Mr. H. P. Simpson has been very suc cessful in the sale of boxes and loges for the Home for the Friendless concert. the Home for the Friendess concert.

Among the holders are: J. Benjamin Dimmick, W. W. Watson, Mrs. Thomas Dickson, D. E. Taylor, T. E. Jones, Everett Warren, Charles Schlager and H. W. Kingsbury. The concert will be the most important in a society way of any thing in the line of musical entertain-ment this season. Many box parties are already planted and the theater will present a brilliant appearance as it is expected that evening dress will be chiefly vorn by the patrons. Mrs. E. F. Chamberlin, chairman of the finance committee has received much encouragement regarding the outcome of the affair finan-cially. The fine programme that will be presented, the prestige of the partici-pants and more than all, the needs of the home, will no doubt fill the house, as no one will refuse to buy tickets for this most worthy cause. A full rehearsal will occur Tuesday evening.

Professor J. M. Chance is not doing much lameating about his losses in the Young Men's Christian association fire since he considers himself most fortu-nate in having escaped with his life. Nevertheless the destruction of property in his studios was no small item. Among the valued effects that went up in the flames was music to the value of $500 ore. Much of it was studied under great masters and composers whose aunotations are beyond price. This is an irreparable loss. A beautiful concert grand plane, many fine rugs and an excellent library, besides costly bric-a-brac and mementoes were destroyed. Professor Cchance saved nothing but the ressor Cenance saved nothing but the clothing hastily put on as he hurried out through the flames. This by no means could be considered the complete toiler necessary to the modern man's appearance on the street. Mr. Hoffman, who gave the alarm to Mr. Chance and who also occupied apartments in the building fared little better, having lost all his clothing with the exception of the suit worn, besides $45 in money.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Scragg af-forded a great treat to the family at the Home for the Friendless on Saturday by giving all the members who were able to go a delightful sleighride. Old ladies, children and all were out during the beautiful afternoon and came home with hearts and faces aglow with the unexpected pleasure of the trip. Probably rathing could be a the trip. Probably nothing could have been done by the friends of the institution to provide more unqualified joy.

. . . Mr. Bower's lecture on "Michael Angelo" will be delivered in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, instead of the Young Men's Christian association This lecture promises to be one of the best in the standard course this year. Those who have heard it say it is an exceedingly interesting and attractive presentation of the life and works of the great Italian. The lecture will be illustrated with one hundred fine views re-cured by Mr. Bower personally in Rome and Florence. Those who enjoy the story of a romantic life and are lovers of the beautiful in art should not miss this ice

It isn't often that Scranton music lovers have opportunity to hear so well known a singer as Signor Guisseppe Del Puente, the Philadelphia baritone, will be one of the artists at Friday night's concert in the Scranton Bicycle club house for the benefit of the Florence Crittenton mission. No male voice is in greater demand at concerts in Philadelphia, where Del Puente is a reigning tavorite. Madame Helen Campbell, also of Philadelphia, will sing two solos and will be heard in two duets with Del
Puente. The accompanist will be James
C. Workhurst, of Philadelphia. There will be a cello and a violin solo by Harvey J. Blackwood and Frederick Widmayer, respectively, and two tries by those artists and Charles Doersam, three ever local performers.

TESTIMONIAL CONCERT TONIGHT.

Will Be Given at Lyceum for Benefit of George E. Davis.

Tonight the testimonial benefit to George E. Davis will be given at the Lyceum. The executive committee has been industriously at work to make the benefit a success, and it now only remains for the public at large to do their share by crowding the theater tonight.

No man in the city is more justly entitled to consideration from his neighbors than Mr. Davis. During the years he was in the theatrical business here he never forgot the poor and annually a benefit was given at his play house the proceeds of which went into the treasury of the Board of Associated Charities, to be used in relleving the suffering of the poor and unfortunate. Recently business reverses left Mr. Davis in a very much embarrassed condition financially, and his friends decided to give him a testimonial benefit, It will take place tonight. The programme is varied and excellent, and those who attend are assured a pleasant and profitable evening. Among those who will take part are Miss Katle Rooney, who will give imitations of her father, the late Pat Rooney; John T. Watkins, Thomas Beynon, Bauer's orchestra, Miss Florence Schilling, T. Reeve Jones, George Carr, Miss Bessie Slote. The Randall sisters, Charles J. Randall, Thomas Jordan, Mr. Vanderveken and the Haberstroh Zither club,

SECRETARY MAHY ILL.

A. W. Dickson, ex-president of the association, announced the illness of General Secretary Mahy and the latter's inability to be present. Mr. Mahy had been given a year's leave of ab-sence on account of poor health and was about to take a train at Danville, N. Y., for California when he received word of the fire and hurrled to Scranton. The strain had proved too much for him and he was confined to his hed. Mr. Dickson asked the prayers of the gathering for Mr. Mahy, who had been a faithful and hard-working sec retary.

The hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung and Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Dixon, of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, led in repeating the Twenty third psalm in concert.

Professor W. H.-Buell, director of the John Raymond Institute, announced that a meeting of the institute students would be held tonight in the Albright library hall at 8 o'clock malt and Miss Lavinia Dimmick, of Green Ridge, will sail for Europe. They will remain abroad until next June.

The teachers will meet there at 7.30 o'clock. A meeting of the City Pastors' union, in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association, was an nounced for this morning at 10.30 clock in the Penn Avenue church. Rev. H. A. Grant, of the How-ard African Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. Dr. C. E. Robinson, of the Second Presbyterian church, sent a letter and a verbal message, respectively, regretting their inability to e present.

