

Lackawanna County.

CARBONDALE.

[The Carbondale correspondence of The Tribune has been placed in the hands of Mr. C. R. Minn, Salem avenue and Church street, to whom news items may be addressed and also complaints of irregular delivery.]

GLORY FOR WAGENHURST.

Otto Wins Laurels as a Coach in Iowa. Otto F. Wagenhurst, the famous quarterback of the University of Pennsylvania foot ball team, when it was the greatest on earth--has covered himself with gold and glory by coaching a team which he led to the championship of Iowa. Mr. Wagenhurst spent last summer in this city, surveying on the Patterson residence tract. During the early fall he devoted the local gridiron devotees some valuable instruction, but he was soon called away to more lucrative fields.

It seems that he landed in Iowa and I have at hand a copy of the Iowa City Republican, which devotes a column and a quarter to the surprise the eleven gave him at the close of the season, when he was made the recipient of a handsome gold watch, while attending a taffy pull.

In this connection the Omaha Bee says: "The admirable manner in which Iowa came up to the front in foot ball during the latter part of the season was the most striking event in western foot ball circles, and reflects the greatest credit on Otto F. Wagenhurst, coach of the eleven. The game Iowa put up against Nebraska, Thursday, would have delighted the majority of teams west of the Allegheny mountains. Her defense was superb and was shown in grand style a half-dozen times within less than a dozen yards from its own goal."

"This was due to no weakness on the part of Nebraska, but solely to the magnificent defensive work of the Iowa team. All lovers of good, clean, foot ball sincerely hope that Otto F. Wagenhurst will return to Iowa next season to coach the University team. He has done more to help foot ball in Iowa, than any coach who has previously taught the young men how the game should be played. He has made friends of the players, by his conduct. He has led men, not driven them. He has made friends for the team and converted enemies of the game into its devotees. He has not unduly bragged about the superiority of the players in his charge. He has allowed the work done to speak for itself."

"Mr. Wagenhurst" home is in Gouldsboro, a small place a short distance southeast of Scranton.

NEW HOSPITAL FOR CARBONDALE.

Physicians to Form a Stock Company and Establish One. Carbondale is to have another hospital. This information was given out last evening for the first time. A number of prominent physicians contemplated forming a stock company for the purpose of establishing a strictly first-class institution. Among those interested are: Drs. H. C. Wheeler, A. F. Gibbs, D. L. Bailey, S. S. Shields and J. J. Thompson of this city; McGillicuddy, Vandling and Reed Burns of Scranton. A charter will soon be applied for. The preliminaries are already well under way. Options for the rental of some properties and the purchase of others, centrally located, have been obtained. Among the buildings favorably looked upon for a location is the new three-story brick of Dr. Gibbs, on Park Place.

The hospital will be thoroughly equipped with the most modern conveniences of the surgical science, so that every advantage of a metropolitan institution can be given patients. It is proposed to have a maternity ward and to establish a training school for nurses.

SEEKS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Proposes to Have the Nuptial Knot Untied. Many friends in this city will learn with great surprise, the determination of Mrs. Minnie Lee, wife of Saunders Lee, to have their nuptial knot untied. Mr. and Mrs. Lee formerly resided on Washington street in this city. Mr. Lee was in the sewing machine business and prosperous. Their home was furnished far better than the average and was apparently one of the happiest in town. Some time ago they moved to Forest City and erected a home of their own near good business. Mr. Lee went extensively into bee culture, but even the honey business did not avail in preserving the sweetness of their wedded life.

Finally the fair one left his bed and board and returned to her home in the vicinity of Wilkes-Barre, and now at Luzerne's central office seeks legal separation on the ground of incompatibility, as near as can be learned. It is understood Mr. Lee will not interrupt his wife in her proceedings.

SOCIETY ELECTIONS.

The Young Men's Institute will elect the following non-residents to office at their next meeting: President, J. P. Collins; first vice president, J. F. Boland; second vice president, Anthony Padden; recording secretary, M. P. McDonald; financial secretary, J. A. Purke; treasurer, J. A. Collins; marshal, W. Collins; outside sentinel, M. F. Heagy; inside sentinel, M. F. Howard; excor-

How a person can gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion is hard to explain, but it certainly happens.

