TWO MORE UNHAPPY WIVES.

One Wants Divorce Because of Crnelty; the Other, Descriton. Two new divorce cases were instituted yesterday. Rose Dobson, of 822 Washington avenue, by her next friend. Albert chmm by her next friend, Albert Schneck, asks for separation from her husband, William Dobson, of Yostville, because he treated her cruelly. She alleges that among other things he accused her of subjecting herself to a criminal operation, and at one time dragged her out of a sick bed by the hair of the head. They were married July 3, 1888, at Moscow, and she left him Dec. 23, 1893,

M. J. Martin is her attorney. The parties in the second case are Margaret S. Flynn, of Scranton, libel-lant, and Charles Flynn, respondent. They were married Jan. 25, 1887, and lived together until nearly eight years. Simple desertion is the grounds for the application. G. M. Watson is the libellant's attorney.

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS.

The Sunshine of Paradise.

was a well-pleased audience that last night saw "The Sunshine of Para-dise Alley" at the Lyceum. It is a play in four acts by Denman Thompson and in four acts by Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer, that gives a realistic glimpse of life in New York city. The first act is laid at an East River dock with a view of the Brooklyn bridge, and the second is laid in the apartments of Widow McNally in Paradise alicy. In the third act the alley, in all its hideousness, is shown, and in the fourth act the audience is transported to a lovely autumn scene in Bronx Park. The action of the play is rapid, and the audience never loses interest in it. Startling climaxes are avoided, and in place of them. maxes are avoided, and in place of them, situations are arranged to hold continuous attention. The scenic accessories were elaborate and beautiful.

The company that produced the play was large and competent. During the four acts many pleasing specialties were introdeued by John Walsh, John J. Flynn, Miss Lottle Faust, James B. Bradley, Miss Jessie MacDonald, Phila. May and Lizzie Farrell. In the fourth act there was a very entertaining foot Burlesques for Three Days.

For three nights, commencing tonight, and matinees this afternoon and Saturand matthees this atternoon and Saturday, the attraction at Music hall will be Fred Rider's Night Owls in an entirely new burlesque entitled "Punch," which deals with the love of a troubadour. The specialties are all introduced during the action of the burlesques. The company includes the imperial Tokay Dancers of Buda Pesth, Hungary, in wild, weird, and wonderful terpsichorean evolutions.

A Paris Model.

This season has not been prolific in theatrical novelties, but from all ac-counts the new comedy. "A Paris Model." by Jane Mauldit-Feigl, will prove one of the best attractions presented here this season. The company selected by Rudolph Aronson is one of the best comedy organizations ever brought together and includes Mile. Pilar-Morin who has delighted exclusive society gatherings at the Waldorf Astoria this winter with her elever acting. This actress is propably best remembered by theater-spers for her charming roots and in Pilar Pilar in the content of the charming roots. for her charming portrayal in "L'Enfant Prodigue," under the management of Augustin Daly. Others prominent in the cast are Maud Haslam, a popular and clever comedienne; Caroline Cook, Možie Revelle. Leo Ditrichstein, an expert "character actor." William Bonnelli, John Harrington, Felix Haney. The production will be seen at the Lycrum part duction will be seen at the Lyceum next Monday.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS.

The diminutive locomotive used on the haulage system in the Central mines has been brought out and will be overhauled and repaired.

The usual working order for the Delaware, Lackawaiina and Western com-pany's collieries for this week will be three eight hour days.

The employes of the repair shops of the Pennsylvania company at Dunmore have gone on a ten hour shift. Eight hours was the shift for last week.

Operations will be commenced in few days by Contractor Pugh, to sink the Central shaft from the Clark vein to the Dunmore vein, a distance of about % there will be an attempt to again overthere will be an attempt to again over-stock the coal market with the certainty of bringing prices to a point where heavy losses must be incurred by all of the mining companies. There seems to be a greater willingness to observe the conditions which the immutable law of supply and demand requires for its ful-fillment. There is a closer appreciation also of the fact that the non-observance of these conditions involves not only low of these conditions involves not only low prices for the product, but the difference betewen some adequate return for the capital and labor expended, and an actual loss which must be paid from some other resource. It is because these matters have come to be appreciated at last by the large monied interests that there is unusually good reason to hope for a continuance of the improvement now sected.
