DIXEY AS A MAGICIAN. Pleas'd a Rather Small Audience at the Lyceum.

Henry E. Dixey made his first appearance in the city as a magician at the Lyceum last night. He gave an entertainment that greatly pleased the rather small audience present. Mr. Dixey is a very recent addition to the ranks of magicians, and lacks the finesse and deftness of Keller or the late Hermann, but he is entertaining in Dixey's own inimitable way and there are few dull moments while he is on the stage.

He has several illusions that are new and very cleverly done. The best were the trunk mystery and the substitution of a lion for a lady. One of the features of the performance is "Twenty Minutes With Adonis Dixey," during which he appeared as the stage-struck girl from "Adonis," the old gentleman in the "Seven Ages," and in his famous impersonation of Henry Irving. Dixey's slight-of-hand work was well done.

TEACHERS' CHRISTMAS MONEY. Night School Teachers May Not Be Paid Until After Dec. 27.

MINER HAD HIS NECK BROKEN

Result of a Fall of Rock in the Briggs Mine, West Scranton.

JOHN O'MALLEY THE VICTIM

He Was Well Known in the Vicinity Where He Resided and Was Prominently Mentioned for the Democratic Nomination for Common Council in the Fourth Ward at the Coming Spring Election--Born in New Milford 35 Years Ago.

John O'Malley, a miner, residing at 2106 Jackson street, was instantly killed in Briggs mine about 10.15 yesterday morning by a fall of rock. He was engaged at his duties in the mine, and was proceeding to the "face" of his chamber, having just fired a blast. Just as he reached the face, the fall occurred, striking him upon the neck and shoulders. His laborer, Bernard McNulty, was but a few inches in the rear, and escaped injury. He gave the alarm and willing hands quickly removed the injured man from the fallen mass, but life had already fled. The remains were removed to the residence of his mother, where he lived with his children. His wife died about six years ago. His mother, one brother, Matthew O'Malley, and five children, Lucy, Edward, Stella, Kate and Walter, survive him.

Mr. O'Malley was spoken of as the Democratic candidate for common councilman in the Fourth ward at the spring election. In fact, arrangements were well under way for making a ticket with Douglas Ward, as candidate for select council.

INTERESTING TALK ABOUT ARTISTS.

Given by Mrs. Elizabeth Morse in Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morse spoke in the interests of the American Art League at the Young Women's Christian association in a well-attended audience yesterday afternoon. Her subject was "Modern American Artists" and she gave an interesting review of the more prominent men and their work. She dismissed briefly the early painters, West, Stuart, Trumbull, Copley, and Allston, whom she termed the ghosts of the past and at once passed on to the rise of American art in 1858. She spoke of the ill-effect of the Düsseldorf school and noted the marked originality of the artists who left it for the Italian and French, emerging independent and with genius untrammeled. Eastman, Johnson, Huntington, and the Morans were named first in the list of the great artists of these times. Peter and Thomas in landscape, Leon and Percy in portraiture were especially mentioned, as was also the work of Thomas Moran in depicting the grandeur of the Yosemite region. Leon Moran's famous picture, "The Mount-Antelope" and "Coming to Church through Old New York" were named as among his best.

William H. Hunt was mentioned as the first to go to Paris where he studied under Couture. Later the effect of the Barbizon school did not destroy his individuality so instinct with spiritual character.

Francis, Gifford, Wyant and Homer were next mentioned, the speaker making the bold statement that Inness was not only the greatest landscape painter of modern times, but of all times. Winslow Homer was given some space in the lecture and Alexander Harrison was named as one of the three great marine artists of the world. Charles Curran's beautiful work received special attention, and John La Forge and his wonderful stained glass art. William Chase and his splendid portrait work, Sherman and several others were briefly mentioned. Garry, Melchers, Dana, the idol of the impressionists, whose famous picture, "The Quartette," in the New York Metropolitan museum attracts so much attention, and Whistler with his vagaries were given prominent places in the discourse. Sargent's great portrait of Ellen Terry as Lady Macbeth, his "Carnegie" and the "Spanish Dancer," together with his noble work in the Boston library, were cited as fitting examples of his art. A beautiful tribute was paid to Thomas Boyenden, the martyr artist of Pennsylvania. It is probable that a series of subscription lectures will follow this first address.

