NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

TUNKHANNOCK.

Important Changes on the Montrose Railroad -- Meeting of Pennsylvania Press Association.

Borough election is still some time nhead, but the campaign waxes hot. No matter how negligent the average Tuckhannocker may be in other things. he does with his might what his hands find to do in politics.

which, it is hoped, will benefit Mrs. Sittser's houlth. They will be uccompanied by Mrs. F. L. Sittser.

The change in running of trains on the Montrose railroad took place Wednesday. The traffic will all be handled by one train hereafter, making two goin." round trips daily. The passenger train that left here at 8.39 a. m. has been taken off. The rumored widening and extension of the road dees not seem Picty to materialize.

Among the cases in court disposed of this week are the following: E. L. Bacon vs. Nicholson Wa'er company, assumpsit, settled; Noxen school dis-Monroe school district, continued; H. A. Mack vs. Tunkhannock Manufacturing company, settled; L. E. Signton vs. Andrew Card, settled. Attorney D. C. DeWitt, of Towarda, was in all cadance at court this week. Mrs. A. C. Graham contemplates a trip to Philadelphia scor.

The annual meeting of the Northeastern Penncylvania Press association will be held in the new court house at Towanda, Saturday. New officers will be elected and several topics of interest to publishers will be bandled by different members of the association These meetings are always profitable and enjoyable. The association em-braces Bradford, Wyeming and Sullivan counties, with a standing invita-

On Monday last the following Lehigh Valley officials made a tour of inspection over the Montrose road; Rollin Wilbur, general superintendent; Charles E. Webster, chief engineer; S. Hagen, superintendent motive power R. Caffrey, general roadmaster: O. O. Esser, division superintendent: James N. Weaver, master mechanic, and throp and Leech, of Lackawanna counay. Another meeting will be held at the court house, in this place, on Monday and Tuesday, for which a fine programme has been provided and an interesting session is expected. Hon, S. R. Brunges will preside.

The work of Triton Hose company at the recent fire in the Prevest & Paust faundry deserves more than casual mention. The company is composed of volunteers, and they fought bravely for five long hours in wind and snow, never ceasing as long as there remained a spack that could do harm. The thanks of the town are due them.

The county auditors have not yet fin-ished overhauling the accounts of the commissioners and other officials, and their statement will not be handed out before Iomorrow or Monday. Their time was occurred yesterday in investigating the purchase of the iron bridge at Latenville, and several bridge dealers, as well as the commissioners themseives, were put upon the stand.

The prospects for free river bridges at Mchoopany and Laceyville is dubious, and the people of those towns will have to wear their high-water shoes when they cross the river. A project to connect Tunkhannock and Factoryville by telephone is on the Petty Governments of Europe Are Shadowed.

SOME LIVING PRETENDERS.

From Tit-Bits.

The profession of the royal pretender hs very much overdone in Europe just now, A Madrid editor has found six men who think they have claims to the crown of France, besides any number who think that they have paramount rights to the throne of Spain, and the purple of small Italian principalities. The most interesting of the Spanish pretenders is not Don Carlos, but a man whose name is seldom mentioned atside of the Iberian peninsula. He is the Duke of Medina-Celi, chief defender of the faith, fourteen-fold grandee of Spain, first of all Castilian knights, and direct descendant of Ferdinand and Isabella. For him and his family the race of Bourbon-Anjou, who now rule Spain, are nothing more than usurpers. As often as a new King of Spain is crowned, the ke's herald appears in the palace, and, in the presence of all the grandees of Spain, protests in the name of his lord against this usurpation, sets forth the claim of the Medina. Celis to the throne, and challenges every knight who may venture to dispute legitimacy of the duke's rights to defend his opinion in a duel to the death, "on the mountain or on the plain, by day or by night."