It seems to start the digestive machinery working properly. You obtain a greater benefit from your food.

The oil being predigested, and combined with the hypophosphites, makes a food tonic of wonderful flesh-forming power.

All physicians know this to be a fact.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

ive committee, P. A. Horan, J. F. Hart and J. J. Mannion. The Odd Fellows' hall association have elected the following officers to serve during the coming year: President, Christopher Schultz; vice president, Frank Ludwig; secretary, A. O. Piddam; treasurer, Isaac Singer; trustees, Frank Colville, John Masters, Harry T. Hall.

OBITUARY.

Miss Mary Murphy, of Spring street, who died Tuesday morning, is survived by her mother, Mrs. Celia Murphy; six sisters, Margaret, Tillie, Ella, Anna, Elizabeth and Rose, and one brother, Matthew Murphy, of the Herald. Deceased was 28 years old, of kind and loving disposition and a devout Christian, being a member of St. Rose of Lima church. A requiem high mass will be celebrated over the remains Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Miss Harriet Walker died at the Park street home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hart yesterday at the advanced age of 85 years. She was born in England and had resided in this city twelve years. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the house. Interment will be made in Brookside cemetery.

TO OPEN NIGHT SCHOOL.

At the regular meeting of the school board Monday night it was decided to open night school in the Belmont building. One teacher will be employed and English branches will be taught. The transient officer's salary was fixed at $20 a month. A number of bills were ordered paid.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Miss Giva Dow, who has been visiting here for two weeks past, will return to her home in Mexico today. Miss Catherine Gardner, of Clifford, called on friends in this city yesterday.

F. P. Duncles, of Coxton, formerly a resident here, is visiting friends in this city. Mrs. J. W. Dimock is ill. Miss Grace Tallman is entertaining her brother of North Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Targart, of Ninesville, are visiting relatives in this city. Mrs. H. M. Rounds, of Reynoldsburg, is ill. Contractor Wilcox yesterday moved his family from Concord avenue to No. 41 Belmont street.

JERMYN NEWS.

Important Meeting of the School Board--Requests for New Books Received. Miss Lizzie Collins spent Sunday in Scranton. Misses Clara Davis, Mendane Rymer, Josephine Davis, Messrs. Dr. W. J. Baker and William Osborne, spent last evening the guest of C. A. Battenberg at Archbald.

School board met in regular session last evening with the following directors present, Messrs. Sullivan, Baker, Williams, Blake, Henwood, Mulhern and Shields. Mr. Mulhern was appointed secretary pro tem. In the absence of the secretary, Mr. James Nicholson, the minutes of the previous meeting were read. The following bills were read and ordered paid: J. M. Shorwood, $41.90; Thomas Rich, $12.75. Mr. William Sullivan, Michael Mulhern and James Shields visited the different rooms and found everything in good working order. Messrs. Henwood and Baker were appointed to visit the schools the coming month. It was decided to close school on December 27 for the Christmas vacation, opening again on January 5. Professor Rogers made a report in which he stated the number of books required by the different teachers. He claimed the primary geographies were too difficult for the scholars and requested, if the books were needed, that he might confer with the teachers and select an appropriate geography. The different books will be purchased. He requested that the studies of physical geography and botany be adopted, the same being in the regular course of study. By motion 25 each of physical geographies and botany text-books will be purchased. Prof. Rogers stated that four children from Mayfield were in attendance at this school and ten from Archbald borrowed in day school and two at night. Mr. George McLaughlin asked that two studies, history and grammar, be dropped from his son's studies. The request was granted. An agent selling all-night weather strips was present, and demonstrated the value of same above all others. He said that the strips would positively prevent all cold air from driving through, and further stated that in the use of the strips enough would be saved in one strip of fuel to pay for the strip in one season. It was decided to lay the matter over until complaints were made of draughts.

WAVERTY.

