

NORTON'S BULLETIN.

Blank Account and Record Books, All desirable sizes and styles. For all sorts of business From vest pocket memorandum To the large bank ledger.

M. NORTON, 322 Lackawanna Ave., Scranton, 32 So. Main St., Wilkes-Barre.

LACKAWANNA THE LAUNDRY 308 Penn Ave. A. B. WARMAN.

COLUMBIAN DETECTIVE AGENCY DIME BANK BUILDING, SCRANTON, PA.

Matters Solicited Where Others Failed. Moderate Charges.

CHARS McMULLEN & CO. Have opened a General Insurance Office in The Traders' National Bank Bldg.

Best Stock Companies Represented. Large fees especially solicited. Telephone 1263.

BEFORE BREAKFAST.

He was a high official in the handsome City Hall. His job was so important that he had to be seen.

The old Faurot House has been given to the Y. M. C. A. and St. Luke's new parish rooms not fully arranged for the summer to be given by the Guild of St. Margaret on Monday evening, Feb. 14.

A recent issue of the Washington Star contained the following regarding a fair visitor to this city who made many friends while a guest in the family of Mr. R. B. Williams, on Jefferson avenue.

For the first time in the history of the city New York papers arrived in here Sunday as early as 7 a. m. This was due to the enterprise of the Free Press which is now sold in connection with the New York Journal.

When the Young Men's Christian Association building burned the mailing lists and lists of subscribers to the standard lecture course were lost. There is no way of getting circulars to the patrons of the course and therefore the notice must be given through the papers.

PERSONAL.

City Treasurer C. G. Boland was in Wilkes-Barre yesterday. August Robinson is in New York city, the guest of Senator Stadler. Miss Margaret Godwin and Romayne Lynch, of Linden street, are visiting in West Orange, N. J.

QUINN FACTION WINS.

Judge Edwards Declares Its Ticket to Be Democratic. Judge Edwards abruptly terminated the hearing on the Lackawanna township exceptions yesterday morning. The judge faction, which opposes the printing of the Quinn ticket in the Democratic column, failed to file a copy of their objections with the county commissioners as the amended law requires and when J. J. Donahoe, attorney for the Quinn people raised the point, Judge Edwards declared that the objectors had no standing and dismissed the objections.

DAVIS BENEFIT AT LYCEUM.

Good-Sized Audience Entertained with a Fine Programme. The testimonial benefit given to George H. Davis last night in the Lyceum brought out a good-sized audience. The benefit was a greater success, financially, however, than the size of the house would indicate, for many tickets sold were not represented in the house last night.

Seldom has a programme of such genuine merit been listened to in this city as that which was given last night. All of the members were rapturously entertained. The orchestra opened the entertainment with an overture, the Randall sisters, 7 and 9 years respectively, sang and danced so agreeably that the audience insisted on having them appear again. The vocalists were Mrs. Florence Schilling, John T. Watkins and Thomas Beynon, all of whom were in fine voice. Reeve Jones gave a piano solo and F. Vanderveken was heard in violin selections. Thomas Jordan recited a scene from 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' with dramatic effect and Charles J. Randall made a decided hit as the Yankee farmer. George Carr gave several banjo selections, accompanied by his wife on the piano, and the Carr Banjo club also entertained with two numbers.

Little Bessie Slato, of the West Side, recited 'The Message' in a very effective manner, accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Gibbs. There will be a meeting this evening of the executive committee in Reese & Long's office, on Linden street, at 8 o'clock. Persons having tickets are requested to make returns at that time.

KEEP HIM WHERE HE IS.

Italian Who Thinks He is Wanted for Murder Here. District Attorney John B. Jones yesterday received the following communication:

East Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 2, 1928. To whom it may concern:

I write to you for information about a man named 'Francisco Falvo'. I have been in prison here on a charge of assault and battery for which he will get a hearing tonight.

