

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

Driver Joseph Kneller of the Century's Had an Exciting Experience.

HE DROVE THROUGH THE FLAMES

John Casey Again Arrested at the Instance of His Wife. Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf Arrested on a Charge of Making Threats--Edward Boyle Injured in the South Mill--Funeral of Rosa, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Bluge.

The Century Hose company's team and driver, Joseph Kneller, enjoy the distinction of having passed through fire and survive, though a few reminders only exist. The company, together with the general alarm early yesterday morning from Box No. 22. When they reached the scene of the fire, after a quick race, they were assigned to duty on Spruce street to fight the fire in the rear. In order to do their work properly it was necessary to carry the hose into Forest court, beyond the flames which were shooting across.

There was only one way and that led through the flames, and to his fearless tenacity was due to a measure the result of preventing an extension beyond to Breck court. Harry, the horse nearest the flame, had the hair singed on his left side from head to tail, and the driver had his left hand somewhat blistered. The wagon body was scorched a little. Otherwise the damage amounted to naught.

ALDERMANIC CASES.

Many times John Casey has appeared before the aldermen of the South Scranton, and always on a charge of being drunk. The police have had much trouble along that line also. In nearly every instance Mrs. Casey would complain, and then went to beg her abuser off. Casey generally promised to mend his ways, but has always failed whenever he drank to excess. His wife had a warrant issued from Alderman Donovan's office charging not only the usual beating but that of threatening to kill. His wife, realizing that affairs were serious, sought the above protection. Casey was arrested and at the hearing was held in $300 bail for his appearance at court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

THREE ACCIDENTS.

Edward Boyle, of Stone avenue, was severely injured Wednesday afternoon at the South mills, by being thrown from a car onto a trestle work. He will be confined to his home for a few days as the fall of twenty feet shook him and he was badly bruised.

Mrs. William Cahlin, of Cherry street, is confined to her home, as the result of an injury received Wednesday afternoon. The injured woman was going up some steps when she

William J. Shug's Jaw Dislocated in a Peculiar Manner.

DID IT WHILE HE WAS YAWNING

Services of a Physician were Required Before He Regained the Power of Speech--Funerals of Edward R. Jones and Addison Sweetser. Well Attended Entertainment Held in the Summer Avenue Presbyterian Church--Very Pleasant Flashlight Party.

A peculiar case of dislocation of the jaw which has also all the attributes of paralysis occurred to William J. Shug, of 116 South Sherman avenue, Thursday afternoon. Mr. Shug is a miner and works at the Briggs mines. While at work on the above afternoon in his "chamber" he had cause to speak to his laborer. While speaking he suddenly yawned. That did it. He could neither close his jaw nor speak. His tongue apparently had gone back on him. Surprised at first, and then worried, then frightened was Mr. Shug. He attempted to push his cantankerous jaw back into place. His efforts were vain. He left his work, and coming out proceeded home to have a physician diagnose the peculiar fate which had befallen him in a moment.

NEWS OF NEWS.

The funeral of Rosa, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Bluge, was held yesterday afternoon, from the parental residence, 721 Maple street. A suggestion to the fraternal and beneficial orders of this side might not be amiss in reference to the recently adopted method of attending funerals of deceased brethren. In all cases when attending the lodge selects its representatives for pallbearers and are prepared to immediately depart for the cemetery. Heretofore a list of these bearers was furnished the funeral director, thus making it possible for a full report of the services to be made. Since the new method of attendance, the busy funeral director has not given the bearers names once in twenty-five times. The suggestion is that a list be made out and handed to the funeral director. The director and reporter would be thus accommodated.

John Reagan, of Brick avenue, well known hereabouts, was painfully injured by the upsetting of a cutter in which he was seated. The mishap occurred Thursday afternoon on West street. A truck was being called and upon examination found that Mr. Reagan had received a slight injury to his spine.

Moses Sewell, a youth residing in Ridge road, narrowly escaped serious injury last evening. Sewell, with a number of boys about his age, was coasting on Market street, and the sled on which they were seated became unmanageable and dashed into the iron bridge at the foot of the hill, which spans the Lackawanna river. He occupied the foremost position of the crowd, and consequently received the brunt of the collision. His head came in contact with iron girders, and as a result, received a very gash over the forehead. He was removed to Dr. Surath's office and had his wounds dressed.

A serious fire was narrowly averted last evening in the millinery store of Mrs. Jane Williams, on Wayne avenue. An oil stove, which is used in heating the store, ignited some combustible articles near at hand, and a merry blaze was in progress for a brief period. The blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

A quiet but pretty marriage was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. H. G. Watkins, Presbyterian church parsonage by the Rev. George E. Guild. The contracting parties were Miss Elizabeth Van Bergen and Wells W. Hockenberry, well-known young people of this city. EVENTS OF A DAY IN NORTH SCRANTON

Gwyllyn Jones Painfully Injured in West Ridge Colliery.

REGAN THROWN FROM A SLEIGH

Was Riding on West Market Street at the Time--Sustained an Injury to His Spine--Moses Sewell's Head Gashed While He Was Coasting on Market Street--Oil Stove Caused a Fire in Mrs. Williams' Millinery Store.

Gwyllyn Jones, met with a distressing accident at West Ridge colliery yesterday morning, which will probably deprive him of one of his eyes. He was engaged in driving a team of mules, and while standing beside one of them, he was struck by a brush against the animal, which immediately retaliated by kicking young Jones squarely in the eye.

The blow rendered Jones unconscious and it was some time before he was brought to. He was conveyed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jones, of 206 Parker street. Last night the doctor in attendance gave but slight assurances of being able to save the eye of the unfortunate young man.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

John Reagan, of Brick avenue, well known hereabouts, was painfully injured by the upsetting of a cutter in which he was seated. The mishap occurred Thursday afternoon on West street. A truck was being called and upon examination found that Mr. Reagan had received a slight injury to his spine.
