

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

Runaway on South Washington Avenue Hill Yesterday Morning.

FORTUNATELY NO ONE WAS INJURED

Horse Owner Became Intoxicated and Left the Poor Brute Standing Uncovered for Hours Until Kind-Hearted Persons Took It in Charge.

One of those hair-raising runaways, which often amounts to very little else, occurred yesterday morning upon South Washington avenue. There is a steep grade leading down from the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western car shops and is about 500 feet in length.

FOUR FUNERALS.

The funeral services for the late Adam Dinner, of Irving avenue, were held yesterday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral at 10 o'clock and Rev. J. J. B. Feeley was celebrant and a large number of relatives and friends were in attendance.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John P. Gibson was held Tuesday morning from the residence of Prospect avenue. The remains were borne to St. Peter's cathedral where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. B. Feeley, who also preached a funeral sermon.

The funeral of George Allen, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, was held yesterday afternoon from the parental residence, 106 Prospect avenue. It was private and interment was made at the Forest Hill cemetery.

where a mass of requiem was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. John Moffitt. He also preached an eloquent funeral sermon. The attendance of friends and relatives was very large both at the services and at the cemetery. The floral tributes were exquisite. At the conclusion of the services the remains were borne to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery and laid in final rest.

HORSE UNCARED FOR.

Many residents in the neighborhood of Pittston avenue and Fig street would have been pleased if they had an agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals thereabouts yesterday afternoon. A large, decent looking fellow had been driving a horse and cutter around lower South Scranton all morning picking up rags. It seems he also stowed something more troublesome than rags away inside his vest at intervals. He probably would have excused his actions by remarking about the intense cold. The horse received no such care, and about 1.30 o'clock, the end came both for man and beast.

He went into a hotel, was refused another drink and sitting down to think it over, he collapsed. He was taken care of by the man of the hotel. The poor horse, neglected and without a blanket, and likely without food since morning, stood outside shivering in the icy wind. Some kindly disposed neighbors noticed the animal. He was fed and then was walked around to keep him warm until his owner came to himself which he did after a few hours and then drove off.

BEAT HIS GRANDMOTHER.

John McHugh, 17 years of age, was committed to the county jail Tuesday evening by Alderman Ruddy, of the Twentieth ward in default of $300 bail. The young man was charged with a doctored assault upon his aged grandmother, Mrs. Michael Ruane, of 1417 Cedar avenue, with whom he resided. What led the young man to commit the alleged deed did not appear, but it seems very strange as he had been considered a model fellow until very recently. Only a month or so ago, while his grandmother was ill, in addition to doing his daily work in the South mill he was seen by the neighbors to do the washing and other household duties. Mrs. Ruane is over 60 years of age.

NUNS OF NEWS.

Robert Donnelly and Richard Mayock, of Fig street, have returned from a western trip. Anthony Haffner, of Pittston avenue, has almost completed his arrangements for a trip to the Klondike. Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Josephine Naegeler, of Alder street, to William Miller, of Prospect avenue. The ceremony will be performed Friday evening at the residence of the bride's parents on Alder street.

LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

Death of Two Men Prominently Identified with History of the City.

RESIDED HERE FOR MANY YEARS

One of Them Was Ex-Alderman William G. Oram and Addison Sweetser--Both of Them Were Well Advanced in Years--Hoodlums Are Causing Much Annoyance at Eynon Street and South Main Avenue, Personal and Otherwise.

Two more of West Scranton's pioneer residents have passed away. Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock ex-Alderman William G. Oram died at his residence in Clifford, where he has been residing for two years. Yesterday morning at 1.30 o'clock Addison Sweetser died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. George Watkins, at 1216 Washburn street. The deceased were probably as closely identified with the earlier progress of the city as any two could be. Coming here when the two boroughs of Providence and Hyde Park formed what was then practically the city of Scranton, they witnessed and materially assisted in the growth of what is now Scranton.

William G. Oram was 77 years old Dec. 4, 1867, having been born in Clifford, Susquehanna county, in 1820. He traced his ancestry back to the time of Cromwell. He was one of a family of seven sons, who all became prominent and of whom but one remains, each having reached a ripe old age. The other brothers were Sidney, John, George and Henry, late of this city; Edward, late of Hawley, and Thomas, now a member of the faculty of Haverford college, near Philadelphia. A peculiar coincidence of the deaths of each brother is that they died in the order of birth. Thomas, the only one living, being the youngest.

Mr. Oram's death was due in a large measure to advanced years. Friday of last week he was quite ill, but got out Sunday. Monday he went to bed and Tuesday morning it was seen that he was sinking rapidly and at 6 o'clock that evening he succumbed. Word was brought to his near relatives in this city yesterday morning by William Green, a neighbor.

WALKED NINE MILES.