He is an Italian and the man that made the charge against him tells me that when he was on good terms with him, he told him that he had killed a man in the mine at about Carbonado, and when the officers came to arrest him, that he killed one of them. The house was situated in a field and he jumped out of the mine and escaped. This happened three or four years ago. If this is true answer as soon as possible.

Frank G. DeLoe, Chief of Police, East Pittsburg Borough.

County Detective Leysion investigated the case and found that it was partly true. Falvo shot a man at Edgerton three years ago and escaped after a hot pursuit by the officers. The injured man recovered shortly afterwards. There was no officer shot or even shot at as far as Chief of Police McAndrew can remember. It is not likely that the authorities will bother bringing Falvo back for trial.

FORMAL TRANSFER MADE.

New Revenue Collector Announced a Number of Appointments. Major J. E. Penman formally took charge of the internal revenue office before business opened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. He filed his oath of office, signed a receipt to retiring Collector Herring for the $25,000 worth of stamps and other government property turned over to him and Treasury Agent Sewall at once notified the revenue division of the treasury department by wire that the transfer had been made.

Mr. Penman yesterday announced the following appointments to positions not governed by the civil service: Cashier in this city, Robert Penman, to succeed George A. Herring; stamp deputy at Wilkes-Barre, Byron G. Hahn, to succeed A. Campbell; stamp deputy at Lock Haven, John T. Boardley, to succeed John Haberstroh. Miss L. May Wilson, the stamp deputy at Easton, will be continued for the present.

PREPARING FOR ELECTION.

Polling Place Changed and Election Board Vacancies Filled. Court yesterday made an order changing the polling place of the First district of Old Forge township from the present place to a building to be erected on Main street, opposite Dr. Timlin's office.

Frank Congrove was made judge of election in the First district of Old Forge township, vice John Hayes, resigned. Daniel J. Sullivan was made judge of election in the Third ward of Jermyon to fill an existing vacancy.

In the Fourth district of the Third ward of Carbonado, Michael Brennan was appointed minority inspector to succeed Peter Egan, who moved out of the district.

MUST AWAIT INVESTIGATION.

Cafferty's Suspected Slaying Attempt to Secure Release. Justice Bewor, Mike Driehok, John Pagan and Thomas Bruschink, who are being held on suspicion of having caused the death of Pencil Pedder Patrick Cafferty, at Olyphant, two weeks ago, made an effort yesterday to secure their release by habeas corpus proceedings but court would not permit them to go.

William Vokolek and Hon. John P. Kelly, attorneys for the accused, argued that there was not the least evidence on which the men could be held. District Attorney Jones contended that there was evidence against them and that they should be held pending an investigation. Court took this latter view.

AMOUNT OF THE VERDICT, $2,250.

Jury Deals Liberally with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Malia. The amount of the verdict for the plaintiffs in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Malia against the Scranton Traction company, which was returned to court yesterday morning, was $2,250. Of this amount $1,212.50 was figured as the husband's share and 1,037.50 as that of the wife. O'Brien & Kelly were the attorneys for the Malias.

KLONDIKE.

A handsome map of Alaska and all details as to routes, supplies, cost of same, transportation charges, etc., etc., furnished free, by writing F. J. Moore, General Agent, Nickel Plate Road, 23 Exchange street, Buffalo, N. Y.

MR. FELLOWS SPEAKS ABOUT REFORM.

Tells the Pastors of City Churches About Municipal Corruption. Declares that boodle governs.

DECLARES THAT BOODLE GOVERNS.

His Remarks Were Followed by Dr. McLeod, Who Said That He Was Unwilling to Have the Impression Go Forth That the Pastors of City Churches Endorsed What Had Been Said by the Speaker—Mr. Fellows Spoke as a Politician.

Hon. John H. Fellows, ex-mayor of this city, addressed the pastors' union yesterday at their regular weekly meeting in the Penn Avenue Baptist church. His subject was 'Municipal Reform.' At the conclusion of Mr. Fellows' address, Rev. James McLeod, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, arose and challenged some of the most important of Mr. Fellows' statements, whereupon the clergymen present were entertained by things not found in Mr. Fellows' 'Municipal Reform' original manuscript. The lift concluded with this from Dr. McLeod: 'Mr. Fellows came here as a politician, has spoken as a politician and since I have known him he has been a politician.'

