BEFORE BREAKFAST.

The best display of fruit seen in Scraton in many a day is a collection of New Mexican apples in the window of Clark, the florist. They fill a large glass cas and are veritable "apples of gold." New Mexico produces such fruit as this she certainly has received the choicest favors of the Goddess of Pomona. Some of these beautiful spheres are flamin red, others golden yellow or crimson and violet. There are blushing Winesaps, Golden Permains, transparent None Such and gorgeously striped Hen Davis. If such fruit could replace some the disreputable worm-caten and effete apples found in our markets at the present time, many a heart would rejoice as the memory of the apples of childhood come floating back, for there are none so delectable as those of "Auid Lang Syne," except it may be those re minders from far away New Mexico. We hope our agricultural friends may see them. The growers in the West, it is them. The growers in the West, it is said, are planting largely with an eye to the eastern market, so a word to the wise may be sufficient. The orchardist in the East must prune and cultivate or his far away competitor with a superior article will come in and take his home market in fruit, as he already has in

ENDELLSOHN WORKED A SCHEME. He Got the Overcont, But Was Arrested for It. David Endellsohn, proprietor of a tailoring establishment on Lackawanna avenue, was arrested yesterday on a charge of larceny, preferred by J. A. Watres, formerly a dealer in gentle-men's furnishings on Lackawanna avenue. The case concerns an overcoat which was made for Mr. Watres at Endellsohn's establishment. The garment, in turn, was sold by Mr. Watres to a West Scranton young man and was at the latter's home when the alleged larceny was com-mitted. Mr. Watres had promised to pay Endellsohn before this month passed. A few days ago, however, he failed in business and it was this which prompted Endellsohn to recover the oat in the manner he did.

Locating the coat, he sent word to the mother of the young man who had the garment, asking that it be returned to the tailor shop, so that the collar could be altered. The coat was given to Endellsohn's messenger and that was the last seen of it. Endellsohr admitted the larceny, "but," he said 'do you want us to work for no pay? He was held under $200 bail by Al derman Howe yesterday for appear ance at court.

POSTAL DELIVERY SYSTEM THREATENED

Orders Received from Washington to Reduce Expenses.

POSTMASTER RIPPLE FIGHTING IT

He Has Had a Vigorous Correspondence by Letter and Telegram with the Postoffice Department. Government Wants to Reduce the Number of Carriers and Deliveries in Order to Avoid a Big Deficiency in the Free Delivery Appropriation.

Vigorous steps are being taken by the postoffice department to reduce the number of free deliveries in this and other cities in order to avoid an anticipated deficiency of $150,000 in the overnment's free delivery appropria-Just as vigorous means have been taken by Colonel E. H. Ripple Scranton's postmaster, to avoid cars will be increased from seven to crippling of the service here. The particulars of Colonel Ripple's opposition to the proposed curtailment and the Sport Hill, giving each extension four facts furnished by him to the postal department give reason for hope that Scranton may escape being included in the pruning process.

On Jan. 17 a letter was written and sent here from the first assistant postmaster general, saying the time had come when it was absolutely necessary for the department to devise ways and means to avoid the expected deficiency of $150,000 in the free delivery service. The letter requested that Scranton reduce its carrier force by reducing the number of deliveries in the residential dis tricts from three to two, etc. Colonel Ripple was asked to take steps to carry out this arrangement Feb. 1 and notify the department of the number of carriers affected by the change.

A telegram was received by Colonel Ripple on Wednesday from Superintendent Machen, of the free delivery system, asking for a statement by wire of this city's schedule of carriers and deliveries. The facts were forwarded immediately. The telegram following so soon upon the receipt of the first assistant postmaster-general's letter indicated that the crisis was more than ommonplace.

COL. RIPPLE'S STATEMENT.

Colonel Ripple said yesterday, in reponse to a Tribune reporter's inquiry Our carrier force consists of thirty-seven men. Of these one is an afternoon and night collector, who does not deityer mail. Of the thirty-six other carriers, ten deliver mail in the business portion of the city alone, eight in the business and residential parts combined and the remaining eighteen in the residential part alone. Except one of these, who makes two full deliveries each day and a third delivery over a portion of his route on our days of the week, no carrier of the eighteen makes two full deliveries. They make one full delivery and not to exceed a half of the second delivery. If this delivery were reduced, the carriers would be unable to carry with them in one trip the mail belonging to their respective routes, and still less so if those routes were enlarged. All these facts I have sent to Washington by telegram and let-

I did not understand from the assistant postmaster general's letter—and I so wrote him—that the department contemplated a reduction below eries a day in the residential districts, but if such is the intention our present delivery is so much below that point that it would seem almost impossible to barassing our entire residential deliv-I assured the department I would glady do what I could to help over the emerrency if after the presentation of these facts it was decided necessary for us to do so. However the peculiar conditions concerning Scranton's great area of nineteen square miles will also be properly presented by our representative at Washsumption that the demand for a reducof expenses here is not absolutely being left with our present service disturbed—this, of course, on the BOARD OF TRADE ACTS. When the Scranton board of trade officials ascertained vesterday that the city's free delivery service was threat ened with a reduction the executive committee of that body promptly me and adopted the following resolutions which are self-explanatory: At a meeting of the executive committee of the Scranton Board of Trade held this day the following resolutions were unan

mously adopted: Whereas, Our attention has been called to the rumor that a reduction in the number of letter-carriers is soon to be made in the Scranton postoffice in obedience to orders from headquarters at Washington, with the end in view of relucing expenses; and

Whereas, Any such reduction of the number of letter-carriers will mean fewer deliveries, which are now less than they should be in a city covering the ter-ritory that Scranton does, Therefore be

Resolved, That we deprecate change which will destroy the efficiency of the present postal service, on the plea of economy or deficiency of appropriation ,and we do respectfully protest that as our postoffice is paying a large profit annually to our government, our citizens should not suffer by any curtailment of the free delivery system.

Resolved, That instead of reducing the number of deliveries, we believe they should be materially increased.

Resolved, That these resolutions be sent to the postmaster general, postmas-ter of our city and our representatives and senators in congress.
