

Social and PERSONAL

Mrs. George H. Jermyn gave two beautiful luncheons this week in honor of her sister, Mrs. Powell. The table decorations were in pink and were most effective. The guests on Wednesday were: Mrs. William T. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Scranston, Mrs. P. H. Jermyn, Mrs. H. P. Simpson, Mrs. H. Decker, Mrs. J. L. Lee, Mrs. H. W. Kingsbury, Miss Anna K. Sanderson.

At the luncheon given yesterday the guests were: The Misses Archibald, Miss Flora Matthews, Miss Clark, Miss Ailsa Dale, the Misses Jermyn, Miss Boies, Miss Voorhes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Simpson entertained a small company of friends at dinner Thursday evening in honor of Miss Clarke, of Germantown.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Dale will entertain a company of friends Thursday evening.

The Misses Seybold will give a card party this afternoon.

Mrs. N. Y. Lee has issued invitations to a card party for Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. C. gave a thimble tea on Thursday, when the guests were: Mrs. Sidney Williams, Miss Audenried, and Miss Reeves, of Germantown; Mrs. B. E. Watson, of the Misses Archibald, Miss Hunt and Miss Leod.

Miss May E. Smith, a sister of Judge P. P. Smith, of the Superior court, and P. J. Messitt, stamp clerk at the Scranton postoffice, were married at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at St. Paul's church, Green Ridge, by Rev. J. J. Griffin, of Carbondale. After the ceremony a dinner was served at the residence of the bride, 1505 Adams avenue, Green Ridge, at which Revs. Griffin, P. J. McManus and J. I. Dunn, with a few new friends of Mr. and Mrs. Messitt, were guests. Mr. and Mrs. Messitt left on the 3.30 p. m. train for an extended wedding trip. They will reside on Adams avenue.

Mrs. Sidney Williams, of Jefferson Avenue, gave an informal and most delightful four o'clock tea Wednesday afternoon, in honor of her guests, Miss Reeves and Miss Audenried, of Germantown. Mrs. H. W. Cross poured tea. Mrs. Williams was assisted in receiving by Miss Reeves and Miss Audenried. Among the guests were Mrs. E. B. Jermyn, Mrs. J. L. Wenz, Mrs. B. E. Watson, Mrs. Sweet, Miss Archibald, Miss Augusta Archibald, Miss Elizabeth Torrey, Miss Linn, Miss Coleman, Miss Hunt.

Mrs. Willard Matthews gave a charming tea Tuesday afternoon at her handsome home on Quincy avenue. The rooms were tastefully decorated. The dining room was particularly effective in red. A very large number of society people of the city and many out of town guests called during the hours of reception. Mrs. Matthews was assisted in receiving by her sister, Mrs. William McClave. Mrs. E. B. Jermyn and Mrs. T. R. Brooks presided at the table in the dining room, where Miss Frances Pratt, Miss Louise Matthews and Miss Romayne Seybold assisted in serving. About the rooms were Mrs. C. P. Matthews, Mrs. R. G. Brooks, Mrs. Walter Matthews and Miss Jennie Andrews.

Miss Ailsa Dale served lunch and in the library. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Matthews entertained those who assisted during the afternoon. Hunting-ton catered.

Mrs. Watres, assisted by Mrs. Henshaw, Mrs. Hull and Miss Shrewsbury, exhibited an interesting collection of pictures of Paris to five classes of the Young Women's Christian association, numbering about seventy-five members, at her home Tuesday evening, after which light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, at their new home on Adams avenue, informally entertained a small company of friends at a progressive euchre Tuesday evening.

The many friends of Miss Hattie V. Schooley, the engaging daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schooley, of South Main street, and E. C. Miller, son of the late E. Wadsworth Miller, will learn with pleasure of their marriage, which happy event was solemnized in Scranton yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of that city. Though a comparatively young affair, the popularity of the two young people makes the event of unusual interest. Both the bride and groom have been lifelong residents of Pittston and are held in high esteem. Yesterday's Pittston Gazette.

Miss Martha Sharpe gave a very delightful reception on Monday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock in honor of Mr. Ellsworth, who lectured before the Moccannaga Chapter, Children of the American Revolution, at the Nesbitt that evening. Those present were the children and their parents, the officers of the children's society, Miss Stella Farnham, Miss Stella Wadhams, Mrs. Sheldon Reynolds, Mrs. Benjamin Reynolds and Miss Annie Phelps. Also a number of the D. A. R. and in general, among whom were Mrs. W. H. McCarty, Mrs. Sidney Woodward, Mrs. J. C. Phelps, Mrs. R. B. Ricketts, Mrs. T. P. Hand, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. A. Norris, Rev. and Mrs. Horace Hayden, Colonel and Mrs. Beaumont, F. C. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Price, E. Rice, Jr., and Mrs. Cox, of Alden; Rev. and Mrs. Weir, of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson and Mrs. Benjamin Dimmick, of Scranton; Mr. Patterson, of Beach Chank.—Wilkes-Barre Times.

