SOCIETY WOMEN USE IT.

Mrs. Kester Haines, Prominent New York Hostess, Relieved of Insomnia by Paine's Celery Compound.

There exists among women who are much in society a form of weariness resulting from overtaxed nerves...

The overworked lives of such women make them slaves of anxieties and annoyances which they cannot ignore.

The following letter from one of New York's busiest hostesses shows how implicitly Paine's celery compound is relied on among the most intelligent...

New York City, Oct. 9, 1897. Gentlemen—I think it but fair to you that I bear testimony to the beneficial results of my use of Paine's celery compound.

Two years ago I was almost a wreck from nervous prostration, resulting from overwork, mental and physical.

After the use of three bottles I was so much better that it was unnecessary for me to continue its use.

To any one suffering from any of the ills attended upon continued loss of sleep I can and do heartily recommend it.

In all cases of nervous prostration, nervous indigestion, neuralgia, sleeplessness, hysteria or incessant headache, the objective point of a true remedy like Paine's celery compound is to make more blood, rich in iron and increase the number of red, health-giving corpuscles in the blood.

Paine's celery compound fills the vessels with red blood, drives out the dangerous humors and thus gives relief to host of aches, pains and weaknesses.

Women and men who have lost flesh and grown colorless and are subject to aches and pains, gain quickly in health from Paine's celery compound.

There is hardly a family of any size where there is not some member who is feeble, forever tired and below the standard of health to whom Paine's celery compound would prove of invaluable help.

Not only does this great invigorator drive out the best and most distressing humors accumulated because of neglected rheumatism or neuralgia, but the liberal gain in flesh and blood that is always a noticeable and encouraging result of its use, brings about better health in the digestive, assimilative and secretory organs; in other words, all over the body.

As queried above, is it because they would be companionable and not too far removed from the sphere of the average young man of the day that some young women would imitate his speech even more closely than his dress and collar? Not long ago a Scranton young man in a communicative and semi-optimistic mood was heard to remark:

"I don't know what we are coming to the other day that 'Tom pinched' her opal ring, and she meant to ask him if he'd 'bung it up.' The other girl seemed to have a comprehensive view of the situation. 'You'll get it back, I don't think. Betcher the gum Mattie had put it by this time,' she remarked succinctly. For the past fortnight the language of the stables and of the football field has been in high favor, and probably will continue in first place until the Christmas holidays, when the college man comes home with a collection of fresh samples of recent date. But what a comfort it is that many of the new girls do preserve the purity of their speech despite the pollution of English so constantly heard."

Blood Humors. Whether itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted, pimply, or blotchy, whether simple, scrofulous, or hereditary, from infancy to age, speedily cured by warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, gentle anointing with CUTICURA Ointment, the great skin cure, and mild doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures.
