THE POLITICAL SHUFFLE.

Aspirants for School and Poor Board

Offices Coming to the Front. The exclusive political news given last week in The Tribune is stirring up the noble game in this city. Aspirants are already making a shuffle for posttions that will turn them trumps. After leading with a half column of The Tribune's information, the esteemed Herald of Saturday printed the following strictly up-to-date intelligence "In the Third and Fourth wards there will be a school director elected to succeed P. F. Coogan, the present efficient secretary of the board, Mr. Richard Kilpatrick has already announced his candidacy in the Herald

"Mr. Kilpatrick, it is known, has been an aspirant for the office for some time. a property owner in the Third ward, of which he has been a resident for many years. He enjoys the respect of his fellow-citizens and is in every way qualified to make an excellent director. No other candidate has as yet announced himself in that district, and it will not be surprising if Mr. Kilpatrick is the unanimous choice of the two wards. It is as yet, however, very early to make predictions.

In the upper wards a school director will be chosen to succeed J. M. Alexander. Mr. Alexander has been on the board for twelve years and wants to retire. Whether or not his constituents will permit him is a question. Mr. J. Vandermark, who was an unsuccessful candidate last year, may try again this year, but he has not as yet announced his candidacy.

"M. F. Gilmartin's term on the poor board expires this year. Mr. Gilmartin will be a candidate for re-election. William Passmore, of the Fourth district, who was defeated for alderman last year, will be a candidate for poor di-rector against Mr. Gilmartin."

DIED OF DIPHTHERIA.

Raymond L., the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bate, of No. 74 Cemetery street, died of diphtheria at 6 o'clock Saturday night. This is the second bright child Mr. and Mrs. Bate have lost within a week, their little daughter. Mary Lenore, baving succumbed to the dreaded malady on November 26. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of many friends in their terrible affliction. The funeral was private. Interment was made in Maplewood cemetery yesterday.
