BOULEVARD TO HARVEY'S LAKE.

The Work of Surveying it is Now in Progress.

The Dallas Post says of the proposed boulevard between Wilkes-Barre and James J. Eagen.

Harvey's Lake: 'At last A. S. Orr's scheme for boulevard between Wilkes-Barre and Harvey's Lake is to be an acomplished fact. A company has been chartered, and during the past week a corps of engineers has been engaged in the work of locating the new drivewayor perhaps it should be termed a speedway, for it will be almost as level as a race track, and will be kept in as good condition. The route as now understood is to leave Wilkes-Barre over the North street bridge. Over the flats the upper road is maintained in excellsidered necessary until the Kingston borough streets are reached. The driveway will extend back to a point near Payne's breaker, crossing the Delaware Lackawanna and Western and Lehigh Valley Railroad above grade, and striking Pringle Hill well toward the top. The new road will then strike the top of the hill, and will extend around and through the gorge very nearly at the top of mountain. All ravines will be crossed by high bridges. Above Shaver's mill the railroads will be crossed above grade by bridges, and the boulevard wil then bear to the north and pass Dallas back of W. K. Goss' woods, and will then extend to the Highland House, and from there by the most feasible route to Harvey's Lake. The boulevard will be distinctly a pleasure drive, and will undoubtedly find great favor among the people of the valley who keep their own turnouts. It will be a toll road, of course, Bicyclists will also find it a wonderfully popular road, as over its smooth surface and even grade the wheelmen will be able to get out to the lake almost as quickly as by train. The grade will be very nearly that of a railroad, A. S. Orr is the leading spirit in the enterprise, which is deserving of all suc-cess. It is understood that the stock of

A Bridge Extemporized from Telegraph Wire and Tree Branches.

From Harper's Round Table. Men who ploneer the way in new parts of the world, where wild nature reigns, and no resource of civilization is there to comfort and help, must needs be full of expedients and keen of wit to get along and come out win-Some ploneers succeed where others fail simply because, when driven to it, they can build a boat or house without tools, make palatable bread without yeast, eat stewed monkey or fried ants without a qualm, or with ready tact transform excited savages, howling for war, into a crowd of laughing friends. Ten years ago a French expedition was sent into the Western Soudan to occupy a new region and build a fort at Siguiri, where the Tangisso river joins the Niger. One day they came to Kokoro river, which could not be forded, and there were no native canoes to carry them across. The whites sat down on the bank to talk the problem over. Pontoon made from felled trees, and other schemes, were discussed. At last one of them said: "Look here. We have 6,000 feet of telegraph wire, and we can build a uspension bridge. There are plenty of trees on both banks. Let the boys pass the wire from shore to shore, drawing it taut around the foot of the trees. We can make a wide, strong roadway by covering the wire with small straight branches, and putting on these a layer of earth and grass, and there's our bridge."

Susquehanna, Jan. 25.-In November last, A. J. Pepper, an aged farmer, was murdered in his barn in Rush townzhip. He was a bachelor, a man of means, and lived with an aged sister. On the night in question he had gone to the barn to do some choirs. Not returning in several hours, the sister arose from her bed, lighted a lamp and went to the barn, where she found the old man unconscious. He had been struck with a club or other blunt instrument. Neighbors were summoned and the old man was carried into the house. He never regained consciousness. Upon his person was $80 in cash, So far as known, he did not have an enemy in the world. The county commissioners offered a reward of $1,000 on all furniture for the arrest and conviction of the murderer or murderers, and District Attorney Ainey has been energetic in his efforts to ferret out the mystery. Several arrests, on suspicion, have been made, but the prisoners have been discharged for want of evidence sufficient to hold them. On Saturday evening, District Attorney Ainey and Chief-of-Police McMahon, of Susque-hanna, went to Rock Rift, N. Y., pear Hancock, and arrested Cornelius Shew, recently of Susquehanna, on a charge of being implicated in the murder. On Have your work Sunday the same officers went to Coventry. Broome county, N. Y., and ardone this month rested J. J. Smith, also recently of Susquehanna, on the same charge. The at half the former two men were brought to Susquehanna and on Sunday taken to the Montrose jail. Shew has lived in Susquehanna for the greater portion of his life. He has been arrested several times for larceny, and has served a term in the Lackawanna county jail and in the Eastern penitentiary. Smith came to Susquehanna last spring from Franklin Forks with a woman named Graham, with whom he lived here until last fall, when they left. For several menths Shew was an inmate of the Smith home: After leaving here, Smith and the Graham woman separated. The latter is now in Binghamton. Hoping to secure the $1,000 reward, and possibly revenge, it is said that the Graham oman gave the authorities the information upon which the arrests were made. It is reported that Shew has made a confession, in which he states that Smith committed the murder. Smith's correct name is said to be

NOT ON THE PROGRAMME. The recent death of Rev. Frank A. Doney, of Scranton, brings vividly to my mind an incident of the "long ago." A few years after the close of the war, a party of some seventy newspaper men from New York and Pennsylvania, the writer included, enjoyed an excursion through some of the Southern states. Mr. Doney was at the time editor of a paper in Hawley. In Staunton, West Virginia, one evening, entertainments had been arranged, in honor of the in the Baptist church, with a good atparty, in three female colleges. In one | tendance, Quite a number of persons of the institutions the young ladies have professed conversion.

Those who were engineer of Southern airs exclusively, such as "Dixie," "My Maryland" and "Bonnie Blue Flag," but not a northern air. Out of courtesy, the party sat and took its medicine, all except Mr. Doney, who arose, and, in an impressive manner, said: "We have listened with a great deal of attention to the Southern selections, rendered so beautifully. would now like to hear "The Star Spangled Banner!" for about seven seconds. Then the regular programme continued. We didn't hear "The Star Spangled Banner." They were'nt playing it down there in those days."

Charles Van Wormer and Ralph B. Little, esqs., of Montrose, are prominent candidates for district attorney, How happy would I be with either were tother dear charmer away!" # Sleeplessness

ESPECIALLY FREQUENT IN HIGH ALTITUDES.

How it May be Overcome in Any Climete.

From the Chieftain, Pueblo, Col.

While the Rocky Mountain region is justly famed for its salubrious climate, and is becoming more and more the meeca toward which pilgrims are traveling from all parts of the world that they may fill their weakened lungs with its life-giving air, yet there are ailments in that climate as in any other, one of the chief of which is aleeplessness. This is due to the rarity of the air which on some constitutions is too stimulating to the nerves. In some cases patients are compelled to remove for a time to the sea level to escape the high nervous strain. As sleeplessness is not an uncommon accompaniment to certain nervous conditions (in any climate) the story of a woman of Pueblo, Col., may point a moral to others, who have had a similar affliction.

The woman came to Pueblo thirty years ago, when the town was a frontier settlement, and Indians were by no means unusual visitors, bands of Ute's often passing through extheir way from the mountain.

The woman came to Pueblo thirty years ago, when the town was a frontier settlement, and Indians were by no means unusual visitors, bands of Ute's often passing through on their way from the mountains down to the plains to hunt buffaloes.

She had been in good health, until a few years ago when at each recurring springtime she became debilitated, weak and languid. Her strength left her, she was listless and lifeless. This, too, in spite of the stimulating effects of the high altitude. The most serious difficulty, however, was sleeplessness, which she could not cure. The long weary watches of the night told on her health and he dreaded the approach of night. This lack of sleep weakened her strength and brought on extreme nervousness, until she was a physical wreck.

As she could not well take the long journey necessary to a change of climate, she sought for some nerve restorative, that would build up the nervous system, and thus ens-