CRUSADE AGAINST BEGGARS.

Notice to the Public by Board of Associated Charities.

After last night's meeting of the Board of Associated Charities the following notice was given out for publication: The public are warned that many tramps and cripples, or pretending cripples, are one of the three great marine artists of the world. Charles Curran's beautiful work received special attention, and John La Forge and his wonderful stained glass art. William Chase and his splendid portrait work, Sherman and several others were briefly mentioned. Garry, Melchers, Dana, the idol of the impressionists, whose famous picture, "The Quartette," in the New York Metropolitan museum attracts so much attention, and Whistler with his vagaries were given prominent places in the discourse.

The class of beggars at present in this city are making an especial hobby of crutches and able-bodied men go about as cripples. Many of the worthless mendicants are prodigies of Wilkes-Barre.

The board now decides to strike at the root of the evil—the public itself. It is pointed out that if there were no responses to petitions there would be no beggars. It was decided by the board not to change the night of meeting. The annual election will take place in January.

The report of Mrs. W. B. Duggan, agent for the board, included a mention of Mrs. Duggan's first arrest, that of William Walton, the wife deserter, as told in Saturday's Tribune. Thirty-nine applications were received, of which twenty-eight were disposed of as worthy.

ORATORIO AT PENN AVENUE CHURCH

Fine Presentation of the Messiah Under Haydn Evans' Direction. "The Messiah" was rendered by a great chorus of seventy-five voices under the direction of Haydn Evans, last night at the Penn Avenue Baptist church. It is earnestly hoped that this entertainment will be repeated for the benefit of a larger audience on a more favorable night.

cellent work in "The Heavens Are Telling" and "The Shall Feed His Flock." Thomas Boyenden also sang his solo most delightfully, while Richard Thomas never was in better voice than when he rendered "Why Do the Nations?" while his other solo work was equally good. The choruses were splendidly sung and showed much careful training. As most of the chorus consists of new voices, the result was more remarkable and reflects great credit on Mr. Evans.

S. O. V. HAVE A NIGHT.

Initiation of Fourteen Recruits Was Followed by a Supper.

Fourteen recruits were initiated into Camp S. Sons of Veterans, at a largely attended and interesting meeting, last evening. Ezra Griffin post rooms last evening. Following the meeting there was a supper in Mitchell's dining rooms on Washington avenue. Division Commander Weldon Scott, of Milton, was present as were many members of the Grand Republic and the Union Veterans' union. The initiation was conducted by Captain William Leber, First Lieutenant A. J. Smith, Chaplain F. R. Leber, First Sergeant J. B. Hume, Sergeant of the Guard McErmott, of Wilkes-Barre; Corporal of the Guard S. C. Hutchinson and Corporal of the Guard C. A. Mohr.

Alderman John T. Howe presided at the supper which was arranged by a committee consisting of Mr. Howe and W. H. Cole. Among the speakers were Hon. John R. Parr. There were several present from Wilkes-Barre and Shicklesburg.

CHURCH PROPERTY OPTION.

First Presbyterian Trustees Decide Upon a Selling Price.

The trustees of the First Presbyterian church met yesterday morning and decided upon a price to be included in an option for the sale of the church property on Washington avenue. The trustees had been authorized to do this by the congregation which met Monday evening but counting seven on a price, the opinions varying that from $1,000 to $1,500 per front foot for 106 feet would be a reasonable value. C. Parker Davidson, who had asked for an option in behalf of a local syndicate of five persons, himself included, did not appear yesterday to ascertain the conclusion of the trustees. One of the latter and to whom was delegated the duty of dealing with Mr. Davidson, had not seen the latter when a Tribune reporter called upon him yesterday and for that reason declined to make public the price that will be named in the option. He said that in justice to Mr. Davidson, the price would have to be withheld for the present.

