STARBUCCA MAN SEES QUEER SNAKES

Notes of Interest to the Railroad Boys—A Peculiar Case That Was Appended—The Assessor Scoops One More—Actors Return From Barnstorming Trips--

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Nov. 23.—A well-to-do resident of Susquehanna, who is chief of police for his town, was the first to read matter on Sunday evening and wand red into a church. The congregation was surprised. Even the collection box was so astounded that it flew off the handle. The preacher, for his theme the closeness of cheerful giving to the poor. He told how the grim, gaunt wolf was gnawing at some doors in Susquehanna, and what a work there would be the spring for the well-to-do. The preacher's words made a profound impression upon the stronger within the gate, and he resolved then and there to begin on the morrow to be a philanthropist. As he went out into the night air he felt like a new man, and his heart seemed to enlarge. Bright and early the next morning the pious man knocked at the door of a poor widow's cabin. When she appeared he greeted her cordially and told her that he had noticed her bare struggles to earn a livelihood and desired to have her accept something from him, not so much on account of its intrinsic value, but to show his sympathy. Then he handed her an envelope and a package, bade her a very good morning and withdrew, not waiting to receive the thankful thanks of the grateful recipient. With fast-beating heart the widow tore open the envelope, and found that it contained printed directions from a famous New York cook, "How to feed a family of ten on a dollar a day." The package contained over two pounds of liver, and an account of what the widow said, and did, will appear in a future chapter.

IN SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY. The New Milford Dramatic society appeared on Thursday and Friday evenings in the drama "The Deacon." An Ararat correspondent writes to a Susquehanna paper that "wasteful and childish" are the prevailing epidemic among the small children around here, while devilishness seems to prevail among the larger ones, especially when they go to church.

The newspaper was down in Hallsdale, and a half to two dollars per large as a man's hand.

Montrose will soon vote upon the proposition to purchase a "poor farm." Messrs are numerous in several townships in a large crop of turkeys.

Nov. 23.—The accepted time to secure a ladder. There promises to be a pumpkin pie famine throughout the county this winter. The pumpkin crop was a failure.

Butter like never! The county commissioners have offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer or murderers of A. J. Pepper, of Rush township.

HE SAW STRANGE SNAKES. A well-known resident of Starbucca claims to have recently seen and fought on the Starbucca Creek, near Stevens' Point, a hitherto unknown species of snake. He says the snakes were black and in shape nearly like a cobra. They had no heads, so far as he was able to see. When they came in contact with a stick or weed went around it on both sides, and then they simply parted in the middle, went together and assumed their natural shape. The Starbucca tried to kill some of the reptiles and beat them into the ground, but in a very short time they would rise out and be as sound as ever. He tried to kill them repeatedly, but always met with the same result. He finally gave up the job in despair and hurried home. The Starbucca undoubtedly encountered a nest of hard cider measles. They are peculiar to some parts of Pennsylvania and very hard to subdue.

RAILROAD MELANGE. Work is rushing in the Erie shop, and considerable night work is being done. General Yardmaster M. S. Jordan has returned from Wurtsboro, N. Y., where he attended the funeral of a sister. It is now said that the new Erie timetable will take effect on Sunday next.

"Hub" Wood, of the Jefferson branch office, is an excellent engineer, and a good judge of horses. In his younger days he drove stage over the hills of Delaware county. He also knows something about oxmanship.

Charles D. Hammond, who has taken on the superintendency of the Fitchburg road, was years ago, manager of the telegraph office in Susquehanna. He was a success as superintendent of the Albany and Susquehanna road. He is one of the most reliable railroad officials in the county.

During the past few days the freight traffic on the Erie has increased very perceptibly.

IT WASN'T APPENDICITIS. It is reported that while seriously ill last week Jackson young man named Brown, announced the physicians of the town. The young man had been ill for some weeks, and the disease was supposed to be appendicitis. While a Scranton specialist was preparing to perform an operation, the patient paralyzed the neighborhood by selecting the remains and remnants of a frog enough from. First reports gave the weight of the frog as seventeen ounces, but authenticated reports later, reduced it to two ounces. There was some doubt among the physicians and laymen—and some who were not being the remains of a frog, but the consensus of the opinion of experts is that it was an undoubted case of frog appendicitis. The young man will recover. He may cast out other amphibious creatures and prove himself to be a human aquarian.

IN A LINE OR SO.

The funeral of Anselm Andrews, an old and prominent resident of the Oakland side, occurred on Friday afternoon.

John C. Tanner has been appointed postmaster at Harford. The board of trade on Friday evening elected the following officers: President, Charles F. Currier; vice president, O. F. Smith; secretary, William A. Skinner; treasurer, Edward Doherty.

The Grangers of Susquehanna county will meet with Lenox Grange, near Glenwood, Dec. 1. A Presbyterian church has been organized at Gulf Summit, with thirty adult members.

At Riverside, near Great Bend, a few days since, a prisoner was tried for stealing a live of bass valued at $5. The cost of the trial was $5. The ever this. Lawyers' offices are built on fools' heads.

ASSESSOR SCOOPED ONE MORE. "Go to the aunt, thou sluggard," wrote Ben Franklin or somebody else. Prior Samuel More's aunt recently died, and departing left him $10,000 in cash—Whitney. And if it had not been for your spy movements and pen, Dr. Whitney, our assessor, wouldn't have got on to the facts—Great Bend Plaindealer.

WHOLLY UNPREMEDITATED. A Susquehanna lady always loved "patent" mice most until she discovered the remains of a clear little mouse in a sample. One-half of the world doesn't know what the other half eats.

A vicinity farmer has nailed up a board on his premises, with the following legend: "Notice—Men with Guns and Dogs keep out of Here. I will Arrest all Trespassers on Persecution Yew. W. S."

Two Susquehanna farmers spent $500 in lawsuits over three ducks. The lawyers want all the farmers to keep ducks.

Scranton sanitarians have stopped boring for gold over at South Canaan. It is reported that they struck nothing except the bottom of their noses. Some of them have impaired their eyesight by looking down the long hole to see where the gold was.

Ire! The Currier of the Montrose Democrat, protests against a county bridge over Main street in Susquehanna. Who asked Bre'er's Crusier, anyhow?

They had a heavy hail storm over in Great Bend township the other day. A young citizen of that locality in describing it says that the hail moved a hickory log, three feet in diameter, some distance up a hill, and that a half-grown duck could have floated in the puddles of water on his bed. The hail was three inches deep on top of a stump in his yard, and he worked until noon next day in hall up to his knees repairing his fence that was swept away up an incline of forty-five degrees.

SHORTS. In the round-up, Susquehanna County gets a considerable quantity of good things are expected. When there is a shower of soup our basins will be found right side up.

I Susquehanna deer hunters are arriving home from the humped and budding hills of little Pike county. Venison is plentiful.

Erie freight brakemen report that their ears are filled with ham fat factors, getting back to Union square on a brief barnstorming trip out among the farmers. They discovered an early frost.

If you can't be thankful for anything else on Thursday, be thankful that you are no worse off than you are.

Whitney.