Mrs. Grace Gearty has returned from a week's stay with friends at Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. Henry Foster is confined to the home with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. A. D. Reih, of New York city, is visiting her sisters-in-law, Miss P. D. Reih and Mrs. C. E. Mahoney, of Lewis & Sherman, dealers in general merchandise, having dissolved partnership, Mr. Sherman retiring. The firm hereafter will be A. B. Cowles & Co.

Miss Hattie Palmer, of Scranton, was a visitor here last Saturday.

The Reading Circle of the Methodist church will meet at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Stone tonight.

The friends of Rev. J. B. Sumner, of the Methodist Episcopal church, will make him a donation visit at the parsonage tomorrow evening.

CLARK'S GREEN.

William A. Halstead, of West Lenox, called on his many friends last week. Miss Clara Covey, who spent several days with friends in Scranton, returned home on Saturday.

The Y. L. H. B. society held their kindle social at the home of Mrs. S. E. Wells last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Loder spent Sabbath with friends in Scranton.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year to preside over the Methodist Sunday school: J. A. Rymer, superintendent; W. S. Frace, assistant superintendent; Mrs. J. A. Rymer, secretary; Miss Grace A. Davis, assistant secretary; W. S. Frace, treasurer; Miss Helen Harlan, librarian; Mrs. E. J. Chapman, organist.

Mrs. J. B. Austin spent Monday with friends in Scranton.

The annual donation will be tendered the Rev. J. B. Sumner, pastor of The Clark's Green Cemetery association are somewhat perplexed at the seeming disposition of pedestrians to travel over the plots. The Methodist church of this place, in the church parlors on Wednesday evening, the 15th inst. The installation of officers of the May Griffin lodge of Rebecca, L. O. O. F., on Thursday evening of this week is to be observed in a more than ordinary manner and many visitors are expected. The following officers are to be installed: Mrs. E. A. Myers, N. G.; Mrs. J. W. Rhodes, V. G.; Miss Frances Northrup, secretary; Mr. F. H. Greene, assistant secretary; Miss Nellie Tates, treasurer.

Christmas is to be observed in an appropriate manner by both the Baptist and Methodist Sunday schools. The date will be named later.

Miss M. E. Bevan returned home on Monday last from an extended visit among friends in Scranton.

TAYLOR.

A representative of the Pennsylvania Dodge and Gilchrist company, of Philadelphia, was in town Monday and interviewed several members of the board of trade and borough council in regard to lighting our streets. In a few weeks he will send one of their lamps for exhibition.

Knights of Pythias, No. 462, will meet this evening in Reese's hall. The Ladies' Aid of the Welsh Congregational church will conduct their regular pay night social this week. Cake and coffee will be served.

Master Harry Taylor, of West Pittston, is visiting relatives in town. Thomas Elias is seriously ill at his home on North Taylor street.

Master Warren Francis, of Wyoming, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, sr., on Grove street.

Mrs. David J. Griffiths and children are spending the week with relatives in Ashland and Mt. Carmel, Schuylkill county.

Mrs. R. J. Bauer, of Scranton, was the guest of Mrs. J. B. Daniels, of Main street, yesterday.

John Harrington, employed as a laborer in Taylor mines, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon by the falling of roof.

John Olerdorfer, traveling salesman for the firm of Austin company, of Pittston, circulated among our merchants in this town yesterday.

Miss Janet Inglis, principal of No. 2 school of North Taylor, is confined to her home with sickness.

The Taylor Choral union will hold a rehearsal tomorrow evening. Every member is urgently requested to be present.

Burglars have once more made a visit to the Archbald. At an early hour yesterday morning some miscellaneous persons entered the store of Christ James, of that place, and ransacked the store from one end to the other.

PECKVILLE.

Willie Reese, who has been suffering from diphtheria, has entirely recovered.

Our register of voters, W. J. Bohner, is making his usual canvass. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Peircé are making preparations to go to housekeeping in the house recently vacated by James Kay on Prospect street.

Patrick Cawley, a company hand employed at the inside department of the Sterrick Creek Coal company's shaft, was quite severely hurt yesterday afternoon by being caught by mining cars. He was conveyed to his home and Dr. E. L. Peet was called and attended to his injuries.

Mrs. Horace Menner is visiting relatives at Archbald.

