JAMES PHILLIPS' DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Heard Testimony Last Night with Reference to It-Another Meeting Tomorrow Night.

The death of James Phillips, the man who was found laying on the Cedar avenue bridge last Sunday evening and who died a few hours afterward at the Lackawanna hospital, was the subject of an investigation last night by a coroner's jury at Coroner S. P. Longstreet's office. Witnesses, chiefly in defense of Phillips' character, were heard. The inquest was adjourned until Wednesday night in the arbitration room at the court house when testinony concerning the assault on Phillips made in Petersburg a week before his death by Edward Meyers, the man arrested Sunday night, will be subnitted.

Both sides have engaged attorneys; W. R. Lewis for the Phillipses and C. Balentine for Meyers, both attorney being present at the inquest last even William Raymond, the first witness heard, stated that Wednesday, Nov. 3 he met Phillips whose face was cut and bruised I suggested that he go to the pital," said Raymond, "but he didn't go." He said, "'My body is worse than my face.'" Phillips told me that stated that Phillips did not drink to Miss Hattie Granville, a neice of the deceased, was sworn. She said Phillips came to her house in West Scranton and asked to stay there. This was Saturday morning, the day before he died. He said he had been assaulted in Petersburg, by whom and for what witness did not learn. He displayed no sign of drunkenness at that time.

He was demented. At this point Attorney Lewis suggested that Alexander Phillips, brothr of the deceased, by sworn. Mr Phillips lives in West Scranton, He swore that his brother had been a temperate man for four or five months before his death. He was eighteen months at the Hillside Home, This concluded the testimony. The D. Owen, W. H. Malia, Edward Conley and Patrick Cusick.

CAUSED A SENSATION.

Reported Apparition in St. John's Church Attracted Hundreds.

Quite a commotion was caused on the South Side yesterday by a rumor that a vision of the Blessed Virgin had appeared on the walls of St. John's Catholic church on Fig street. Hundreds of people flocked to the scene and crowded the church until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the pastor, Rev. E. J. Melley, seeing that the number of visitors was showing no signs of abatement, cleared the church and locked the doors.

What started the rumor was a blotch on the wall caused by the dampness swelling and discoloring the plaster. The discoloration was somewhat of the shape of a silhouette that would be made by a woman with a shawl over her head and shoulders, but it was also somewhat like a hundred other figures that one could call to

After seeing it the curious or credulous, as the case might have been, wanted to find the person who had started the rumor. Rev. Father Melley was very indignant over the affair.