Then Dr. McLeod joined with the rest in thanking Mr. Fellows for his appearance before them. The meeting was well attended. Present were, besides Dr. McLeod and Mr. Fellows, the following: Rev. J. B. Sweet, president, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. G. W. Welsh, secretary, pastor of Calvary Reformed church; Rev. A. F. Chaffee, Astbury Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. George E. Quinn, Providence Presbyterian church; Rev. W. Ford, Green Ridge Baptist church; Rev. L. R. Foster, Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church; Rev. J. P. Moffatt, Washburn Street Presbyterian church; Rev. George E. Quinn, Providence Presbyterian church; Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, Jackson Street Baptist church; Rev. Isaac Lansing, Green Ridge Presbyterian church; and Rev. Joseph K. Dixon, Penn Avenue Baptist church.

THE Y. M. C. A. FIRE.

Besides the 'Municipal Reform' discussion, the ministers discussed the recent Young Men's Christian association disaster by fire. It was decided on motion to assist the management of the association to the greatest possible extent in the work of restoration and to this end the ministers will await any suggestion from the directors before any decisive move be taken. It is expected that the matter will be further discussed at the next meeting or in the meantime a special meeting may be called.

Mr. Fellows, being introduced, spoke at length. Among other things of a like character, he said: 'The people should start reform by their vote, for this government is for the people and should be made by the people. But the voters are polled and they are bought like so many cattle. In order to remedy this matter you should endeavor to reform men who stand high in financial circles as well as the voter.' Then Mr. Fellows gave examples, saying that he has seen men in the council who are polluted by contractors of pave, sewer and other things, which should be prevented, and said Mr. Fellows, in concluding the thought, 'when I was mayor of this city I was obliged to fight two rings and I, as a result, was out $1,500 by being mayor.'

'We should train the young in our public schools in such a manner that they would not sell their votes. You may say that is not government, but I say no. Boodle governs. Those rings are against the people and the people must be educated to refuse boodles for their vote. Vote for men and not for masters. The pastors have the power of reforming the evil. They have the right to do it and should not, for any action they do, be considered tricky ring politicians. They should refuse to listen to the millionaires domineering and the ward heeler.'

DR. McLEOD'S REMARKS.

Mr. Fellows resumed his seat. The echo of his voice had scarcely died away when Dr. McLeod arose. He stated that what Mr. Fellows said was but Mr. Fellows' own opinion. 'I am unwilling,' said Dr. McLeod, 'to have the impression go forth that the union endorses what Mr. Fellows has just said. Then, continuing, 'I would like to hear Mayor Bailey's opinion of Mr. Fellows, and I would like to hear the millionaires' opinion on politicians. I do not like to hear reflections cast on good prominent citizens who are not in their own right. Mr. Fellows interrupted with the statement that he had not attended the meeting to insult any one. 'During my remarks,' he said, 'I have not falsified and I will hold to what I say until I hear Mayor Bailey's opinion of the corruption of politics and the influencing of voters.'

'Not one-tenth of all that is said about corrupt politics I believe is true,' replied Dr. McLeod. After some further exchange Mr. Fellows and Dr. McLeod said: 'Mr. Fellows came here as a politician, has spoken as a politician and since I have known him he has been a politician.'

WILL FIND OUT FIRST.

Don't Want to Kiek Until There is a Kick Coming. A meeting of the Volunteer Firemen's Relief association was held last night in city hall to take action on a communication from the International Association of Fire Engineers, calling upon firemen throughout the country to formally protest against a bill now pending in the United States senate, to do away with state licenses as foreign fire insurance companies.

The association was not quite clear as to whether or not the bill affects this state and instructed Secretary Emil Brown to write to Senator M. S. Quay for information on the subject. When Mr. Brown is ready to report, President Hickey will call a special meeting.