Mrs. W. P. Bond, of Beach Lake, and Mrs. George Bond, of Honedale, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Budd.

Miss Belle Wallace is quite sick of throat trouble.

William Mason, of Martha Washington chapter, of Hyde Park, visited the members of Pride of Orient chapter last evening.

Pride of Orient chapter, No. 7, of the Eastern Star, elected and installed the following officers last evening for the coming year: Matron, Mrs. Nellie Taylor; patron, Frank L. Taylor; associate matron, Mrs. Phoebe Grover; conductress, Mrs. Eliza Rogers; associate conductress, Miss Grace Barber; treasurer, Mrs. Etta Kinbarck; secretary, Conrad J. Gamsanuller; warden, Miss Hannah Coates; ruth, Mrs. Annie Cowans; Esther, Mrs. Mary Broad; Martha, Miss Bertha Peck; Adah, Mrs. Martha Bartlett; Rita, Miss Sophie Simpinka; chaplain, Mrs. May Sumpkins; sentinel, Bert Gibson. The installation ceremony was performed by Past Patron John D. Peck, assisted by Brother Edwin H. Ritter, acting as grand marshal.

THE WHEAT STATES.

Those That Will Reap Benefits From Dollar Wheat. Statisticians have been estimating at $200,000,000 the increased revenue to American farmers from the enhanced price of wheat. This cereal last crossed the dollar line in 1891, and since then the grade of prices has been between 48 and 94 cents, the difference being represented to some extent, of course, by the various grades of wheat. An estimate which was put forth a year ago by a government authority gave the value of the wheat crop of the United States last year as $250,000,000, and when the facts is taken into consideration that many of the farmers sold their product at a price before the increased prices became current, and that No. 2 wheat was sold last year for 94 cents, it is extremely doubtful whether the gain to the farmers, over what they received for their wheat last year, compared with what they are receiving this year, is more than $100,000,000; but such as the gain is, be it $100,000,000 or $200,000,000, it comes most opportunely to the farmers of the United States.

Wheat is one of the big crops of the United States, and has bounded ahead with great rapidity as the agricultural interest of the United States have developed. In 1850 there was a wheat crop of 100,000,000 bushels, in 1860 a crop of 125,000,000 bushels, in 1870 one of 230,000,000 bushels, in 1880 one of 450,000,000 bushels, and in 1891 one of 619,000,000 bushels. About 460,000,000 is the average crop, and the United States produces, in ordinary years, about one-fifth of the wheat grown of the world. It stands at the head of all countries in respect of wheat products. France and Russia being second and third, and India fourth, until the recent famine in that country, following the plague, reduced the available supply for home consumption and prevented the exportation of wheat in large amounts. Hungary, in which the crop is not very good this year, is the fifth of wheat-producing countries of the world, the rest of others being by comparison insignificant, at least for export purposes.

In the United States the wheat states are those of the Northwest, and first among them, in an ordinary year, with an average product of 65,000,000 bushels, is Minnesota. Then comes North Dakota, adjacent, with a product of 60,000,000, and South Dakota with 30,000,000. The average of Kansas is about 25,000,000, and of Nebraska, 16,000,000. These are the group of wheat states, but they are not the only ones. California producing in ordinary years wheat to the amount of 40,000,000 bushels, and Ohio having an average crop of 25,000,000, Wisconsin, which adjoins Minnesota, produces, relatively very little wheat, but Michigan has, when the farming conditions are good, a large yield. Oregon has been increasing its wheat acreage considerably. Among the wheat states of the East, Pennsylvania stands first, with an average of 20,000,000 bushels, Maryland following with 8,000,000, and New York with 7,000,000. There is comparatively little wheat raised in New England, and scarcely any in the Gulf States. Missouri is a large wheat-growing state, especially in Indiana, Illinois, but Arkansas, south of it, yields very little wheat.

