DEBATING SOCIETY MET.

One of the interesting features had to be postponed.

The debating society connected with the Baptist Young People's union of the Scranton Street Baptist church met in regular session last evening in the lecture room of the church. The debate which was to have been held was postponed owing to the absence of several of the debaters. The subject of the debate was "Resolved, That immigration is not detrimental to this country." The evening was spent in the study of the regular culture course which is similar to the Chattanooga Reading club idea. The society is very strong at present and is proving itself a decided factor in attaching the interest of the young people to the church. Under the leadership of Dr. B. C. Iredale, who is moderator, great progress has been made. The regular meeting nights occur every two weeks and the next will be Tuesday evening, Dec. 25.

CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS.

The members of St. Brendan council, No. 243, Young Men's Institute, met in regular session Monday evening in their rooms at Clarke's hall, South Main avenue. Considerable business was transacted and an election of officers for the ensuing year was held. The financial condition of the council is first class and the membership is growing. They will move from their present quarters to the rooms over Jenkins' pharmacy at the corner of Jackson street and Main avenue, about the first of the new year. Thus they make a new and splendid beginning all around. Mr. Fitzgibbons was elected chairman against his emphatic protest, but the members would have it, and he has graciously accepted the inevitable and will no doubt prove all that the council could demand in the chief executive officer. The officers elected are: President, M. J. Fitzgibbons; first vice president, Timothy McCoy; second vice president, William "Gibby" financial secretary, J. J. Durkin; corresponding secretary, William Vanston; recording secretary, Charles Canavan; marshal, James O'Malley; treasurer, William Larista; trustees, Thomas P. Hurst, Frank McLain, H. C. Gallagher, Patrick Grady and Michael Sullivan. Inside sentinel, Thomas Judge; outside sentinel, James Quinn.

NOTICE.

Tim Jones, tax collector for the fifth ward, will be in his office, over 108 South Main avenue, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays between the hours of 2 and 8 p. m. to receive taxes.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.

The Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon club which meets bi-weekly, was entertained at yesterday afternoon by Miss Margilla Mott, 442 South Main avenue. Nearly all the members were present and despite the inclement weather, an enjoyable afternoon was spent.

On Saturday afternoon the members of the Scranton Street Baptist church Industrial and Mission school will hold a mother's reception and give a novel entertainment. The leader, Miss Anna Morgan, is busily engaged in preparing for the event and the young folks are looking forward to a pleasant time.

Xmas goods for Books, Griffiths.

The West Side board of trade's regular meeting was postponed last evening, owing to the absence of a quorum, which probably was lacking by reason of the inclement weather. If necessary a special meeting will be called by the president for some evening during the month.

Committees were appointed to look after the annual social of the council to be held Dec. 29 at Seiler's dancing academy. The meeting was attended by nearly every member of the council.

Miss Marie Mink, of Princeton avenue, has accepted a position with the International Correspondence schools.

The St. Aloysius Total Abstinence and Penitence society will hold an open meeting Thursday evening in Pharmacy hall.

Miss Margaret Brown, of Philadelphia, is visiting the Misses Kennedy, of Cedar avenue.

Miss Alice Burns, of Jessup, has returned after a visit to Miss Mattie Keenan, of Prospect.

Options on several properties on the westerly side of Remington avenue, between Broad and Cherry streets, have been secured by the Delaware & Hudson company as a site for a new station and freight depot. The land embraces about eight lots, most of which are occupied by dwelling houses. The land sits on the Delaware & Hudson tracks. The new depot, when erected, will be said to accommodate for the heavy freight deposits from the mills and factories on this side. The old "Street Works" station will be taken down.

A dog is the point in controversy between Charles Waldner, of the Eleventh ward, and Charles Wobolsky, of the same ward. The dog, which is named "The East Mountain to Wobolsky and one of the side bargains was that a certain dog, the property of Waldner, should remain on the farm. Waldner, however, claims that he made the condition that the dog should be kept well. This, he says, Waldner has failed to do up to. But Wobolsky won't give up the dog. So Waldner went before Alderman Donagan Saturday night and succeeded in having Wobolsky's dog seized. The dog for court on the charge of larceny George Werts became Wobolsky's bondsman.

