JAMES COPELAND DEAD.

LOCALS.

Ground will be broken today for the foundation of Dr. Wheeler's handsome new residence, which will adorn North Church street. John L. Sullivan and his vaudeville company will appear at the Grand opera house next Monday evening.

Mr. Copeland was also a man of noble Christian character and charming disposition; a member of the First Presbyterian church, unflinching attendant upon the regular services, of charitable inclinations, a lover of home and family, an indulgent father and devoted grandfather; for years his grandchild-son had been his great joy--and withal a person who brightened many lives and influenced the community for good by his many thoughtful kindnesses.

Deceased is survived by five sons, John, prothonotary-elect of Lackawanna county; Alex., passenger engineer on the Delaware and Hudson road; James, jr., a prosperous farmer of Kansas; Robert, engineer on the Delaware and Hudson; and Wallace, Delaware and Hudson passenger conductor; one daughter, Mrs. Paul Burton, with whom he resided. All live in this city, save James. Two sisters in Scotland also survive him.

The funeral will be Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence, Rev. Charles Lee will officiate. In all probability the Odd Fellows will attend in a body.

STOLE $63

Some Bold Individual Gets Away With that Amount. Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock Agent C. R. Smith left the ticket office of the Delaware and Hudson city station, just eight minutes. When he returned he found a letter file on the floor and noticed a bent nail in the partition. Thin thought of the money drawer flashed through his mind. His suspicions were well founded. It was empty. The $63 had contained a few minutes before were missing. There was but one solution to the problem, and that was easy. Some bold individual had scented the ten-foot partition of the ticket enclosure, which is open overhead, and made good his escape. The money drawer was unlocked. Detective Crippen is working on the case, but as yet no clue has been discovered.

NUPHIALISTIC.

Yesterday noon a very pretty wedding ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Starkweather, in Susquehanna, which united for life Miss Gertrude Starkweather and Mr. Allen W. Corbin, of this city. Miss Starkweather is well and favorably known here, having been a frequent visitor. Mr. Corbin has been manager of the Western Union office in Carbonate for many years and his friends are legion. Mr. and Mrs. Corbin left on the Erie train for New York and other points of interest. Upon their return they will take up their residence in this city. They will not commence housekeeping until spring. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Hiller, former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. The bride received many presents, among them being a set of china dishes from the Delaware and Hudson employees. Chris Moulter, a well-known agent in this city of E. Robinson's sons, the Scranton brewers, was married at Greenfield yesterday afternoon to Miss Pitta Vall, a respected young lady of

TAYLOR NEWS.

A New Fire Company to Be Organized--Special Meeting of the Martin Luther Lodge. There has been considerable talk of organizing a fire company in Old Forge and Rendham, which is in this vicinity. A meeting was called on Tuesday evening last for this purpose, but was postponed owing to the absence of a quorum. Another meeting will be held this (Thursday) evening in Dougherty hall, Rendham. Several years ago a movement was started for the purpose of organizing a company by a few citizens. Considerable enthusiasm was shown for a time, but gradually the scheme sank into oblivion. Those interested at the present time seem determined to carry the scheme through. Every citizen is urged to be present this evening.

Extracts from the Files of the Louisville Journal. Chilled by the Times-Herald. Mr. C. of New York, has made a speech in Congress in defense of the late act of the executive. Although he didn't succeed in clearing the executive, he was remarkably successful in clearing the house. The Cincinnati representative in Congress boasts that he can bring an argument to a point as quick as any other man. He can bring a quart to a pint a good deal quicker.
