THE MOST DISAPPOINTED MAN. It is an Awful Shock to a Theatergoes to Get What He Asks For.

From the New York Tribune, "Do you think that many people really object to sitting under the bal- McKinley is likewise to be congratucony" the reporter asked, referring lated on the appointment of a man to the recently published scheme of a who will do credit alike to the admin-theater with no seats in that distressing position. "Look inside the house there," the manager answered. "It's full of people that are glad to get a chance to stand under the balcony, to say nothing of sitting down. It simply depends on your play. If you have a good play they will crowd in and sit anywhere, and if you haven't a good play they won't come at all. "They make a great fuss about the seats where they want to sit, and the most of them want to be next to the aisle, in the fourth row, but if they ity," he was saying, "to fully apprereally want to see the play they will clate this exhilarating atmosphere. It sit anywhere I wish we could build needs some unpleasant experience as a theater with all the seats on the aisle in the fourth row, but we can't, and we have to do the best we can. A man came in here the other day and pointed to the aisle seats in the fourth row, as usual, and said he must have those two seats. The treasurer told me," the rhapsodic friend persisted. "It him they were taken. He said he must makes me forget all about this life have them or something close to them and nothing else would do. The treas-urer told him he had none to sell close "As fi

"'Nothing but the back row,' said the treasurer. "In the end he bought two seats in the back row upstairs, after declaring that he couldn't sit anywhere but in the fourth row of the orchestra. Another man came out the other night, threw down two coupons and said: 'Se here: I want those seats changed; they are behind a post.

"I happened to be standing behind the treasurer and I said: 'Give him back his money; we have no other seats in the house, but we can sell these over again easily enough.' As soon as he found that there was nothing else to be had he was perfectly content.

But the most disappointed man in the world is the one who gets what he asks for. If he asks for the fourth row and you give it to him, he instantly finds that he doesn't want it. If he finds that he can get the seats that he wants, he is at once convinced that there must be something wrong with the play, and he feels that he has made a mistake and wishes that he had gone to some other theater."

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID Robert P. Porter's Estimate of James INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES. T. DuBois of Susquehanna County.

Robert P. Porter, in his New York makes the following reference to the custom to make much public commotion over the occasional appointments which are not so good, the many ex-ceedingly satisfactory ones are heard of but little. This thought is suggested by the fact that we have seen little in relation to the appointment of that apable Pennsylvanian, Mr. James T.

DuBois, as consul-general to St. Gaul, Switzerland. Mr. DuBois started in the diplomatic service of the country eighteen, perhaps twenty years ago, for I recall crossing the Atlantic with him in the Britannic, seventeen years ago this very month, and he had then been in the service some years, and had been promoted from a minor post-tion to the consulate at Aachen, or Aix-la-Chapelle, as the French still call it. Mr. DuBols has been one of our most canable officers, speaks German and French fluently, and conscientiously performs his public duties as they should be without any consider ation save that of representing faithfully the importance and dignity of the United States abroad, Mr. DuBois is a man of fortune, and I sometimes think if he had not been so well-to-do, he would have made his mark in the thoughtful student of public affairs. Meeting an old friend of Mr. DuBois, formerly a resident of Pennsylvania, a few days ago in one of the New York clubs, he said: 'I have always wondered why James T. DuBols did not accept the nomination for congress in his district, and make for himself an active career in that direction, instead of in the state department. He is eminently fitted for congressional work.

Few men would have more influence in smoothing over the asperities of com-mittee life, to say nothing of the presentation of important subjects which needed fair treatment on the floor of the house.' Mr. DuBois sailed today on that greatest of German steamers, the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, with his wife and two sons. They will spend a short time in Paris, and then proceed to Switzerland. His numerous friends, both in Pennsylvania and Washington, will wish him every success and happiness in his new office, and President

FAST TRAINS ARE SAFEST.

From the St, Nicholas Magazine. When the Empire State Express the Congressional Limited rushes across the country at the rate of seventy miles an hour, making mile-posts celing of oppression and heaviness in and trees skip by in fantastic disorder the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and troubled by a question that continually arises at every sharp sway or jolt of the cars: "Is there not danger in such rapid traveling?"

In his seat forward the engineer would reply grimly to this question with a negative shake of the head, and the general superintendent of the road or the train dispatcher, in his restion and to insure the prompt as-similation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals, of some safe, pleasschool and college, the faster a moving body swings along a certain course, the more difficult it is to swerve it from its path, and the more terrible is the collision if it should strike an ob-

Why then, is not rapid running more dangerous than slow? "Because the engines used for this service are larger, better equipped, and better cared for than any others," the engineer would reply. "They are provided with every modern device to prevent accident; and though they fairly fly along the track, they are never beyond our inimediate control. And then—we're more wide awake and alert for danger."

"The danger is less for the reason the tracks for the expresses. They are anteed. special favorites, and we give extra careful attention to them."
