C. M. CONFERENCE.

Held Saturday and Yesterday in the Welsh C. M. Church Bellevue. Those Who Attended it.

Ministers and representative laymen of the Northeastern Pennsylvania synod of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist churches met in quarterly conference Saturday in the Bellevue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church, which Rev. J. T. Morris is pastor. The district comprises churches in the following places: Carbondale, Olyphant, Jermyn, North and West Scranton, Bellevue, Spring Brook, Moosic, Wilkes-Barre, Ashley, Warrior Run, Nanticoke and Sugar Notch, and there were over thirty delegates in attendance. Rev. D. C. Phillips, of North Scranton, was moderator and Samuel Williams, of Wilkes-Barre, acted as secretary.

The opening session was held in the morning, beginning at 9 o'clock. The usual order of business was carried out during the continuation of the morning session. Benjamin James and William Davies, both of Olyphant, were elected to full membership, having been nominated at the previous conference in September. Mr. James, of Nanticoke, and Mr. Roberts, of Warrior Run, made application for ordination and were favorably received. John S. Davies, of Bellevue, treasurer, and Samuel Williams, of Wilkes-Barre, were unanimously re-elected to their respective offices. The morning session then came to a close.

AFTERNOON DISCUSSIONS.

The topic, "Be not drunken with wine, but be ye filled with the Holy Ghost," formed the basis of a spirited and interesting discussion during the afternoon. The subject was laid before the conference in an able manner by Rev. William Jenkins, of Wilkes-Barre. It was taken up by Rev. T. B. Thomas, of Monroe, N. Y., a prominent and able divine, whose remarks were intently listened to and were provocative of many original suggestions and thoughts by other members of the conference. Rev. Mr. Thomas was formerly a pastor of a Wilkes-Barre church, and was accorded a cordial greeting as was Rev. John O. Jones, of Wilkes-Barre, who was seriously ill for some time. The final act of the afternoon session was to decide upon North Scranton as the place for holding the first quarterly conference next year.

The evening service, which began at 7:30 o'clock and was open to all, was begun by the reading of Scripture by Rev. J. Elias Jones, of Nanticoke, and the offering of prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Morris. The sermon was preached by Rev. T. B. Thomas, of Monroe, N. Y., and it proved to be one of the best of his many able discourses. Yesterday the different preachers in attendance at the conference filled the pulpits of the Calvinistic churches in Bellevue, West and North Scranton, and Olyphant. At the Bellevue church, three services were held at 10, 2 and 6 o'clock. Rev. William Matthews, of Olyphant, opened the morning service with a

Scripture lesson and prayer. Rev. Mr. Roberts, of Warrior Run, and Rev. Hugh Davies, of West Scranton, preached. At 2 o'clock Rev. W. J. Lewis, of Carbondale, opened the service, and Rev. J. J. Williams, of Olyphant, and Rev. D. C. Phillips, of North Scranton, preached the former in Welsh, and the latter in English. At 6 o'clock the service was opened by Rev. William E. Morgan, of West Scranton, and the preaching was done by Rev. William Jenkins, of Wilkes-Barre, and Rev. Hugh Davies, of West Scranton. Rev. J. J. Williams, of Olyphant, occupied the pulpit of the West Scranton Calvinistic church at both services yesterday, and Rev. J. Elias Jones, of Nanticoke, performed the same service for the Olyphant church. The conference ended last evening. The roll call indicated the following in attendance:

ANOTHER HANDSOME STORE.

The new, three-story structure of department store which stands on North Main avenue, at the top of West Linden street, and is owned by P. J. McCann, was thrown open for inspection Saturday evening. A complete description of the building itself was recently given in this department of The Tribune. Saturday evening the beauty of the building, taken as a whole, and the completeness of detail, impressed itself on the large number, who attended the formal opening. The first floor with its handsome ornamental show windows and arcade entrance, is devoted to the groceries, shoes, gents' and ladies' furnishings, and et cetera. On the second floor all sorts of dry goods can be found. The third story will be used as a stock room for the present. Mr. McCann has been in business on this side since young manhood, and is satisfied to remain here, as is evidenced by the magnificent building he has erected.

RECEIVED THEIR MOTHERS.

The juvenile offenders of the Scranton Street Baptist church Industrial and Mission band, tendered their proud "mummies" a reception in the church lecture room Saturday afternoon. The affair was in charge of the leader, Miss Anna Morgan, and she was assisted by the corps of instructors attached to the band. The reception took the place of the regular Saturday afternoon session and is the last for the year 1907. An exceedingly pleasant afternoon was spent by all. There were songs, recitations, etc., with which is beautiful the passing time and the many articles made by the willing hands of the band's members were on exhibition for the guests. Then, too, Mrs. E. Garland Hall, a returned missionary, who has assisted her husband in missionary work in Africa, told the little listeners a story of what was being done for other children in those far off lands. She also showed how and where the results of their industry did great work for the Lord among the heathen people.
