable conception of that famous Klondike Gold Fields. Non-suggestive and clean throughout.

SCRANTONIANS WENT TO EASTON.
 They Will Testify Before the Grand Jury in the Reeder Case.
 The following Scrantonians went to Easton yesterday to testify before the grand jury of Northampton county in the case against Reeder and others which has been attracting so much attention throughout the state: Congressman William Connell, Fred S. Godfrey, proprietor of the Hotel Jermyn; Isaac Post, cashier and E. S. Jackson, treasurer of the National Bank, Detective Will Clifford and E. S. Simpson.
 They did not know their presence was required at Easton until Sheriff Finley, of Northampton county, served attachments on them. Congressman Connell was in the city yesterday in response to a subpoena he received, but the case was not called and he was compelled by business matters to return to this city. He was to be notified when wanted.

LARGEST FAMILY IN THE REGION.
 Man with Eight Children Weds a Woman with Twelve.
 James Barr and Mrs. Robert Roach, of Durson, surprised their friends with a trip to Binghamton on Wednesday, where they were made man and wife. Mr. Barr is a widower of one year, with eight grown children. Mrs. Roach's husband also died a year since, leaving her with a family of twelve children.
 Last evening the newly wedded pair, with their combined family of twenty members, posed a mutual bond of friendship. Sixteen of the family are voters. This makes Mrs. Roach's fourth advent on the matrimonial sea and the second for Mr. Barr.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

Scranton Conservatory of Music.
 On Wednesday next the Scranton Conservatory concludes its first term's work, and the Winter term begins on Thursday. It is probable that few institutions have had so large an attendance the first term with the attendant enthusiasm. The number of students registered is exactly 147. Next term's work will include a large number of recitals, also free advantages in Right Singing, Music, Diction and Lectures on Music, Languages and Art. To avoid the rush on opening day, students should register before Thursday.

RUSHING THROUGH COURT BUSINESS
 Judge Archbald Holds a Night Session to Finish Up the Jurisch Case.

HARTLEY-HULL SUIT ABOUT ENDED
 Both Cases Will Be in Jury's Hands Today and the Decks Will Thereby Be Cleared for Next Week's List. A Witness Who Had His Reputation Attacked in No Manner, Jurisch Explains Away Some Damaging Statements of Defense.

The two cases which have been occupying the whole attention of common pleas court yesterday, the Hartley-Hull ejectment suit and the Jurisch interpleader case continued through all of yesterday and will not be finished until some time today.
 In the first named case the taking of testimony was completed at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge Searle allotted two hours for the closing arguments, which were made by Mr. Watson on the defendant's side and ex-Judge Jessup for the plaintiff. Judge Searle will make his charge this morning.

The feature of yesterday's proceedings was the effort on the part of the plaintiff to impeach the testimony of one of the defendant's witnesses, A. E. Gardner, of Chicago, who testified to having heard admissions from the plaintiff to the effect that the transfer from Robinson to Hartley was not bona fide. Witnesses swore that Gardner bore anything but a good reputation for honesty and veracity.
 The defense called still other witnesses to show that Gardner was the soul of virtue and honor and that his word was as binding as a bond.

EVENING SESSION.
 Judge Archbald was bent on preventing the Jurisch case from running into next week and when it was seen yesterday afternoon that the possibility of finishing tomorrow with the regular sessions, a night session was ordered by Judge Archbald. The afternoon session was prolonged till 8 o'clock when the evidence might be all gotten in without an interruption. The evening session was then free for the speeches and charge.
 The defense concluded yesterday by adding testimony to show that the constable's sale was an unusual if not irregular proceeding. This store was kept open during the period that the goods were distrained and Jurisch continued to do business, apparently as before the constable came down upon him. No notice of the sale was apparent as several witnesses testified it was also shown that even according to the constable's own testimony the necessary notices were not posted according to law.
 Mr. Warner, agent of the Sterling Cycle company, went on the stand to show that Jurisch had represented his stock to be worth $7,000, which is about fifteen times as large as was realized at the sale. A lease was produced showing that Jurisch had rented the store for himself at the time it is claimed he was acting merely as manager for his sisters.

MR. JURISCH DENIES.
 On rebuttal Mr. Jurisch denied that he had ever stated to anyone that the stock in his store was worth $7,000 and produced an inventory taken in January, when, he claimed, the stock in the store was materially the same as at the time of the sale, and from this strove to show that not over a thousand dollars worth of goods were kept in stock.
 That the store was kept open during the week preceding the sale he admitted, but, he said, it was only that he might carry on his dealings with former customers who had bought wheels in confidence. The constable told him it would be all right if he didn't attempt to sell anything. He admitted that he did sell some few things but turned the money over to the attorney for the purchasers.
 It was testified to on the part of the defense that Jurisch had made sales of goods across the counter while the sale was in progress. Mr. Jurisch denied this but admitted that immediately after the sale, on the authority of Mr. Zimmerman, attorney for the purchasers, his two sisters, he did dispose of some goods, turning the money over to his sisters.
 Immediately after the sale he entered into an agreement with his sisters to become manager of the store and that very afternoon had his bill-heads printed on which his name appeared with "agent" following it. He also opened up a new bank account with the Scranton Savings bank in the name of A. V. Jurisch agent, and by many other acts showed to the world that he was no longer owner of the store, but simply manager for his sisters.

