Edward Campbell of Melrose Finds an Eagle's Nest.

"REDDY" CONNOLLY IS DEFEATED

He is Knocked Out by a Young Terror of Susquehanna--A Glance at Some of the Side Issues--An Honest Milkman.

Special to The Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Jan. 4.—On Thursday, Edward Campbell was engaged in cutting railroad ties near Melrose, when he found an eagle's discarded nest, secluded in the ledge of a big rock. While examining the nest, suddenly he heard a loud noise, and before he could ascertain what it was, an eagle struck him in the face with bill and claws, and taking a circuit through the air, alighted upon a tree about 200 yards distant, but in plain view of the nest. Again the big bird made an attack, aiming at his head, but Campbell avoided her; and she struck him on the arm, making a slight wound. She returned to her post of observation, but soon made a third attack, when Campbell struck her with a stick and brought her to the ground, where, after a severe struggle, he succeeded in killing her. She measured seven feet two inches from tip to tip. The male bird was not seen. Eagles use the same nest several successive years, and it is supposed that the nest had been in existence because Campbell was meddling with her nest.

Druggist Ed French, of New Milford, is seriously ill at the residence of C. F. Whitney, in North Jackson.

Some of the suburban crossroads are badly dirtied by trucks, which will not be discovered before next June.

Miss Emily C. Blackman, of Montrose, the able historian of Susquehanna county, is spending the winter in Glenwood, Fla. She deserves well of this county.

The annual meeting of the Susquehanna County Historical society will be held in Montrose on Saturday, Jan. 5th.

Mrs. Fanny D. B. Chase, an able and highly-esteemed philanthropist, is quite seriously ill.

The borough and township elections will occur on Tuesday, February 13.

Hon. Galusha A. Grow, "the Sage of Glenwood," will undoubtedly succeed himself as congressman-at-large.

Dr. C. H. Alney, of New Milford, has been re-appointed by the Grand jurors, F. & A. M., district deputy grand master for Susquehanna county.

Haitt & Co., extensive Great Bend merchants, have been closed by the sheriff. Their creditors are heavy. The firm attributes its troubles to malicious gossip, who circulated a report that they were about to make an assignment, and precipitated a number of creditors suddenly upon them.

For the past few weeks Sheriff Ward Devel has been about the busiest man in the county. "This is an ill wind," etc.

Rev. P. E. Adams, the able pastor of the Protestant Episcopal church, has tendered his resignation, to take effect April 1.

The board of revision of Susquehanna county will hold a court of appeals from assessments, in Montrose, in February and March.

It is estimated that fifty tons of poultry were shipped from Susquehanna county to New York, Philadelphia and other cities during the week preceding Christmas. There isn't an old hen remaining in the county, notwithstanding the disheartening Psalms of More, of the Great Bend Plainsdale, continues to sound his loud bazon in favor of a county bridge.

He will take an extra reef in his supporters' expectations upon his hands and rush unaided and alone into the breach. In Psalmist's bright lexicon there is no such word as fail.

There is an old barn in Brooklyn, this county, in which Bishops Aebury and McKendree preached in the year 1811. Only five of those who heard those great methodists are still living.

The Susquehanna county farmer's attendance and industrial union met yesterday in New Milford.

SOME OTHER MATTERS.

Susquehanna is preparing to present the "Congressman from Texas" to the good people of New Milford. Fortunate New Milford!

And yet a few months, and the glad eyes of several hundreds of Montrose people will behold electric lights for the first time. It is worth something to live in an age like this.

The current number of the Police Gazette has a cut supposed to represent Flora Sweet, of Susquehanna, murdering her mother with a razor.

The Gazette is nothing if not accurate. A number of Susquehanna men have recently announced in the public press that "My wife has left her bed and board." This shows sublime generosity on the wife's part. A selfish woman would carry away both bed and board.

Having peddled milk in Susquehanna and Oakland forty years, Charles Beebe, of Oakland, has retired. He has traveled a distance equal to several times around the world. During all these years he has resided within a few rods of the Susquehanna river, yet none of it has ever been scooped into his ears. An honest milkman is the noblest work of man—and the scariest!

Susquehanna will have a co-operative store in the near future.

SOME SIDE ISSUES.

Going home on Saturday night, a Susquehanna man fell upon an icy walk and broke his leg, his arm and his New York resolutions.

Since the Swiss surgeon demonstrated that the stomach is not a necessary part of the human body, a number of Susquehanna people think very seriously of going to Klondike early in the spring.

And it will soon be proven that the heart, lungs and liver are not necessary parts, and that they were merely thrown into the human frame to fill up. In fact, a few Susquehanna people have lived many years with only a small brain and a very large gall.

Taxes upon eighty-seven dogs are paid in Susquehanna. The remaining five hundred dogs are evidently exterminated on account of old age and general cucumberiness.

In some portions of the state, merchants are being arrested for handling trading stamps. It is hoped that some Susquehanna business men begin to have what the patent medicine almanac calls "that tickling, uneasy feeling," in consequence thereof.

There appears to be an epidemic of obituary "poetry" in some of the county newspapers. Some of the "poetry" has more terrors than even grim death itself. From such sickening waddles and meaningless mush, may the good Lord deliver us!

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY MELANG

The grand jury will meet on Monday next. The Smith murder case will come before it.

FRONT.

Don't attempt to reform the world! It is a large hemisphere and life is short. Don't talk about better or only words to gentlemen! Good taste will endorse neither.

Don't think because you have been successful in one thing you can succeed in all. Few people succeed even in one thing.

Don't think yourself physically omnipotent! The weakest persons and the shortest lived are frequently those who feel the best.

Don't let your dealer deceive you or impose upon you by saying he has "something just as good," or "something he can recommend," when he is an unscrupulous man in such assertions and they should be distrusted.

Don't think that any stimulant will do! Doctors, scientists and the best authorities agree that pure whiskey is the only reliable stimulant.

Don't be deceived into using an inferior whiskey! Remember that the most powerful and the most valuable whiskey is Duff's Pure Malt and that it has been so admitted for years.