O'REILLY COUNCIL WON DEBATE.

Rev. P. J. McManus of Green Ridge Has Made Known His Decision.

Rev. P. J. McManus, of Green Ridge, was one of the three judges appointed to pass upon the merits of the recent debate between the John Boyle O'Reilly and St. Brendan's council, of the Young Men's Institute. The other two judges, T. J. Jennings and John H. Jordan, were divided in their judgments as to the merits of the debaters. That made Father McManus the adjudicator. He made known his decision yesterday in a letter received by John J. Collins, president of John Boyle O'Reilly council. The letter sets forth that the young men who represented John Boyle O'Reilly council advanced the best arguments and discussed the subject in a truly convincing way. They were therefore awarded the debate. The subject debated was "Resolved, That the government should control the railroad and telegraph systems."

RECITAL AT ST. PAUL'S.

Parochial Pupils Render a Fine Programme of Music.

A very successful recital was given by the music pupils of St. Paul's Parochial school at the school hall yesterday afternoon. It was enjoyed by a large gathering of parents and friends. Those who rendered the splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music were: Misses M. Tallman, Florence Smith, Mary Judge, Anna Cadden, Genevieve Kelly, Maggie Ferguson, Marion Grower, Agnes M. Tague, Kate O'Malley, Marie Smith, Genevieve Moran, Annie Foley, Anna Smith, Julia Halligan, Nora Cadden, Eugenia Smith, Agnes O'Donnell, Louise Foye, Katie McHugh, Kattie Horna, Madeline Tallman, Agnes McTague, Helen Smith and Frank Costello. James J. Holleran, Edward O'Hara, Aloysius Grower and Peter Cortese.

PRISONERS FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Five of Them Let Here in Charge of Warden Simpson Yesterday.

Five prisoners were taken from the county jail to Philadelphia yesterday. They were in charge of Warden W. T. Simpson. They were: Martin Clark, John Koerick and Joseph Mickus. Among the prisoners was Severio Abbate who pleaded guilty to shooting Vito Raimondi and was last Saturday sentenced to a term of twelve years and four months in the Eastern penitentiary. The others were Charles Fields, a thief, and three lads, Valentine Sampson, colored; Willie Richards and Martin Crane, who pleaded guilty to larceny and were committed to the house of refuge.

GREEN RIDGE WEDDING.

Miss Katharine Carr and W. W. Williams Married Yesterday.

The wedding of Miss Katharine, the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Carr, of 609 West street, Green Ridge, and Walter W. Williams, formerly of this city, and now of Nicholson, took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride. Rev. F. S. Ballentine, rector of the church of the Good Shepherd, officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Hawkins and the groomsmen Henry Protheroe. A reception followed the marriage ceremony. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Nicholson, where he is engaged in business.

CHOPPED OFF HER THUMB.

Accident to One of the Serrants at Mitchell's Dining Room. Vanchie Mitchell, a young woman employed in the kitchen at Mitchell's dining rooms, North Washington avenue, sustained a painful injury while working a meat cutter yesterday. The top of her thumb was severed by the sharp knife.

NEW ENGLAND DINNER ARRANGEMENTS MADE

Everything Ready for the Society's Annual Spread.

ABOUT 125 PERSONS WILL ATTEND

Final Meeting Preceding the Dinner Was Held Last Evening in the Board of Trade Rooms--Galaxy of Talented Speakers Announced. Nine New Members Admitted and Secretary Fisher Authorized to Appoint an Assistant in Wilkes-Barre.

The final meeting of the New England society previous to its eleventh annual dinner, which will be given next Tuesday evening, was held last evening in the board of trade rooms. In the absence of the society of the president, Major Everett Warren, James H. Torrey presided.

The reports of committees and other matters acted upon indicated that the approaching feast of the New Englanders will witness in all its details an excellence commensurate with the growing success of these feasts in years gone by. It will begin at 7 o'clock. A half hour preceding the dinner the members and guests will participate in a reception period in the hotel parlors.