Mr. Green walked the nine miles from Clifford to Carbondale, to take a train here, over roads that were utterly impassable for a horse and vehicle of any kind. Mr. Green, who is a farmer, and a married man, alone survives him in his line. A grandson, William Smith, of Elmira, N. Y.; a nephew, F. W. Oram, of this city, and two nieces, Mrs. A. A. Peckens and Mrs. H. S. Oram, of Philadelphia, also survive him.

The funeral of Addison Sweetser will be held Friday morning at the residence at Clifford. The remains will be brought to Carbondale and then to Green Ridge. The train leaves Carbondale at 1.40 o'clock p. m. and reaches Green Ridge at 2.10 o'clock. Interment will be made at Forest Hill cemetery, where the remains can be viewed by friends previous to interment.

Mr. Oram, while still a lad, left home and went to Philadelphia, where he learned the trade of moulder under a brother, who was foreman in a foundry which stood upon the site of the present Baldwin Locomotive works. In 1857 he returned to Scranton, together with Sidney, his oldest brother, farmer, the Tripp estate, which became familiarly known as the "Oram plantation." The Orams and Tripps owned it jointly. The old farm homestead, occupied by Sidney, still stands on South Main avenue. William resided at the corner of Jackson street and Sumner avenue.

Later, Sidney retired from active labor and William took charge of that part of the farm from which the Fourth ward was made. He held this position for about three years, when the tract was divided into building lots. He then worked for some years both at Finch's foundry and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western car shops. In 1882 he was made alderman for the Fourth ward and served for ten consecutive years. He was succeeded by William Morris, who died after holding the office a little over a year.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.

Rev. W. A. Spaulding, of Elmhurst, addressed the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans, of 1612 Washburn street, is suffering from a crushed foot. The accident happened yesterday afternoon while the lad was out playing. It could not be ascertained whether the lad had tried to "hitch" upon a "bob" or some coaster had run over his foot. The former seems the more likely. Dr. J. J. Roberts is in attendance.

The friends of Gus Eynon gathered at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Eynon, of 125 North Hyde Park avenue, and made merry. It was the occasion of his twentieth birthday and the evening was heartily enjoyed by all.

Quite an attractive programme, which will appear in tomorrow's issue of this paper, will be given at the entertainment tomorrow evening at the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church by some first class talent, consisting of recitations, vocal and instrumental music, to be followed by a ragot social, when refreshments will be served by the ladies of the church. Admission is but fifteen cents, including refreshments. Doors open at 7.30; entertainment commencing at 8 o'clock sharp.

VERY INTERESTING EXERCISES

Funeral of Mrs. P. D. Manley and Mrs. Mary McDonnell--Requiem Masses Celebrated in St. Mary's Catholic Church--Mr. Newcomb, of Troop Street, Badly Injured His Eye--Two Young Men Who Intend to Go to the Klondike.

The seventeenth anniversary date of the founding of the Christian Endeavor organization by "Father Endeavor" Clarke, of Massachusetts, was observed last evening by the society attached to the Presbyterian church on Chestnut street. Members of sister churches, including delegations from the Epworth league of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Baptist Young People's society attended, the congregation comfortably filling the lecture room of the church. Charles Smith, chairman of the prayer meeting committee, presided over the meeting.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED.

At a regular meeting of Hyde Park Park, No. 258, Knights of Macedonia, held Tuesday evening, Feb. 1, in fraternal hall, South Main avenue, the following officers were installed by Deputy Grand Commander E. L. Tallman, to serve for the ensuing term: Past Commander, B. H. Anthony; Commander, B. H. Howard; lieutenant commander, J. A. Wademan; recorder, W. H. Orchard; chaplain, John T. Edwards; sergeant, M. E. Ainey; master at arms, J. M. Hines; first master of guards, C. W. Miller; and several other officers and members were made and rendered by the more prominent members. Tent No. 258 also received three new applications.

UNRULY BOYS.

The young boys who attend night school at old No. 12, on Eynon street, Tuesday evening, were very unruly during a session congregated at the corner of Eynon street and South Main avenue, are liable to arrest if they do not tone their conduct. Of late many complaints have been made to the police in reference to them. It may be all right to some, but it is very boisterous and liable to bring trouble to them. On a recent evening several young ladies were passing the corner and these boys not only pelted them with muddy snow but also with language and otherwise made hoodlums of themselves. One gentleman who was escorting a young lady home had his hat broken by a stone which was thrown by one of the party.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Chase, of North Bromley avenue, have returned from a visit at Pittston. Miss Mame Eaton, of Tenth street, is home from a visit at Carbondale. Miss May Clark, of Sweetland street, is entertaining Mrs. W. Olden, of Carbondale. Mrs. D. B. Evans, of Sweetland street, is quite ill. Miss Emma Jones, of Wilkes-Barre, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith, of North Elmire avenue, who are visiting in Iowa. W. A. Reid, of Jackson street, was in Pittston on business yesterday. Miss Cora Thomas, of North Rebecca avenue, was returned from a visit at Pittston. George Zintel, formerly of Tenth street, is now an orderly at the Bellevue hospital in New York.
