in the recollections of those present. Roswell P. Patterson was born at Lansingville, Delaware county, N. Y. April 26, 1822. His father, Daniel Patterson, was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, who came from there to Lansingville in 1816. His mother was Matilda Peake, of New Hampshire. Believing that a commercial life and a different locality offered advantages greater than the quiet husbandry of the valley of the little Delaware, Mr. Patterson came, at the age of twentyone, to Honesdale and has been for fifty-five years an active, important factor in the development of Northeastern Pennsylvania.

He remained five years (1843-8) at Honesdale with his uncle, Henry Darte. Having married, he then removed to Waymart and engaged in the mercanthe business and continued there as merchant, tanner, etc., continuously until 1872, a period of twenty-four years, save two (1857-8), which he spent at Carbondale as a partner of George L. Morss in the tanning business.

It was in Waymart that Mr. Patterson laid the foundation of the competency which he now so deservedly enjoys. From 1872 to 1876 he lived at Herrick Center and was engaged in the commercial, tanning and lumbering business. Since 1886 he has been at Carbondale, where he is the head of the wholesale grocery business of R. P. Patterson & Sons, though leaving the conduct of the business to his sons and giving his attention to his various investments. During the greater part of his life he has been a considerable land owner and has given more or less attention to farming.

Mrs. Patterson was born at Canaan (now Waymart), July 29, 1825. Her parents were Leonard Starkweather and Sarah Stanton Starkweather, who came from Preston township, Connecticut, to Wayne county in 1808. He was a school teacher. Mrs. Patterson's mother was a daughter of Colonel Asa Stanton, also a native of Preston township, Connecticut, and who came to Wayne, then Northampton county, in 1783. He was, in the full sense of the word, one of the pioneers of this region. He came out from a locality that had been settled nearly a century and which was a land of schools and churches, and enjoying the securities and comforts of a home life, to take up life in the forest. His nearest neighbor was at the first nine miles distant He became a mighty hunter as well as woodsman and husbandman. As he had been a Revolutionary soldier, he now became colonel of militia. He was identified with other active spirits of the time in incorporating turnpike companies,

A goodsized audience was present and its responsiveness was assurance that Mr. Barry will ever receive a warm welcome in the Pioneer City. There is a breeziness and brilliancy and bustle about Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer's huge success, "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which will be seen at the Grand Opera house Monday, Jan. 17, which is exhilarating. The prolonged success of the plece in New York and Boston is due to the fact that it can be seen again and again without a moment of weariness. The play abounds in laughable incidents, character sketches and witty dialogue and the fun is uproar-iously funny.
