BLOODY BATTLE.

Much Gore Spilled Near Russell B. Brenker Yesterday.

G. Thompson, a well-known centractor and builder, of Belmont street, was arraigned before Alderman Jones last evening on a charge of assault and battery, with attempt to kill. Complainant is Nicholas O'Brien, who is now at the hospital, where he will have to remain at least a week under the most favorable circumstances,

According to the testimony of three witnesses, O'Brien hit Thompson first with a scoop shovel. Then Thompson laid O'Brien out with a huge bolt, which he held when attacked It was not made clear just how the bloody battle started, further than that an altercation arose over the men's efforts to remove a sleigh box, which needed repairing.

However, O'Brien has two ugly rashes in his head and Thompson is ing a couple of annoving wounds. dant tried to make it out a case defense, but the alderman saw lace him under $300 bail. The s continued until Friday of next at which time it is expected will be able to appear.
