

TWO CENTS.

SCRANTON, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1898.

TWO CENTS.

CIVIL SERVICE DEBATE BEGUN

Nine Opponents of the Law Are Heard on the Floor.

ANXIETY OF THE FRIENDS

They Desire to Choke Off the Eloquence.

Two Congressmen Defend the Law. Mr. Cooney Calls the Whole Civil Service a Cheat and a Narrow Swindle.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate was in open session today for only a short time, during which a little minor business was disposed of.

The opponents of the civil service law had much the best of the debate in the house today so far as the number of those engaged in it were concerned.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

CLOAK FIRM FAILS.

Executions Issued in Favor of William Singery.

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—Executions were issued today against Richard J. Lennon, dealer in women's cloaks and wraps at 1220 Chestnut street, on two judgments notes aggregating $148,896, in favor of William M. Singery and the Chestnut Street National Bank.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate was in open session today for only a short time, during which a little minor business was disposed of.

The opponents of the civil service law had much the best of the debate in the house today so far as the number of those engaged in it were concerned.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

HANNA LACKS ONLY ONE VOTE

His Followers Have Secured Representative Griffith.

Workers Will Not Sleep Again.

Anti-Hannas Say They Have a Majority of Five—A Feeling Exists That If Hanna Is Not Defeated on the First Ballot He Will Not Be Defeated at All.

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—Senator Hanna is believed to be short one vote of election. The opposition is not sure of 73 votes for any one man as against only 72 for Hanna, but they feel confident at least of preventing Hanna's election.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate was in open session today for only a short time, during which a little minor business was disposed of.

The opponents of the civil service law had much the best of the debate in the house today so far as the number of those engaged in it were concerned.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

Mr. Cooney called the whole civil service reform idea a cheat and a narrow swindle. A civil pension list and office holding class, he urged, were logical and inevitable if it was to continue.

TO CREATE ANOTHER JUDICIAL DISTRICT

A Bill Introduced in the House by Congressman Connell.

IT CALLS FOR A MIDDLE DISTRICT

A Measure to Provide for More Expeditions Transaction of United States Court Business—New Offices That Would Be Created Should the Bill Become a Law.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district. It is similar to the bills introduced in previous congresses by Representatives Ammerman and McCormick.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman Connell today introduced a bill in the house creating another judicial district in the state of Pennsylvania to be known as the third or middle district.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Weather Indications Today: Light Rain; Colder; Variable Winds.

General—Hanna's Prospects Grow Brighter.

Lackawanna County News.

Local—Shop-Lifters Are Indicted.

Local—Proposed New Rules Governing Republican Primary Elections.

Local—West Side and Suburban.

Local—Lawson County News.

Local—Neighboring County Happenings.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

REBELLION IN UGANDA

Dangers of a General Rise among the Soudanese.

A MISSIONARY IS KILLED

Mr. Pilkington and Major McDonald Killed.

Three Hundred Soudan Soldiers Revolt and Resolve to Massacre All Europeans—Missionaries Doing Picket Duty—Government Posts Looted by the Natives and Great Damages Is the Result.

London, Jan. 10.—A dispatch from Mombasa, capital of the Coast province, in the British East Africa protectorate, says news of renewed fighting in Uganda has been received there from Fort Lubwa, in the Usoga country, under date of Dec. 13.

Lieutenant MacDonald, brother of Major MacDonald, the commander of the British forces, and Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, have been killed.

Troops are hurrying to the front from Machakos station. It is reported that the garrisons in Buadi, numbering 300 Soudanese under two officers, may join the revolt.

No further details are given. Mr. Pilkington was one of the leading Englishmen in Uganda. He joined Major MacDonald, after the entry of the Soudanese to act as interpreter.

The rebellion among the Soudanese soldiers in Uganda broke out in the early part of October last, and the danger has been general since the Soudanese throughout the country and a massacre of the Europeans. Uganda is about as large as France.

The government stations, between 20 and 30 in number, are manned by Soudanese, perhaps eighteen hundred in all. In the early part of October three hundred Soudanese soldiers from the Kampala garrison at Mengo, capital of Uganda, looted the station at the Victoria Nyanya, were sent to the Elmeda station, better known as the ravine. There they mutilated and looted the government agent's store.

They then resolved to march back to Mengo, raising a band of general fighting to kill the Europeans and establish a Soudanese kingdom in Uganda. They looted the station at Nandi, obtaining three thousand rounds of ball cartridges. Fortified by this and provided with plenty of ammunition, they pushed toward Mengo, looting the stations as they advanced. At Juba station the garrison revolted and joined the mutineers, seized Major Thurston, commander of the fort, and occupied the post.

At this stage Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, a member of the Anglican church missionary society's mission, volunteered, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, the acting commissioner of Uganda, and with the permission of the British government, to accompany the Baganda (natives) who were being hurried to the Nile to prevent the Soudanese from crossing. He went as an interpreter and with a view of giving the moral support of the missionaries to the Baganda.

At this stage Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, a member of the Anglican church missionary society's mission, volunteered, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, the acting commissioner of Uganda, and with the permission of the British government, to accompany the Baganda (natives) who were being hurried to the Nile to prevent the Soudanese from crossing.

At this stage Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, a member of the Anglican church missionary society's mission, volunteered, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, the acting commissioner of Uganda, and with the permission of the British government, to accompany the Baganda (natives) who were being hurried to the Nile to prevent the Soudanese from crossing.

At this stage Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, a member of the Anglican church missionary society's mission, volunteered, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, the acting commissioner of Uganda, and with the permission of the British government, to accompany the Baganda (natives) who were being hurried to the Nile to prevent the Soudanese from crossing.

At this stage Mr. Pilkington, the missionary, a member of the Anglican church missionary society's mission, volunteered, at the suggestion of Mr. Wilson, the acting commissioner of Uganda, and with the permission of the British government, to accompany the Baganda (natives) who were being hurried to the Nile to prevent the Soudanese from crossing.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Weather Indications Today: Light Rain; Colder; Variable Winds.

General—Hanna's Prospects Grow Brighter.

Lackawanna County News.

Local—Shop-Lifters Are Indicted.

Local—Proposed New Rules Governing Republican Primary Elections.

Local—West Side and Suburban.

Local—Lawson County News.

Local—Neighboring County Happenings.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.

Local—The Markets.