TONIGHT'S PRIMARIES.

Republicans and Democrats Will Nominate Ward Officers.

The voters of the Fourteenth ward, both Republican and Democratic, either by fate or purpose, will hold their caucuses for ward nominations this afternoon and evening.

Probably at no other time in the political history of the ward has such a contest been in prospect.

The present incumbents of the upper and lower branches, P. J. McCann and P. J. Nealis, will seek Democratic renominations, but will be opposed by other ambitious Democrats.

The Republicans will, no doubt, give the full endorsement of the party in the ward to Peter Ross, of West Lackawanna avenue, for select council.

An evening of sociability. On very few occasions have the members of St. Leo's fallen and their friends enjoyed themselves better than last evening's affair gave them opportunity to do.

The following officers were elected at a recent meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the Simpson Methodist church: Mrs. M. A. Varney, honorary president; Mrs. S. W. Wright, president; Mrs. J. P. Randolph, first vice-president; Mrs. W. Duvie, second vice-president; Mrs. F. C. Hall, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Castner, treasurer.

A new band is to be organized Monday evening, Jan. 17, at 7:30 o'clock. Musicians who are interested in the project are requested to meet on that evening in the Morning Star Hotel hall, 75 North Second street.