The leading social event of the week if not of the season, was the annual Press club ball, which took place in the Armory on Wednesday evening. Never in the history of the club have the decorations been so elaborate, the music of such a high standard, the enjoyment so general, and the attendance so large. A specially noteworthy feature was the cosmopolitan character of the gathering, but this cosmopolitanism made no difference to the attendants, for they all went to have a good time and they succeeded admirably.

The Press club is the only local organization which has thus far been successful in keeping out that class of people who persist in pushing their way to the front at nearly all social events and that, too, in spite of the fact that they know they are not wanted. The Press club ball has become an annual event, and is looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation by a large number of Wilkes-Barre's leading people, who have come to know that the newspaper men realize exactly what is wanted in the terpsichorean line, and they have been successful in filling that want to the eminent satisfaction of all concerned.—Wilkes-Barre Times.

Miss Etta Sligh, daughter of Fred G. Sligh, of Wilkes-Barre, and Harry J. Mandeville were quietly married in the parsonage of the Elm Park church, in this city, on Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Griffin. The bride is a well known vocalist.

Method in Her Melody.

Bishop Paret, of Baltimore, some time ago was the guest of an Episcopal family in the city of Scranton. From the Bishop that he liked hard-boiled eggs for breakfast, his hostess went to the kitchen to boil them herself. While so engaged she heard the first stanza of the hymn "Rock of Ages." Then she sang the second stanza. The Bishop, who was in the dining room, joining in. When it came his turn to sing, he was silent, and the Bishop remarked:

"Why not sing the third verse?"

"The third verse?" replied the lady, as she came back to the dining room, carrying the steaming eggs. "Oh, that's not necessary."

"Oh, you see," replied Bishop Paret. "I don't understand. When I am cooking eggs, I always sing one verse for soft-boiled and two for hard-boiled."

A Remedy for a Black Eye.

There is nothing to compare with the tincture or strong infusion of capsicum annuum mixed with an equal bulk of mucilage of gum arabic with the addition of a few drops of glycerine. This should be applied over the bruised surface with a camel's-hair pencil and allowed to dry on a second or third coating being applied. It is not necessary to wash the eye done as soon as the injury is inflicted it will invariably prevent blackening of the bruised tissue. The same remedy has no equal in rheumatic sore or stiff neck.—Medical Progress.

A LIFE STORY.

Above her little sufferer's bed, With all a mother's care, She stroked the curly, throbbing head, And smothered the fevered face.

"He does not know my love, my fears, My love and my grief, my joy and my tears, But some day in the after years, Some day he'll understand."

Some day he'll know I love him so, Some day he'll understand."

A wild lad plays his thoughtless part, And tramples on his mother's heart—Ofttimes and knows it not. He plays among his noisy mates, He knows his mother's grief, and grieves, His mother sighs, as still he waits, "Some day he'll comprehend."

The day will be When he will see, Some day he'll comprehend."

The strong youth plays his strenuous part;

And soon he finds another heart The mate unto his own. She gives him up in joy and woe, He takes his young bride's hand, His mother murmurs, "Will he know All ever understand?"

When he will know When he will understand."

The strong man fights his battling days, The fight is hard and grim, His mother's plate, old-fashioned ways Have little charm for him.

The dimness falls around her years, The shadows round her stand, She mourns in loneliness and tears, "He'll never understand."

He'll never know He'll never understand."

A bearded man of serious years, Bends down above the dead, And rains the tribute of his tears Over an old, gray head. He stands the open grave above, Amid the mourning bands; And now he understands his mother's love. Now doth he know She loved him so, And now he understands.

Religious News.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Giffin served notice on his congregation at Elm Park church at the Sunday morning service that he proposed to begin extra meetings in February, and that he expected his parishioners to arrange their social engagements accordingly, and to allow nothing to interfere with their attendance at these services. Dr. Giffin is wonderfully successful in conducting prayer meetings. The Wednesday evening service is thronged every week, and not only the regular attendant, but the chance visitor is sure to be impressed with the inspiration which the pastor seems to diffuse. On Wednesday evening of this week six converts were received.

PRACTICE WHAT THEY PREACH

Leading Clergymen of Every Denomination Use and Advise Paine's Celery Compound.

Like Goldsmith's parson who Tried each art, reprieved each dull delay, Allured to brighted worlds and led the way.

Great preachers throughout the country have been the most untiring and earnest in telling the truth about Paine's celery compound, in urging sickly people to use it, and at the same time