ABOUT THE LEASE.
 As to the signing of the lease he explained that it was one that could not be transferred and he only had the privilege of renewing it. In order that there might be no possible trouble his sisters had him continue the lease in his own name.
 As a result of these two cases developing long-winded tendencies, twenty cases set down for trial this week will have to go over until the next term.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.
 The will of Mary Carroll, late of this city, was yesterday admitted to probate by Register Hopkins, and letters testamentary granted to Katie Carroll and Thomas Ruddy. The will of Joseph White, late of Covington, was also probated yesterday.
 William Hall, Albert Shusarski, Richard Harrington and John Widdotta were yesterday released from the county jail on motion of District Attorney Jones the charges against them having been ignored by the grand jury.
 John Malaska, one of the men who assaulted William Council, Blackley with a sledge hammer, and who was re-arrested when it was feared Couch was going to die, was released on $1,000 bail again yesterday by Judge Archbald, being shown that Couch has passed the danger line.

SERVICE STRIPES FOR CARRIERS.
 New Order Issued by the Postoffice Department.
 An order issued by the postoffice department directs that hereafter mail-carriers shall wear service stripes on the sleeves of their coats, denoting the length of time they have been in the service. One stripe is allowed for each five years of service.
 The following of the local carrying force are entitled to wear one stripe: Eugene Evans, Joseph Fiddam, Argus N. Jenkins, Edward D. Jones, John H. Kelly, Henry Knoepfel, Walter Mc-Nicholas, William D. Morgan, William Moser, John H. Phillips, Louis H. Squier, John R. Thomas, Joseph D. Thomas, Harry E. White, Thomas O. Williams, Frederick Emery, Benjamin

L. Jones, Joshua R. Thomas, Leopold Johler, James McGuinness, Joseph Schell, Thomas R. Jones, John McDonough.
 Three carriers who have been in the service upwards of ten years and are therefore entitled to two stripes.
 Eliezer Evans, Armit Thomas and Michael O'Malley.

ATTORNEY WALSH APPOINTED.
 He Will Be City Solicitor McGinley's Assistant.
 Attorney M. J. Walsh was appointed assistant city solicitor yesterday by City Solicitor McGinley. Mr. Walsh is among the leading young members of the Lackawanna bar. He was admitted at the October term, 1895, after pursuing his studies in the office of O'Brien & Kelley. He has achieved success in his profession.
 He was born on the West Side in March, 1871, and when he was twenty-one, he was appointed a court messenger by Hon. P. P. Smith, then one of the additional law judges. He registered as a law student and in two years was admitted.
 City Solicitor McGinley was besieged by nearly a score of applicants for the office of assistant, and the selection of Mr. Walsh from that number is no small compliment to him.
 Attorney David J. Davies, who has been assistant during Mr. Torrey's two terms, will retire on Monday.

BEAR WAS VERY HUNGRY
 Decided to Have a Meal Without Asking Permission and Thereby Caused Much Excitement.

A big cinnamon bear, the property of a band of gypsies now passing through this valley, created very warm excitement yesterday morning on Eynon street, West Scranton. The bear with two other bears were in charge of four men and six women, members of the band.
 Besides these there were nine children, four horses and a number of monkeys, all present when Mr. Cinnamon went on his prank.
 One of the women was keeper of this bear, and as such was supposed to have complete control over the big and shaggy animal. About 9 o'clock the caravan halted in front of Emmer-shield's butcher shop on Eynon street, while the woman who had the bear went into the shop to buy bones for her pot.
 She left the bear outside. After a few minutes in the shop the keepers came out. She had in her arms a brown paper bundle, the contents of which were being carried to the house and meat for the human part of the family.
 Mr. Cinnamon saw the brown-paper bundle. He was hungry and desperate, and in a bound broke away from the woman who held him and sprang upon the gypsy woman.
 She was knocked to the road with one thump of a big paw and the other tore from her arms the brown-paper bundle.
 Mr. Cinnamon then proceeded to devour the three bones, the meat and every other thing in the bundle. The woman was pinned to the ground by the big paw and his bearship held her there.
 The gypsy caravan was tumbled topsy-turvy in an instant. The men of the party could not go to the rescue as they had their hands full with the frightened horses and the two smaller bears. Mr. Cinnamon, as he gnawed at the bones, holding his mistress to the ground all the while, turned his head and with a sinister growl kept them at a respectful distance. Hungry as they were the smaller bears didn't care to eat just then.

COMBINATION WAGON TESTED.
 City Officials were Very Much Pleased with It.
 The test of the new combination hose and chemical wagon of the Columbia company was made yesterday morning on the vacant lot owned by Dr. W. E. Allen, on North Main avenue. It proved to be satisfactory, and there is no longer any doubt that the new apparatus will be accepted by the city. George P. Callaghan sent here by the Holloway company, conducted the test.
 Chief Hickey was present and besides him Engineer James George, of the Phoenix company, and Councilmen Fred Durf, Loren Zeldner, Simon Thomas, Joseph Oliver and Morgan Sweeney were there also, representing the city. A large crowd of men and boys were gathered around, too. The chemical tanks worked well, and

First Mortgage Bonds.
 Attention of investors is called to the advertisement in this issue of the well-known bankers who offer for sale the First Mortgage Bonds of the Pennsylvania Central Brewing Co.
 The properties securing these bonds and the character of the people connected with it are so well known in this community that a further endorsement of these bonds seems hardly necessary. It is a matter of importance, as well as of congratulation, to know that the parties who have built up these great brewing interests in the Wyoming valley are the main stockholders of the Company and control its management and future destinies.