NORTH SCRANTON NEWS.

West Market Street Welsh Baptists Welcome Their New Pastor and Burn a Mortgage.

The reception tendered Rev. John A. Evans, the newly elected pastor of the West Market Street Welsh Baptist church, last evening in the church auditorium, was an auspicious occasion and despite the inclement weather the church was thronged. The congregation had a big surprise in store for their friends when the announcement was made that the mortgage which had so long been an incubation on the church, would be burned and hereafter be a thing of the past.

The services were arranged under the direction of the Young People's society of the church and one of their number, Mr. Thomas Lewis, was chosen to act as chairman for the occasion. In opening the exercises he delivered an address which embodied many thoughts of interest to those assembled.

There was a vocal and literary entertainment of rare interest, participated in by many of the prominent local talent. Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Rev. Horace Peckover and Rev. J. T. Lloyd, of Wilkes-Barre.

The burning of the mortgage in point of interest, ranked only second to the reception of the pastor. This duty was allotted to Lewis Jones and Mrs. Dina Evans, two charter members of the church, and the oldest now living. Mr. Jones was called upon to deliver an address which was a most interesting and interesting reminiscence concerning the early place of worship, how the church was finally erected and rebuilt and how the members of the congregation increased from thirty-six charter members until today it is a flourishing and progressive body.

The burning of the mortgage then occurred. Mr. Jones held the much-deprecated paper while Mrs. Evans applied the match. Soon it was no more and the last vestige of debt faded from a sight.

Rev. Mr. Evans then responded to a call for an address from the chairman. His remarks were brief, plain and outspoken and urged the cooperation of his congregation in the advancement of the church's welfare.

Talks of three minutes' duration were then made by Rev. Dr. R. Jones, of the Welsh Congregational church; Rev. W. G. Watkins, of the North Main Avenue Baptist church; Rev. Mr. Ellis, of Olyphant; Rev. Mr. Phillips and Rev. Mr. Rowald. Each complimented the congregation on its prospects.

The audience was invited to partake of a light lunch, which was served in the vestry room.

FUNERAL OF MATTHEW FLYNN.

The funeral of Matthew Flynn took place yesterday morning from his late home on West Market street. The remains were taken to the Holy Rosary church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. O'Toole. He was assisted by Rev. Father O'Reilly, deacon; Rev. Father, McManus, sub-deacon, and Rev. Father Dunn, master of ceremonies. The other officiating ministers were Fathers Malone, Melley and O'Donoghue.

The funeral sermon was by Father O'Toole. The service at the church was attended by a large throng. Music was rendered by the full choir. The flower-bearers and pall-bearers were: William Lyonn, Don McEachen, James Jordan, Thomas Neary, James Durkin, John Grier, Anthony Duffy, John Gilmartin, Edward Loftus, Leon McCormick, James Cooney and John Loftus. Interment was made in the family plot in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

OBITUARY.

Richard R. Reese, of 125 Lafayette street, died at 7 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of nearly thirteen years. His death was hastened by a heart failure superinduced by trouble with his liver. He was a man who enjoyed a wide circle of acquaintances and friends and was known to his neighbors as a kind and domestic in his tastes. He spent all his leisure time at home with his family. He came to America with his parents in 1869 from his native village in North Wales. He assisted his father in running the old "Lam" hotel at the corner of North Hyde Park avenue and Lafayette street, for the afternoon. His great reluctance, relinquished her play and zone with her nurse from the room. In a few minutes her voice was heard outside the door begging the nurse to return for and accompany her back to her mother's presence.

"It won't take a minute," she said, "and I know my mother will be angry, because it is something you ought to know about."

"What is wanted?" inquired the mother, coming in.

"If you please," said the nurse, "she wouldn't have it any other way than that I should come back and see you."

"What for?"