Following is a complete list of the speakers: Rev. Dr. Andrew V. V. Raymond, president of Union college, Schenectady, N. Y.; Rev. Dr. Charles Curtis Harrison, provost (president) of the university of Pennsylvania; Sheriff James K. Sanderson, of Lynn, Mass. The dinner will begin with an invocation by Rev. Dr. L. A. Lansing, of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, and will close with a blessing by Rev. Rogers Israel of St. Luke's Episcopal church. Following the invocation the company will salute the flag and sing "Star Spangled Banner."

THIS YEAR'S MENU CARD.

Each year the menu cards have been something of a novelty, and this year is to be no exception. The cards are hand-painted in water colors by Miss Lucia Ritzenhouse. On the title covers are painted the words "Eleventh Annual Dinner of the New England Society of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Dec. 22, 1897." The back cover contains New England specialties, each showing the principal products of the region. The work is admirably performed, and the menus are without doubt, the most artistic bits of work of the kind in the history of the society. Last year's menu covers were of tin, suggestive of the tent in camp.

The committee of arrangements believes its opinion that the Hotel Jermy's dining room is sufficiently beautiful in itself and requires no unusual decoration, will be shared by the members. In consequence of this opinion, flowers will be the only decoration. Information from Honesdale, Carbondale, Pittston and Wilkes-Barre, and other places in the valley indicates a large attendance, of probably fifty, from out of town, and that covers will have to be laid for at least 125 persons. Last year 96 were expected and arrangements were made for about a hundred, but the total number present was 115. It is expected that covers will have to be laid for at least 125 persons next Tuesday night.

The officers of the society are: Major Everett Warren, president; George Sanderson, vice-president; J. H. Fisher, secretary; A. C. Fuller, treasurer, and H. E. Paine, historian. The present secretary and treasurer may be considered fixtures. According to the precedent of many years, Vice-President Sanderson will advance to the presidency and a new vice-president will be elected. The committees are: arrangements—Arthur Field, chairman; James H. Torrey, J. H. Fisher, I. P. Harb, of Wilkes-Barre, and Charles D. Sanderson, speakers—George Sanderson, chairman; members—H. E. Paine, chairman; Dr. E. C. Johnson, of Wilkes-Barre, and W. J. Hamilton; auditing—O. R. Wright and R. W. Lane.

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED.

At last night's meeting the following new members were elected: Grant W. Lane, of Honesdale; David Scott Starr, of Plains; Captain John D. Colvill, Felix Ansart and William G. Eno, of Wilkes-Barre; H. O. Pond, C. E. Chittenden, Frank Hillman, Jr., and Walter Henwood, of Scranton. The membership committee was given authority to admit new members up to the evening of the 22nd.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HORSES.

COUNTRY CLUB COTILLION.

Rainy Night Doesn't Affect the Attendance or Pleasure.

The inclement weather last night had no effect upon the attendance or pleasure of the cotillion at the country club. A large company of well-known young people, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Storrs and Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Robertson, danced until 11 o'clock, when refreshments were served. The cotillion was danced later and was led by Mr. Paul B. Bellin.

Among those present were: Misses Elizabeth DeWolfe, of Easton; Janet Law, of Pittston; Shurson, Winton, Archibald, Augusta Archibald, Alice Matthews, Welles, Bellin, Parke, Bunnell, Jessup, Williams and Sue Jermy, and Messrs. A. G. Hunt, Kemmerer, John Post, Boles, Kingsbury, Blair, Chas. Huntington, L. B. F. S. and E. C. Fuller, Whitmore, Neale, Brooks and Merrill.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JOSEPH SLATTERY

High Mass of Requiem Celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral.

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Slattery, of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly Katherine McNamee, of this city, was held yesterday morning at St. Peter's cathedral, where Rev. D. J. MacGouldrick was celebrant. Rev. J. B. Feely, deacon, and Rev. P. J. Gough, sub-deacon, Father MacGouldrick preached the funeral sermon. The interment was in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were: William Frank and John Slattery, Charles Maloney, Timothy Costello and Thomas Nolan, and the flower-bearers, James Clifford and Thomas Murphy.