are those of the Northwest, and first among them, in an ordinary year, with an average product of 65,000,000 bushels, is Minnesota. Then comes North Dakota, adjacent, with a product of 60,000,000, and South Dakota with 30,000,000. The average of Kansas is about 25,000,000, and of Nebraska, 16,000,000. These are the group of wheat states, but they are not the only ones. California producing in ordinary years wheat to the amount of 40,000,000 bushels, and Ohio having an average crop of 25,000,000, Wisconsin, which adjoins Minnesota, produces, relatively very little wheat, but Michigan has, when the farming conditions are good, a large yield. Oregon has been increasing its wheat acreage considerably. Among the wheat states of the East, Pennsylvania stands first, with an average of 20,000,000 bushels, Maryland following with 8,000,000, and New York with 7,000,000. There is comparatively little wheat raised in New England, and scarcely any in the Gulf States. Missouri is a large wheat-growing state, especially in Indiana, Illinois, but Arkansas, south of it, yields very little wheat.

From the Indianapolis Journal. Last week a divine from Chicago lectured before the Congregational church. He had about him a breezy delivery, reminiscent of the Windy City. What the subject of his lecture was is not to the point, but it was long drawn out, and he became conscious of the fact, and said that an audience might have too much of a good thing, especially if it was a bad thing. He had a pair of ready-made trousers that were six inches too long. He did not discover this until he had taken them home and put them on. He was sitting at the table, and he was about to go to prayer meeting. "I'm no tailor," he said, with a toss of his head, "I'm a minister. I know nothing about shortening trousers." That man's sister and mother overheard the conversation, and in their hearts they were saying: "John's wife don't treat him right," said the mother while his sister was in the parlor entertaining a caller. "I'll just tell her how to treat that fellow. I'll cut off six inches from the legs, and when they come from the store, intending that he should have a pleasant surprise the next morning."

After the sister's caller was gone she got to thinking of John's ungrateful wife. "Poor fellow," said she, "I must fix those trousers for him." She likewise cut off six inches, and then rolled them up again as neatly as when they came out of the store.

Now, it happened that Mrs. John was touched at the prayer meeting, and on her way home got to thinking what a good husband Mr. John was, how thoughtful he had always been, and how he had often sacrificed his own pleasure and comfort for hers, and her heart was smitten with remorse.

"I will not sleep this night," said she, "until I have fixed the dear fellow's trousers."

Once again the shears were applied, and six inches more were cut away from the bottom of the legs.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

John's dismay was great in the morning when he put the trousers on again, expecting to roll them up London fashion at the bottom.

Around the corner he lit his cigar. Mrs. Wisely had some animated gossip with a neighbor. And yet the children seem to thrive.

A Cheering Companion. From the Detroit Free Press. "What a small thing will keep a man from insanity when in solitary confinement," said a prison warden recently. "I read the case of a prisoner who somehow in solitary confinement had managed to keep his silver watch secreted on his person. For a time he kept up very well, and, as his crime was a terrible one, he did not feel like releasing him, but one day he became violent and crazy, and we finally decided to remove him to the hospital. In his cell we found the watch, with the missing bracelet."

It seems that as long as the watch continued to tick in his ear at night he felt as if he had a companion and his dark cell did not seem so solitary. He caressed the watch fondly, talked to it and it talked to him. Hour after hour it spoke and he was enabled to endure the terrible loneliness, with this cheering and gossiping companion. He told me afterward that he put words to that ticking and that the watch seemed almost like a thing of life.

"But one night something snapped and his voice ceased. He would sit up anxiously and still it was silent. It was like the death of something beloved, the passing away of the dearest thing on earth. Before it had been animated and full of life, with a tongue that wagged and wagged. Now it was a bit of dead, lifeless metal. The long hours of the night weighed upon him. He seemed to see strange visions. His loneliness was frightful. And then--the next morning they found him raving crazy."

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never show it, I'm Love's insolvent, and all men may know it. Dearest, in love alone I'll bankrupt prove, And ever owe thee fealty and love. --Pall Mall Gazette.

LOVE'S INSOLVENT. Two things the gods in heaven may not undo-- The past of all men and my love of you. Count each glad day that's over a thousand pained ones; How deep in debt, sweet creditor, I'm found! Then take my bill of love and write me-- I am thy debtor for as many more. And tho' this bill you keep and never