"To have you tell me a story."

"I don't understand."

"I didn't want her to take my word for it, I wanted the little girl to say 'I want you to tell her the story father read out of the paper about an intoxicated gentleman who wouldn't listen to the advice of his friends and who was finally drowned in his bath tub. Nurse won't believe that there is any danger in my being washed and dressed so much.'"

Ex-Pastor-Rev. Thomas P. Cosgrove, of Archbold, died at his home on Pine street in that borough, at 10 o'clock last night. He had been ailing about three months, but his condition did not become dangerous until a week ago. Yesterday afternoon he was seized by a weak spell but he rallied and was able to speak with those about his bed. Later in the night, however, he became worse and at 10 o'clock he passed away. Mr. Cosgrove was born in this borough and had repeatedly been honored by his fellow citizens with various offices. He served two terms on the borough council. He was also postmaster here during the administration of President Harrison and made a record as a successful legislator. He was a prominent figure in Republican politics in the borough and the county and was honored with a nomination for the legislature in 1904. He was a member of Archbold club of Hefersoph. The arrangements for his funeral have not been made yet.

William Atkinson, a well known resident of the South Side, died last night at his home on Pine street. He was 53 years of age and unmarried. He is survived by the following: his wife, Mrs. Thomas Reap, Mrs. Michael Horley, Mrs. M. J. Sullivan, Mrs. A. L. Dunleavy, Robert Atkinson, Mrs. John Plittin, of this city, and Thos. Atkinson, of Wilkes-Barre. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mary Clark, 12 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Clark, died Monday at the family residence on Chestnut street. Funeral will occur this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

STATE FLOWERS.

Each One of the Commonwealths May Have Them in the Near Future.

Every one of the forty-five states in the Union has a motto and a shield, and some of these mottos seem to be distributed about in a somewhat inappropriate way. The New York Sun, Nevada, for instance, whose population is declining steadily and whose influence is yearly growing less, has for its motto Volens et Potens (Willing and Able). Mississippi, the only one of the states which has ever repudiated formally its public debt, has as its motto "Union, Justice and Confidence." On the other hand, Wyoming, the pioneer state in woman's suffrage, has as its motto "Let Arms Yield to the Gown." The motto of Oregon is "She Flies with Her Own Wings," the aptness of which does not appear to be entirely clear for a state whose foreign commerce and railroad business are done through the adjacent states of California and Washington.

Though all states have mottos and all states have shields, only a small proportion of the states have flowers, though all may have them before very long if the popular demand for flowers typical of statehood continues to increase. The Iowa legislature at Des Moines last week adopted the wild rose as the official flower of the Hawkeye state. There are forty-five states, but twelve of them only have official flowers, the selection of which has developed in some states upon the legislature, and in others upon the public school children. Two New England states only have expressed a preference for any flower; Vermont for the red clover, by act of the legislature, and Rhode Island, by vote of its school children, for the violet. The golden rod is the favorite in Alabama; the magnolia in Georgia, and the peach blossom in Delaware. Southwestern states are not represented in flowers to any great extent. Those states in which complete or limited woman suffrage has been established by law are those who have taken the lead in the selection of state flowers. Colorado has the columbine; Idaho, the sycamore; Montana, the bitter root, and Utah, the sego lily. The state flower of Nebraska is the golden rod, which is likewise the state flower of Oregon. Michigan has adopted the clover, and Kansas, the Sunflower state, would naturally, one might think, adopt the sunflower as its favorite, but "they do things different in Kansas," and the field daisy is the favorite.

The state flower of Minnesota is the moccasin flower. New York's preference for a state flower has been for several years a matter of contention. The rose is the favorite, but on the vote of the school children of the state held some years ago the preference for several varieties of roses led to a subdivision of the vote among these, with the result that, technically, the golden rod had the majority and was chosen; but efforts have been made since to reverse this declaration of preference, with the result that there are some who say the golden rod is the favorite of the Empire state and others who contend that the rose is entitled to the distinction. The favorite of New Jersey is the white clover. Pennsylvania has never pronounced in favor of any flower.

