MILLER EHRGOOD HAD IT HIS WAY

Nide't Propose That Court Should Have the Whole Say.

AND COURT HAD TO COMPROMISE

Mine Fund Resisting the Payment of Funeral Benefits -- The Dypamo Unse Goes to the Jury and the Moscow Water Company Case Is About Finished .. Other Matters That Came Up in Common Pleas Court Yesterday.

Miller E. J. Ehrgood, of Daleville, didn't propose to let court have all the say in his affairs and it didn't. He was watching the closing scenes in the Mescow Water company case in No. 2 yesterday afternoon when a messenger touched him on the shoulder and the control of the plainting and the like. Bussell Dimmick appeared for the plainting and W. Gaylord Thomas for the description of the plainting and W. Gaylord Thomas for the description of the plainting and W. Gaylord Thomas for the description of the plainting and W. Gaylord Thomas for the description of the plainting and W. Gaylord Thomas for the description of the plainting and the pl was watching the closing scenes in the hispered that he was wanted in the ferse. Superior court room, where Judge ich he was defendant and Sprout, Woldron & Co., of Muncy, plaintiffs. Jumping up from his seat, he stalked calone upon the august presence of

out a jery."
"No. I can't. I've got to be in that other room over there. We'll put this case over till tomerrow. I haven't got my witnesses ready, nor anything and I can't go on here. We'll have to put Ehrgood's reloinder was interrupted by a suggestion from his counsel that the first twelve jurymen on the list be accepted and that as it was within half an hour of adjourning time, the case go over until the morning.

The attorneys for the plaintiff, Jesagreed to accept the twelve men in Ehrgood walked up and down in front of the bex, looking the jurymen over critically as he would a load of yearlings. I don't know that any of them won't make a good juryman. I guess-' 'Oh, we'll accept the first twelve.' said Mr. Diehl, impatiently. "You may go over now and look after the other court room,' 'addressing Ehrgood, "Going to try my case when I didn't want it tried. Huh! Well, I guess not. What must they be thinking of anyhow. Well, I-." The rest of Ehrgood's mutterings in retreat were lost vinging shut behind him Judge Pucdy could not repress smile as he told the tipstaff to adjourn the court until morning.

ANOTHER MILL CASE.

This second suit of the dusty yeamun from Daleville is also a mill case. He owned a mill at Dunmore and leased it to Crissman & Co. The machinery in it was pretty well worn and the lessees, with Ehrgood's permission. it is claimed, purchased new machinstalled it in the mill on trial. After a time Crissman & Co. concluded that they would not keep the machinery, that they could not pay for it, and notified Sprout, Walaron & Co, to that effect. Representatives of the company went to Dunmore to remove the machinery, but they had counted withwhen the company's agents came he was in full possession and ready to maintain possession. He still has possession and the suit is to recover the machinery.

During the afternoon the case of Maria Wheeler against the Lackawanna Coal Company Accidental fund as called before Judge Edwards. John Wheeler, husband of the plaintiff, who was a member of the society, died May 25, 1895, and according to the laws of the organization his widow should have received $75 funeral benefits. The society claimed that he was in arrears and not entitled to benefits.

Mrs. Wheeler alleges that Captain P. H. McCann and William Scrivens, prosident and secretary respectively, of the society, came to the house on the day her husband died, took his receipt book and in the evening returned it with the statement that he was paid up and that she would receive the $75 after the funeral.

ONE OF THE CLAIMS.

It was also claimed that even if Wheeler was in arrears it would not prevent the collection of the benefits, as the society admits that it did not notify him that he was in arrears and that it was a custom of the society to give such notification. Messrs, McCann and Scrivens denied at the trial yes-

When the case of Elizabeth Thomas against Thomas Williams, executor of estate of Philip Williams, late of Olyphant, was called before Judge Ed-wards, the plaintiff was not ready to proceed and not being able to give any reasonable excuse therefor, the judge directed judgment for the defendant. The suit was for $800 wages. Mrs. Thomas claims she kept house for Williams for over five years and that she was to receive $3 a week for her services. The defendant resists payment on the ground that Mrs. Thomas and her three small children were harbored

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT. A verdict for the defendant was re turned in the case of Ralph P. Hill against J. F. McCawley. The defendor the hallway and burst like a ant owed the plaintiff a bill of $350. The case of the Onondaga Dynamo about to draw a jury in this | company against the National Elevator company was given to the jury at 3.30 yesterday afternoon. No verdict had een reached up to adjournment.

The case of Ehrgood against the Mosow Water company will be given to the jury this morning. The closing address for the defense was made by Mr. there. I think " said the Kelly, and the closing for the plaintiff of can sit down here if you was finished by Mr. Newcomb, just at adjourning time.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Matilda Fahrig yesterday took an appeal from the award of arbitrators in the case in which she was plaintin and 2. Schimpff, defendant. In the case of P. Y. Moran against the contribution to the general laughter.

"I'm affail we will have to proceed.
Mr. Ehrgood, without you," he remarked,
Ehrgood's of the plaintiff's failure to file a declaration within one year as required by law. The motion for a non-pros was made by City Solictor H. O. Watrous.

Through ex-Judge Stanton, Charles Fischer yesterday brought an action in trespass against Mrs. Daniel Williams, demanding $1,000 as damages for injury caused to him and his good name by an accusation of theft made against him by accusation of theft made against him by Mrs. Williams in the presence of divers good persons in this city Sept. 28 last. sup & Jessup and Churles J. "Well, you haven't any objection to any of them, have you?" asked Mr. Diehl of his client.

"Well, you haven't any objection to any of them, have you?" asked Mr. Diehl.

"Why, I tell you I don't know them, I gress they are pretty good men," and Ehrgood walked up and down in front.

