NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA MEETING OF THE MUSICAL ALLIANCE

An Earnest Gathering of Philharmonic People at Factoryville.

REPORT OF THE DAILY SESSIONS

Mr. S. S. Meyers, of Cleveland, Ohio, Chosen Director--The Elements Keep Many Away, but the Attendance Is Good Notwithstanding. Sight Reading Lessons, Chanting Practice, Etc.--Out-of-Town Attendants.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Factoryville, Pa., Nov. 17.—The Lackawanna and Wyoming Musical alliance opened their twelfth annual meeting in the Methodist Episcopal church at this place last Monday evening, under very unfavorable circumstances, as far as the weather goes in making such an affair a success. However, a goodly number assembled and showed their willingness to make it a successful meeting. Secretary W. N. Manchester introduced Mr. S. S. Meyers, of Cleveland, Ohio, who had been chosen as director. Mr. Meyers, in a few well chosen introductory remarks, won the respect of his pupils, and they at once settled down to musical work. The class was examined upon sight reading to some extent, and some valuable points on vocal culture were given by the director. The balance of the evening was taken up in handshaking and social chats.

A. L. THAYER, PRESIDENT.

Tuesday morning opened up bright, and "Uncle Sol" came out, and with his genial face made everybody feel happy and musically-inclined, consequently the morning class was much enlarged, about forty having entered. This lesson was of much importance to the class, especially in vocal punctuation, and direct consonantal utterances. The afternoon session increased the class to fifty voices and was devoted entirely to sight reading, while the evening session was principally devoted to chorus work.

This morning the class was still further increased to seventy-five voices. Voice culture was again the principal feature of the morning session, and Mr. Meyers interested his audience by giving a highly instructive talk with practical exercises for the class. Chanting was also a subject of the morning session. Drilling the chorus in the chanting of the "Lord's Prayer" was given as a part of the morning session with much effect.

Afternoon session, Wednesday, opened with a class of over eighty voices. Sight reading and rehearsal of chorus work was the principal work of the afternoon session. The evening session consisted principally of chorus work.

IRA B. MILLER, VICE PRESIDENT.

This evening the first grand concert will be given and the main feature of this concert will be a prize contest between three choirs composed of twenty-four voices each, one choir to be from Dalton and composed of singers from Dalton, Waverly and Glenburn, and led by Mr. Thomas Hall; one from Nicholson, led by Mr. L. N. Shields, and Factoryville choir led by Mr. W. N. Manchester.

DEALT IN STOLEN BRASS.

Detectives Recover a Quantity of Freight Car Journals.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 17.—Levi Mumford was arrested last night as he was getting on a train for Philadelphia He is charged with receiving and selling stolen brass journals from the Pennsylvania and Philadelphia and Reading Railroad freight cars.

He had just shipped a box weighing 550 pounds, which when broken open was found to be filled with journals marked "P. R. R." Mumford confessed to receiving the stuff from a gang of railroad thieves that have been operating on the Pennsylvania and the Reading Railroads for nearly two years.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 17.—Net declines today were about the same as net gains were yesterday in the stock market. The range of prices is a little wider as there was a time during the day when they were carried a fraction above yesterday's close. The extreme decline in some of the grangers and the coalers in therefore something over a point. Sugar ruled generally above last night's close, rising at one time 1¼, and this sustained the general market for a time. Total sales were 167,400 shares.

WILKES-BARRE.

Paul Dasch, of Upper Lehigh, the newly-elected prothonotary, says it is his intention to retain J. T. L. Sahm as deputy prothonotary.

Peter Krupp, 12 years old, of Kidder street, was struck by a stove lifter at 5 p. m. Tuesday. He and some companions were playing about No. 8 hose house and creating a great noise. Michael Umbewust, who is employed as driver of the hose cart, came out and asked the boys to stop making such a noise. The boys, instead of stopping, started to call him vile names, which so angered him that he picked up a stove lifter that was lying near by and threw it at them. It struck the Krupp boy with such force that it caused concussion of the brain. Umbewust immediately surrendered himself to the police authorities. The boy is in a critical condition.

William Gebler, of Kingston, was held up on the Kingston flats Tuesday morning at 1.30 by four masked men and was robbed of $22, a gold watch and his overcoat.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday, as Abraham Davis and John McGinty, of Sugar Notch, were passing the postoffice in that town, they noticed a light in the building and the door open. Upon further investigation they saw two men behind the letter-boxes, busily engaged in ransacking the contents. The postoffice is situated on the lot and near the residence of Roddy McGuire, and when Davis and McGinty saw what was going on they determined to awaken McGuire and apprise him that the postoffice was being robbed. The burglars at this juncture emerged from the building and each shoved cocked revolvers in the amazed faces of Davis and McGinty and told them to stir at their peril. The burglars kept their two men covered with their revolvers until they effected a retreat and escaped in the direction of the Lehigh Valley railroad station. Davis and McGinty say that they did not recognize the two men and believe they were strangers in Sugar Notch. Postmaster Daniel Lewis made an examination of the postoffice this morning and found that registered letters to the value of about $15 had been stolen. Chief of Police John McGrane was notified of the robbery within a short time after its perpetration, but a diligent search failed to reveal any clue to the burglars.

A lamentable indifference to the proper care of the eyes seem to possess most people until the time comes when headaches, imperfect vision or other results of such neglect give warning that nature is rebelling against such treatment of one of the most precious gifts.
