Poor Board Reorganization.

The poor board will meet for organization this afternoon at 2 o'clock. A rumor that Hon. John R. Farr had withdrawn from the canvas for the collectorship because the necessary four votes had been secured by Wade M. Finn, the present collector, is denied by the former. He says he is in the field and will be until after the vote is taken and he is not ready to say he will be defeated.

Mr. Finn claims to have the votes of Messrs. Langstaff, Murphy, Fuller and Terppe.

Secretary E. J. Lynett will voluntarily retire from an office he has active from a from the from ceptably filled for a number of years. could continue as secretary if he so desired, but his personal business demands his retirement. His successor will undoubtedly be W. S. Langstaff, jr., son of the president of the Question Again Raised.

The question has been raised as to the right of three officials to hold certain city offices while occupying county or other city offices. This related to County Treasurer Kelly and Poor Director Paine, who are to be members of the board of health, and County Recorder Warnke, who until last night was a district chief. The latter's case was settled by the appointment of his successor as district fire chief. As Mr. Kelly receives no pay for serving on the board of health, of which he is president, he will not have to relinquish that office because of his recent election to the county treasurership. are two opinions upon Dr. Paine's right to serve on the board of health. Mayor Bailey a year ago con-tended that Dr. Paine was inelligible to serve as a health official inasmuch as he receives pay as a poor director. Dr. Paine held that the law making two such offices incompatible, refers to guardians" of the poor and not "directors." In this belief he has continued to serve in the health board although he is a Republican and Mayor Patley would have been pleased to replace him with a Democrat.

Two Cancuses Today.

Today, between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock, Democratic caucuses will be held in the Sixth and Eighteenth wards. The common council incumbents of each ward are aspirants for the higher seats of select council, but printed the following facetious story the present holders wish to retain their about Frank Tannehill, jr., the author eats and are putting up a fight for them. Thus it cames about that M. E. Clarke, select councilman of the Sixth. is opposed by his common council colleague, John E. Regan, and the same is true of M. J. Burns and James F. Noone, of the Eighth.

The similarity of contest in the wards for its highest office ceases at this point, however. The two candidates in the Sixth will have it out between themselves, but in the Eighteenth ex-City Assessor Thomas O'Boyle and John Hoban, of Emmet street, propose to take a shy at the select nomination and have made a canvass along that line. For common council, Hotelkeeper Patrick F. Calpin, in the Sixth, and Thomas Morris, of Railroad avenue, of the Eighteenth, seem to have no

Primaries Tomorrow.

Primaries will be held in all the wards in the city Saturday afternoon to elect delegates to the Republican convention to be held in Music hall. Tuesday next, for the selection of six candidates for the office of school controllers at large. Each ward is entitled to two delegates.

The nominations are to be made so as to be prepared for the emergency that would be occasioned by the court deciding against the legality of the board of twenty-one, in the quo warranto proceedings brought by John Jermyn.