"Attorney William Vokolek yesterday applied to court tor a charter for the Greek Catholle Church of St. John of Mayfield. The subscribers are: Rev. Theodor Obusaliewcz, Alex, Shlanta, Theodor Wachina, Ozan Dzwonczyk, Petro Sabat, Alex Shuinik, Aukacz Czaykowskiz, Kery Stawisky, Wasyl Naydneh, Michael Dzwonczyk, Hike Caulik, Jwanik Andro.

Amelication for a new trial was made. Application for a new trial was made esterday by C. H. Soper, acting for the plaintiff in the case of Uriah McDonnett against the Scranton Traction company. The case was tried before Judge Love last week and resulted in a verdict of $10 for the plaintiff. He is not satisfied with this munificence and would try his with this manufacture and would try his cause before a different jury. Major Everett Warren, of counsel for the defense, has made a motion for judgment for the defendant, notwithstanding the verdict, on the strength of law points reserved by Judge Love.

SITUATION IN WILKES-BARRE.

What the Wilkes-Barre Record's Base Ball Says About It.

In an article on the base ball situation in Wilkes-Barre, the Record of that city said yesterday;

The Record observes among its various xchanges from other Eastern league ities a tendency among the sporting writers to attribute the tenacious manne in which Wilkes-Barre is holding onto ety from the plaintiff company and in- her franchise and club to a desire to bleed some one and get a fancy price. In other words it seems that they think Wilkes-Barre is putting up a big bluff and hopes to bunco Newark or some other possible bidder out of a big sum. Ear from it.

Wilkes-Barre and the Wilkes-Barre management clings to her club and franchise because she orizes it and honestly believes she can go through the seaso out Ehrgoed. During the night he believes she can go through the seasor broke into the mill, fortified it and and win a respectable place in the race and also win back some of the coin she has lost during her two years of tall end experiences.

Wilkes-Barre has no desire to bluff or bunco any city or anybody. Her action in deciding to retain her franchise-something that is indisputably her own right and property-is taken deliberately onservatively and she counts the cost It is absolutely immaterial whether Scranton is in the circuit or otherwise. and while outside writers assert that Wilkez-Barre will ultimately conclude to puit since Scranton has retired from the ileid, the Record regards her departure a benefit instract of a calamity.

And there is absolutely nothing con-nected with the statements or conduct of her representatives that warrants the secusations so freely and indiscriminately ade by several of the writers circuit that Wilkes-Borre has been playing for more money.

She said at the December meeting in New York that the Wilkes-Barre franchise was not for sale and she says to That's plain enough!

JUDGE AGAIN CHALLENGED.

This One Is from a Boxer He Recently Defeated.

John McWilliams, of New London Conn., wants to meet the winner of next Wednesday night's Judge-Ryan ontest, as the following letter will

New York, Jan. 25, 1896. Sporting Editor Scranton Tribune. I hereby challenge the winner of the Judge and Byan bout that takes place before the American Sporting club Feb. 2. on behalf of Jack McWilliam, of New London, Conn., and I will bet any part of $500 that McWilliam's wins. Yours truly. Frank Couley.

Manager for McWilliam. McWilliams is the boxer who was deented by Judge in this city last spring, in that bout Judge broke a bone in the back of his left hand. The injury preented him from training until November. It is not probable that ludge would accept a match with Me-Williams, as the former, in case be defeats Ryan next Wednesday night, s to be matched with Charley Me Keever, of Philadelphia, for 15 rounds before the Palace Sporting club, of Trenton, the last week in February. McKeever is now in Chicago endeav-ering to secure a six-round meeting with George Kerwin at 138 pounds. Bobby Dobbs, who defeated Jack Fox, of New York, in eight rounds Monday night at Trenton, will be in Judge's corner on the night of his contest with Ryan,

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS.

Charity Ball Tonight.

Manager Woods, of the Waites Con dy company, has received so many re-quests, both verbal and written, from sersons who were unable to obtain seats at either of the performances of "The harity Ball" given last week, that he has determined to give one more performance of the play in Scranton. It will be presented at the Academy tonight. It easily is the favorite of all the bills precented during the company's engage ment and without a doubt the theater will be crowded.

Miss New York, Jr.

For three nights, commencing tonight, with matinees today and Saturday, the attraction at Music hall will be the record breaker of the season, "Miss New York, Jr." Manager Oppenheimer has endeavored this season to have everyther and therearthy in thing entirely new and thoroughly in keeping with the times. "Miss New York, Jr." represents in most a realistic manner the union of the sister cites of New York and Brooklyn, and the advent into social circles of the much talked of "new woman." Harry Le Clair heads the list of noted people who form the ilio. Miss Florence Edwards, who by her myste-ious illuminated dances, has won the appellation of the "Queen of Fire;" Crawford and Manning, the popular black face comedians; the three Morellos, Wil-liam, Ida and their acting dog "Rob;" Gordon and Scanlon, the Irish aristo-rats; Arthur Rigby, the singing and lancing comedian; Sierra Nevada Farrington, the western prima donna, and Maria De Rossett, the lightning gun manipulator. "Little Queen of Egypt," a travesty on "Cleopatra," is the closing buriesque which, by the way, is one of the principal features of the performance which will be introduced the march of the white squadron, McNulty's Visit.

Ferguson & Emerick are two elever rish comedians who have gotten together and as a team are creating more real nearty endorsement than any similar omedians on the road. They have vir-unily taken the place of Barry & Fay, and the vehicle in which they will appear at the Academy of Music the first half of next week is entitled "McNulty's Visit." This comedy was written by Mr. Emerick, who has produced some great recent successes. They are surrounded by clever people, who not only can act, out introduce specialty features as well.
