The northern division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western rail-road have had men levelling off the surface of the tics between the rails to be in readiness for the new snow plow that they are going to use that will run so close to the ties that it will just miss the spike heads. It will be manipulated by an engine and freight car, the plow being fastened, or attached to the freight car. The car will contain one man to adjust the plow to the proper height for running. The engineer when nearing a crossing will blow the whistle, which will be the signal for the man in the car to raise the plow in order to pass over the cattle guards placed at each crossing. The object of the company in using this style of plow is, that it will do away with the shoveling, by the section men, of the snow inside of each rail for the entire length of the road.

Delightful Mexican Tours.

Mexico, with its grand natural scenery. Its semi-tropical climate, its interesting history, and its strange civilization, is a most attractive region for tourists. The sights of that remarkable country can be seen to the best possible advantage in connection with Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb's excursions. Those enterprising tourist managers are forming parties to leave Philadelphia January 28 and February 16. The trevellers will stop at various places in the Southern States, and in Mexico visit a dozen or more of the principal cities, spending a week in the City of Mexico, with a side trib to Cuernavaca, and making trips down into the tropics over both the Tampico and the Vera Cruz lines. On the return California is to be visited. The journey will be made in a special Pulman vestibuled train with a diming car, and only a limited number of passengers will be taken. Well Intentioned, But Unfortunate. In the hurry of speech and the anxiety o be polite one is very often hable to lips of the tongue which may put an entirely different construction upon the sen-tence than was intended. For example, upon arriving at your entertainer's house, you say: "I beg a thousand pardons for coming late," and are met by your hos-tess with the words, "My dear sir, no pardons are needed, you can never come too

Take another instance. At an evening "Can you tell me who that exceedingly plain man is sitting opposite to us?" "That is my brother." "Oh, I beg your pardon," she renlied, much confused, "I did not notice the resemblance." "Here, my dear husband, said a loving

"Here, my dcar husband, said a loving wife, "I have brought you a little silver pig for luck. It's a charm, you know, dear, to bring happiness to a house." "Ah, how kind of you, darling! But why should I need a little pig to bring rue luck when I bave you still?" An awkward compliment recently rath-er disturbed the harmony of a wedding breakfast given by a substantial farmer blessed with five daughters, the eldest being the bride. A neighboring young farmer, who was honored with an invita-tion, thinking, no doubt, he ought to say something smart and complimentary upon omething smart and complimentary upor the event, addressing the bridegroom, said: "Well, you have got the pick of the batch."
