ANOTHER LINCOLN STORY. What He Did For an Old Benefactor. From the Washington Post.

Senator Mills has a new story about Lincoln. It was told to him by a son of John L. Helm, of Kentucky, who lives in Corsienna. "Old John L. Helm." said the senator, "was a famous character in Kentucky. He was, if I remember rightly, a governor of the state, but at any rate his position was a most prominent When the Civil War came on one. Helm was a rabid secessionist. could not praise the south too highly, and could not heap enough abuse upon the north. He was too old to go into the war with his sons, and remained home, doing all he could to help the speetings at the North church this | Confederate cause and harns the Yankees who invaded the state. Finally he became so obstreperous that"the ment Lodge, No. 246, I. O. O. F., Federal general who was in command near Helm's home put him in prison. The old man's age, the high position which he occupied in the state, his wide connection, and especially his inability to do any actual harm, were all pleaded in his extenuation and he was released. Instead of profiting by the warning, the old man became more persistent than ever in his course. Once ally, while he was still locked up, the matter was brought to the attention in Scranton.

Mrs Bertha Leonard, of Elmira, N.

Y., visited here Saturday.

"Lincoln listened to the statement of the case with more than usual interest. Then he leaned back and began to speak with a smile upon his face. are talking about old man John Helm? Well, did you know that I used to when I was a boy, in Helm's town. He was kind to me. He seemed to like me as a boy, and he never lost an opportunity to help me. He seemed to think,' said Lincoln, with another of his almost pathetic smiles, 'that I would probably make something of a man. Why, when I went out to Illi-Y., visited John W. Chidester, over nols, poor and unknown, that man gave me the money to pay my way and keep me until I got a start. John Helm? Oh, yes, 1 know him. I think I can fix his case."

"And then," said Senator Mills, "Lincoln went to a desk and wrote a few words. The bit of writing is treasured in the Helm household to this day. This is what the president wrote: 'I hereby pardon John L. Helm of Kentucky for all that he has ever done against the United States and all that he ever will do. "'Abraham Lincoln.'"

From the Industrial World. The sources of color used in the arts is given as follows The cochineal insects furnish the gergeous carmine, crimson, scarlet and carmine lakes; the cuttle fish gives sepia, which is the linky fluid which the fish discharges when attacked; Indian vellow comes from the camel; ivory chips produce the Ivory black and bone black; the exquisite Pressian blue comes from fusing horses' hoofs and other animal matter with impure potassium carbonate; various takes are derived from roots. parks and gums; blue black comes from the charcoal of the vine stock; Turkey red is made from the madder plant, which grows in Hindostan; the yellow sap of a Slam tree produces gamboge, while raw senna is the natural earth from the neighborhood of Sienna, Italy, and raw umber is an earth found near Umbria. India ink is made from the burnt camphor; mastle is made from the gum of the mastle tree, which grows in the Gre-cian Archipelago. Bistre is the soot of wood ashes; very little ultramine—obwood asses, very tained from the precious lapis lazuit-is found in the market. Chinese white is zine; scarlet is iodide of mercury, and vermillon is from cuicksilver ore.

"Safe from what?" asked Miss Kittish, "Burglars."
"Were you in danger from burglars?" "I think I was, Everybody is, more or less, but more especially an unprotected lady in a big house. I've been afraid of burglars ever since John and his wife went west and left me by myself."

"What have you done to insure safety?" "I have bought four men's hats, of different styles and sizes, and I have hung them on the hat-rack in the hall. When Mr. Burglar surveys the array, he will decide that there are too many men in that house to make his exploit as safe as he might wish, and he will go on to some other house. I rather flatter myself that this is a pretty good plan. Don't you wholesome and delicious ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK, THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, Jan. 3.-The money market failed to show an easier tone to-day and the Januaary boom in the price of stocks which some people had expected to begin immediately failed to arrive on the first business day of the new year. On the contrary, there was quite a flush in the money market before the day passed, and the calling of loans precipitated something very much like a squeeze. The rate for call money ran up to six per cent., and loans were placed at that amount, though offerings were made later at 2½ per cent. There was no actual loan reported during the day however at less than 3½ per cent. It is difficult to say how far the low sales at the close may have been manipulative. Certainly the stock market all day did not show evidence of any great plentitude of funds available for speculation. The situation in the money market kept the tene of stocks heavy and restricted the trading within narrow limits. Total sales were 250,000 shares.
