SCHOOL DEPOSITS A SUCCESS.

Idea Put Into Practice Monday in No. 19 School.

The "small deposit" idea which was recently introduced among the pupils attending No. 19 school by the principal, Miss Josie Lee, an account of which appeared exclusively in "The Tribune" recently, was fully launched on Monday and was attended with gratifying success.

The attendance at No. 19 is about 500 pupils and over one-fifth of that number made a deposit. The order of depositors was from one pupil in the primary department to 21 pupils out of 42 in the principal's room. The amounts handed in ranged from one cent to one dollar. Yesterday the sum of $12.92 was deposited in the West Side bank and two pupils who deposited $1 each have received their deposit books. As much of the other depositors reach the $1 mark in their savings they will be given a book.

Already great eagerness is displayed among the pupils to be the proud possessors of a "bank book." The idea of the value of money, the principle of thrift, and the knowledge of business affairs in a small way are instilled into the child's mind by this simple method. Miss Lee and her assistants are greatly pleased by the quick appreciation and understanding of their intentions by the parents of the pupils, and think that in a short time all the pupils will be depositors. Every Monday the deposits are received and daily credited, both at the school and bank, to each little maid and master who sees fit to little prepare for a rainy day. Who can say but that some day, some pupil may thus be enabled to obtain a college education, which might otherwise be an impossibility, by thus taking care of the trifles, or following the axiom that "little drops of water make the mighty ocean, etc."

ACCIDENT WHILE HUNTING.

Three Boys Had an Experience on the West Mountain.

Three boys, whose ages range from 14 to 19 years, three guns, one dog and one rabbit form the cast of characters of what might have been a tragedy, but was only a serio-comic with a back ground of woodland. The scene was staged on the West Mountain, and the time was 10:30 Monday morning.

Edward and James Reese and John Phillips went on a hunting trip and succeeded in starting a rabbit, which filled the breast of Phillips with excitement. He was armed with a .40-caliber rifle, a fortunate circumstance for James Reese, who caught a glimpse of the rabbit and started after it. James ran toward him and they came together, John's gun went off and James yelled with pain. The ball, which was a small one, entered the injured lad's right thumb and imbedded itself in the bone. He had, for some reason or other, thrust his hand into his shirt, and the bullet, which would have entered his body near the pit of the stomach with probably fatal results, was fast in this thumb.

The boys returned home and Dr. M. J. Williams dressed the wound, after extracting the bullet. The Reese boys are sons of Philip Reese, of 1208