As no grandee of Spain has ever seen fit to take the duke and his hearld seriously, the head of the house of Medina-Celi has been left free to spend the income from his enormous fortune on his fads and to make perennial tours to his numerous estates. It is said that can travel from one end of Spain to the other, and sleep every night in one of his own houses. Under these circumstances, he has proved a less troublesome pretender than Don Carlos. This chief of Spanish pretenders was be examined.

so impoverished that, with the help of his secretary, he tried to turn into coin the gold chain of his Order of the Golden Fleece. By the death of Count Chambord and some luck in matrimony, hwever, he was eventually enabled to lay up a fortune against a rainy day and keep his decorations away from the goldsmiths and the pawnbrokers. A group of pretenders who are chronically bankrupt afflict the Italian provinces. At almost any time one may find in the continental newspapers brief paragraphs concerning the difficulties which a Count of Aquila, or Trani, or Syracuse, is having with the sheriffs. A census of pretenders has not been taken. A partial list of those who think that they have valid claims to the throne of France was published recently, however, They are Don Carlos: Alfonso XIII. King of Spain; Francis, sometime king of both Sicilies; Francis, Sebastion's son by his second wife, an aunt of the dead king; Robert once Duke of Parma; Louis Philippe of Orleans. All these gentlemen are descendants of Louis XIII of France, The scendants of Louis XIII of France. The last one to announce his pretensions to the world is General Francis of Bourbon, who suddenly began calling himself Duke of Anjou after the Count of Paris' death, and sent out a mainof Paris' death, and sent out a mainconcerning his claims. This course has been rather disastrous to him, for he has been deprived not only him, for he has been deprived not only of his command in the Spanish army, but also of the salary that went with Chic., Mil. & St. P., 25t<sub>2</sub>

TRUE GENEROSITY.

Once when General O. O. Howard was in Chattanooga a beggar, with a with-ered arm, from which the tingers and part of the hand were missing, came up to him and asked for aims. The general with a twinkle in his eye, held out his empty sleeve and said: "You are better off than I am, for you have your arm left, while I have lost mine." The cripple gazed at the empty sleeve for a moment. and then extracted 15 cents from the pocket of his tattered jeans trousers. "Here," he said, turning to General Howard; "this is all I've got, but you're wel-come to it." There was a general laugh at the expense of the distinguished commander of the department of the east, and he made the man happy by giving him a silver dollar.

FROM FOOT TO KNEE

Ohio Woman Suffered Great Agony From a Terrible Sore-Her Story of the Case, and Her Cure.

"For many years I was afflicted with a milk leg, and a few years ago it broke out tected by Holmes' Electric Proin a sore and spread from my foot to my knee, I suffered great agony. It would burn and itch all the time and discharge a great deal. My health was good with the exception of this sore. I tried a great many kinds of salve, but some would irritate the sore so that I could hardly stand the pain. I could not go near the fire without suffering intensely. Someone sent me papers containing testimonials of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I told my husband I would like to try this medicine. He got me a bottle and I found it helped me. I kept on taking it until my limb was completely healed. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough for the great benefit it has been to me. It cleanses the blood of all impurities and leaves it rich and pure." MRS. ANNA E. EAKEN, Whittlesey, Ohio.

No other history ever recorded the progress of the Races of Mankind from the beginning down to the present day—in fact, there is no other history of mankind today—in any language. True, you can procure histories of some of the greater and a few of the minor races—separately—partial records for the most part—by various historians. True, also, you can consult the encyclopedias for abstract facts and incidents of various times and countries, though no consecutive or accurate record can thus be obtained except by the student. But in Ridpath's History of the World vou read page after page of the most delightful un-history-like narrative—in which is told connectedly the story of man—from the original stock, through every one of the many ethnic branches of the black, the brown and the ruddy races—till without effort of memory, you've a clear idea of all the existing branches of the great Human Family—as well as the paths they've followed down the centuries from the beginning.

and it'll be long past bedtime before you lay it down-and that's only treating it on the one side-as a work of absorbing meters:—as fascinating as a romance!

Perhaps its greatest value is as a reference work—for as such it has been acknowledged the "best in any language—of any time." By reference work we mean its use as an encyclopedia of information about every country past and present—every race and tribe of ethnic importance that has ever trod this earth from the beginning—in short, every important event, as well as the makers of events.

Its unique system of indexing—a marvel of interest in itself—enables one to turn quickly to any subject—or class of subjects—country or class of countries—events or series of events—nation or branch of races—of all times. PHILADELPHIA JOHN WANAMAKER NEW YORK