A HORRIBLE EXAMPLE.

From the Washington Star.

A small Washington girl is very incontinent and shares the aversion peculiar to her years to being made presentable for the afternoon. She had, with great reluctance, relinquished her play and zone with her nurse from the room. In a few minutes her voice was heard outside the door begging the nurse to return for and accompany her back to her mother's presence.

"It won't take a minute," she said, "and I know my mother will be angry, because it is something you ought to know about."

"What is wanted?" inquired the mother, coming in.

"If you please," said the nurse, "she wouldn't have it any other way than that I should come back and see you."

"What for?"

"To have you tell me a story."

"I don't understand."

"I didn't want her to take my word for it, I wanted the little girl to say 'I want you to tell her the story father read out of the paper about an intoxicated gentleman who wouldn't listen to the advice of his friends and who was finally drowned in his bath tub. Nurse won't believe that there is any danger in my being washed and dressed so much.'"

He Was Wrong.

A Happy Throng

Fills the store these days from the opening till the closing hour and the verdict is the same in every case—it's lovely, and beside it's so easy to find just what you want in the Globe Warehouse. There's the reason for this. For nearly 20 years we've successfully catered to the wants of Scranton people, consequently we know and fully understand their likes and dislikes at such a season as this and stocks here are always at the fill to overflowing point. Beside all this, experience has told our patrons that Globe Warehouse prices are always lowest. Enough said. A visit to our store must do the rest.

Umbrellas

Make ideal Xmas gifts. There's two here for every one you can find elsewhere, and there isn't a pricier new idea that cannot be found in our stock. Prices are not nearly as high as you'd think.

Dress Goods

Exclusive pattern prices, or a general stock bigger than you could get through in a day's looking. Some choice novelties in fancy silks, velvets, etc., are also worth looking at, while the good staple weaves are here in abundance.

Draperies

Handsome curtains and Portiers, Rich Couch Covers, Air Working Lace Curtains, Beautiful Silk and Wool Draperies, Cushions in Silhouettes and superb coverings. Down Quilts for the Lounge or the Bed room. Poles, rods and all fittings necessary.

Pictures

We've a regular art gallery open these days. As the choice of subjects is so varied that the greatest delicacy of patrons lies in making selections. No matter how your taste goes we can meet it and the smallness of our prices will surprise you.

Toys and Books

These departments are as much in favor with the people as they ever were, and that's saying a good deal. Toys of all sorts, Dolls, Furniture, Novelty Toys, Pretty Toys, Scientific Toys, Toys to look at, etc. Books for children.

Gloves and Hosiery

Gloves for street, evening or go to meeting wear.
Gloves for children, men, misses and boys. Gloves of all makes and prices.
Hosiery and underwear in cotton, wool or silk. Combination garments, sanitary sleeping garments. Fancy and new hosiery.

Table Linens

Choice table linens, napkins, towels, etc., in fine qualities. Never yet failed to gladden the heart of the happy homemaker. Many novelties specially imported for the holiday trade makes this stock wonderfully interesting.

Winter Furs

There's an ideal present, if comfort is the thought uppermost in your mind. Bows, capes, collarettes, muffs, sets for the children, etc., etc. All the popular skins at prices to suit any purse. Some at $1.50. Some at $20.00. Many in between.

Handkerchiefs

Drummers tell us that Scranton is one of the greatest handkerchief towns in the country. Probably that is one reason why we have the greatest stock. Real linen handkerchiefs, hemstitch handkerchiefs, print border handkerchiefs, etc. Price 10c to $1.00.

Bric-a-Brac

A short way for summing up our great miscellaneous novelty and odds and ends stock especially bought for the holiday trade. Not a piece here that you saw last year. It's all new, and the new values are better than ever.

Sewing Machines

The Globe Sewing Machine is as good as the best and highest priced on the market. The Cabinet work is superb, each machine has full set of attachments and prices are less than half the agent's figures.