Thomas Beynon, tenor, and Moses Morgan, basso, soloists at the Second Presbyterian church, sang a duet and there was an instrumental selection by a quartette, John Turn, Charles Moore, W. H. Stanton and Thomas Miles, "The Lord's our rock, in Him we hide, a shelter in the time of storm," was sung by the audience.

SHORT ADDRESSES.

Mr. Dickson announced that a halfhour or more would be devoted to speeches in short metre by some of those on the platform or in the body of the house, persons who had been in any way benefited by the associa-

President H. C. Shafer, of the association, seconded Mr. Dickson's comment that sorrow revealed friendship While a death called forth many expressions of sympathy and help-and such had been accorded the Young Men's Christian association-the association was not dead. It had been one of the city's best investments and those interested in the city's welfare did no propose to let so valuable a factor pass away. It was a part of the fabric made with the churches, the Young Women's Christian association, the Crittenton mission and the Rescue Mission for the upbuilding of men and women. Its help could not be spared out it would continue.

Ex-City Solicitor James H. Torrey called attention to a ray of sunlight which extended over the heads of the audience as a good omen and which could be seen despite the artificial means used to light the interior. He asked if his hearers had such a ray of light in their hearts to depend on when the other lights went out. It was such oo, which cheered the association in s present trouble. E. B. Sturges announced that he had made his first Sunday trip down town in three years. Sorrow brings friends together, but the big gathering should ot be viewed as significant of trouble more than temporary. He commented upon the helpful work of the associaion to young men and assured his hearers that the citizens of Scranton would have a new building erected in comparatively short space of time. MR. PEARSALL'S REMARKS.

Secretary Pearsall, of the railroad ranch, described what had been done will pay a fraterral visit to Rajah temple, of Reading, Wednesday night. They will make the trip in special cars which will leave Scranton over the Jersey Central road. Their comforts will be looked after by J. S. Swisher, of this city, the company's district passenger agent.

At this meeting it is probable that resolutions will be passed stating the passed stating the present condition of the association, and Rev. George E. Guild, of the Providence Presbyterian church, remarked that the ray of sunlight mentioned by Mr. Torrey made its entrance through a black-curtained window. He likened the circumstance to for him by the Young Men's Christian trance through a black-curtained win- 24c. He likened the circumstance to the fact that the pall which had fallen upon the association through the fire vas not a calamity black enough to keep back the organization's bright prospects. Music Director Chance and A. V. Bower, chairman of the committece on religious work, spoke from their experiences of help from the association.

FIRST MEETING

OF CIVICS CLUB

Held Saturday Evening in the Albright Library Hall.

PAPERS OF INTEREST AND MERIT

Were Read by Protessor W. H. Buell Mr. Pross, H. J. Anderson and John Gunster -- Good Programme Arranged for the Next Meeting -- University of Pennsylvania Lecturer to Be Asked to Come Here and Address the Club.

A highly successful initial meeting of the Civies club was held Saturday evening in Albright library hall. Some very interesting papers were read, as follows: Professor W. H. Buell, "The Work of a Civics Club in Scranton; in equity brought by Joseph Jermyn John Gunster, "The History of Curattacking the authority of the board rency as a Medium of Exchange;" Mr Pross, "United States Currency;" H. J Anderson, a report of the Indianapolis monetary convention.

Ex-City Solicitor James H. Torrey presided and Walter Gunster acted as secretary. The following programme for the next meeting was reported by assessment and also because the board | the programme committee, the general topic to be "The City Council." H. C. Reynolds, "Greek and Roman Coun-cils;" J. W. Browning, "European City Government After Roman Decadence; Rev. Dr. J. K. Dixon, "Of Old English Towns and Guilds;" Rev. Dr. Isaar Lansing, "Of the New England Towns;" C. E. Chittenden, "Of the Councils of Scranton." The secretary was instructed to ten-der the thanks of the club to F. E. for the past two days inspecting the Platt for a copy of his father's "Rembooks and making the transfer, Ex-Collector Grant Herring's term of four years ended Feb. 4, and the transfer has been made as soon thereafter as club in May. He will be requested to the convenience of the agent and perobject. The lecturer will be asked to come here on the last meeting night of the club year.

Before the business session was concluded fifty new members were added

KINDS OF REFORM. In discussing "The Work of a Civics Club 'n Scranton," Professor Buell suggested that reforms be gained through a study and knowledge of the evils in need of being remedied rather than by means of combat. He was not opposed to reforms or reform movements, though he did disapprove of "cru-sades." If the Civics club should develop into the usual kind of "reform" organization its epitaph might correctly read "I expected it, but not so Education, knowledge, moral example were necessary to reform work Such qualities were required in intelligent action and action without intelligence would be dangerous and certain y unfruitful. Good citizens should have a knowledge of municipal business and procedure as well as those parts of National government. A Scranton citizen could not honestly find fault with his own municipality if he knew nothing of its government.

"The History of Currency as a Medium of Exchange" was the topic of John Gunster, who began his paper with comments upon money and trade in the time of the Old Testament. Mr. Pross' paper on the currency of the United States reviewed this country's financial history in a thorough and ble manner. It was a record of event and the interest attached to the paper was not lessened by theoretical ideas advanced by the speaker.

Mr. Anderson's report of the Indianapolis monetary convention detailed the most important discussions and hereafter sermons will not be delivered | conclusions of that important meeting. Much of his remarks was from a printed report of the convention. The report was discussed by several of those present. The consensus of opinion was against the monetary commission's view that the national banks could be given the privilege of con rolling paper money circulation. It was the opinion of those present hat the meeting had proved very beneficial and interesting and those to follow will be anticipated with much
