P. J. Devine Seeks the Aldermanic

Chair of the Second Ward. F. Devine, Democratic common councilman, will today send to the voters of the Second ward the subjoined announcement, which explains

Carbondale, Pa., Dec. 4, 1897. Dear Sir: I take this method of in-forming you that I am a candidate for election to the office of alderman of the Becond ward of this city, and most re-spectfully solicit your cordial support in my behalf. During my term of council-man I have endeavored to perform the duties of the office faithfully and impartially; and should the voters of the Sec-ond ward honor me with the office of al-derman, I will strive to conduct the affairs of the office in a business-like man-

Thanking you for the courtesies you have shown me, and trusting that the kindly relations may be continued for all time, believe me, yours truly, P. P. Devine.

Mr. Devine, during the ardent championing of his constituents' rights, was the spinal column of the movement for a bridge at Seventh avenue, over the Delaware and Hudson steam and grav-ity roads, to connect the West Side more closely to the central city. While the measure which he introduced into the common council for the work was finally defeated, he fought a game fight and those interested in the pro-ject appreciated his effort.

CAST OFF THE COIL.

Mrs. Mary Heenan, of Spencer street cast off her mortal coil Thursday night Deceased was born in Ireland sixty years ago. Her maiden name was Mc-Thirty-five years ago she married Bernard Heenan and they commenced life's voyage by crossing the Atlantic. They resided in Luzerne until eleven years ago, at which time they took up their residence in Carbondale. Mr. Heenan has been dead two years, Mrs. Heenan is survived by daughters, Mesdames William Ward, James McNulty and Hugh Brennan; Miss Margaret, and two sons, James and John. MR. MURPHY RESIGNS.

"Matthew Murphy, who for several years has been one of the most efficthe repertorial staff of the Herald, will on Saturday sever his connection with that sheet to accept a more lucrative position in the office of C. R. Munn. Mr. Murnby has been an intelligent and indefatigable worker and to all who know him it goes without saying that his success in the journalistic field will be continued in his new position. He is a young man who is thoroughly reliable in every respect. and has a legion of friends who will extend congratulations on his new position. The members of his present profession, will, however, be sorry to part with him, as his genial disposition made him a favorite with the craft." -Leader, Mr. Murphy has all the good qualities mentioned and more.

HEART TISSUE IN HER HEAD.

Rhoda Lewis, aged 16 years, of No. 159 Belmont street, is suffering a very unusual affliction. Last week she was supposed to have suffered a stroke of apoplexy. Drs. Malaun and A. REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

The success of The Tribune canvassers in this city has been remarkable. Scores of new subscribers have been put on and complimentary remarks for the paper are heard on all sides. Why, it was even noticed that yesterday's Leader clipped four paragraphs of Tribune editorial on election contests and credited only half of one. It only shows that merit permeates every department of The Tribune and that the Leader knows a good thing when it sees it. Get your name on the list.

NEW OFFICERS.

The Ladies' Catholic Benevolent soclety, one of the most potent forces for good in the city, has elected new officers as follows: President, Alida Neaion; first vice-president, Margaret Carroll; second vice-president, Ella Dunlavey; recording secretary, Margaret Kelly; assistant recording secretary, Bridget McAndrew: financial secrelary, Bridget Kilhullen; treasurer, Margaret Morrison; marshal, Julia Kilhullen; guard, Mrs. J. INDUSTRIAL JOTTINGS.

The Lawrence breaker at Duryea has been abandoned and hereafter the coal mined at that colliery will be prepared for market at the William A. colliery, a short distance away.

An order has been issued by the Central Railroad of New Jersey retiring from service engineers over 50 years of age. When an engineer reaches that period in life he will be transferred to some other position.

Following is the route of the proposed new railroad between Williamsport and Scranton, It crosses the Susquehanna river at La Grange, Wyoming county, and passes Lake Winola, following the take until the hotel is reached. It then runs between the main road and the cot tages, and goes through the woods be-yord the take into Mill City. Clark's Summit is also passed and the road comes into this city through Legett's Gap above

An ordinary passenger car on a steam railroad costs from $4,000 to $5,500 and weighs 38,000 pounds or nineteen tons. A mail car, which costs from $2,000 to $2,500 and is shorter by about one-quarter than the ordinary passenger coach, weighs 22,000 pounds of sixteen tons. A baggage car, without the baggage in it weighs 28,000 rounds of fourteen tons and costs about as much as a mail car. A sleeping car is more expensive than any of the others and it weighs a good deal, more. A plain, simple, but durable sleeping car costs anywhere from $2,000 to $10,000, and an ornate, elaborate tuxurious sleeping car with observation attachment, literary annex and culinary department costs anywhere from $10,000 to $20,000. The average weight of a sleeping car is from 40,000 to 44,000 pounds, or from twenty to twenty-two tons.

Reports from New England manufacoring centers indicate that the industrial revival which began early in the year is steadily progressing. In many places old factories are being taken by manufacturers who have confidence in the future. A number of new factories are being erected in the mill towns, and several places report the outlook more promising that it has been for years.

The cutting out of the Radebaugh tunnel on the Penusylvania was complete last week. In its construction 4,000,000 brick were required, and 250 men have been employed on the work since July 1 arch ing the tunnel. Every brick used was subjected to a chemical analysis and hydraulic pressure. The tunnel is con structed for a double track. The cuts ap-proaching the tunnel are wide enough to admit of laying four tracks, and it is probable that in the not distant future another tunnel will be cut, connecting the tracks which are laid in the cuts ap proaching the tunnel.