YOUNG THIEVES COMMITTED.

They Were Given a Hearing Yesterday Before Mayor Bailey. The Traction people evidently visited that old store room for street cars at the corner of Mulberry street and Irving avenue, yesterday, for at 9 o'clock a. m., when Mayor Bailey called out the names of the three young men arrested on suspicion of theft, Sunday night, representatives of the company were present to identify the recovered goods.

At first the prisoners denied stealing the brass fittings found in the bags which they carried when arrested by Patrolman Sloat, but Chief Robling succeeded in having each prisoner admitted his guilt. John Griswold was first called. He denied everything. Griswold was sent back to his cell and Frank Regalia, another prisoner, brought forth. He was told that Griswold had confessed. 'He gave you the worst of it, too,' said Sergeant Ridge-way to Regalia. The prisoner got wrothy. 'Did he?' Storch ejaculated, that fellow was in it just as much as me and Garlitz.' Then he told how he and his two companions had forced their way into the barn at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and had worked at the cars, tearing off brass bars, etc., until 7 o'clock in the evening. Then they started toward the city and, as stated, were arrested. Mayor Bailey held each under $500 bail for court. Failing to furnish the security, the prisoners were committed to the county jail.

THE INSTITUTE WILL NOT SUSPEND.

Meeting of Pupils and Faculty Held Last Night in Library Hall. Classes will be distributed.

CLASSES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

Will Meet in the School of Lackawanna, Old Faurot House, Scranton Conservatory of Music and Art, Scranton Camera Club, and at Various Other Places That Have Been Placed at the Disposal of the Faculty of the Raymond Institute.

One of the results of the destruction of the Young Men's Christian association building by fire last week—and a fact which has escaped sufficient notice—was the suspension of the John Raymond Institute, conducted in the building, with its 275 or more pupils, under a score of teachers. These pupils are of a class of young men to whom the loss of anything means much. In Albright Memorial hall last night a meeting was held at the call of Professor W. H. Buell, president of the faculty, which shows a remarkable feeling of pupils and faculty, one for the other, and all for the association with which they suffered losses. Before the general meeting of pupils and faculty the teachers assembled and discussed the matter of continuing through the present term, seven weeks of which remain. By personal sacrifice on the part of the teachers President Buell was able to inform the pupils at the meeting afterward that the school, although dissipated in its effect, would continue throughout the seven weeks period. He said that no one particular place could be secured to carry on the work, but the several classes will be taught at the same periods as before in almost as many places in the city as there are classes.

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

This novel departure in school conducting has probably been seldom attempted anywhere. The Raymond Institute, it must be understood, is more practical than the average of ordinary school. Trades are taught and this can not be done by theory alone. The work must be demonstrated. Hence a meeting in one place is at once seen to be impracticable. Young men of the locale of the John Raymond Institute for the rest of the term: English classes—Professors Neymeyer, Bevan and Fraser—at the School of the Lackawanna. Bookkeeping—Alonzo Tappen, teacher—at the School of the Lackawanna. Physics, algebra—G. W. Hawley, teacher—School of the Lackawanna. Electricity—J. Frank Richards, teacher—at the old Faurot house, conditional upon the acceptance of this place by the association. Free-hand drawing class—Miss Worthington, teacher—at the Scranton Conservatory of Music and Art, by the kindness of Alfred Pennington. Architectural drawing—L. A. Osborne, teacher—at the rooms of the Scranton Camera club, on Lackawanna avenue. Stenography, typewriting—Miss M. Wolfe, teacher—at Miss Wolfe's office in the Commonwealth building. Mining class—J. T. Baird, teacher—at Mr. Baird's home. Carpentry—C. V. Smith, teacher—at Mr. Smith's workshop.

The other classes have either not been definitely located or will be discontinued altogether.

BOOKS ALSO GIVEN.

Besides the use of his School of the Lackawanna, Professor Buell announced that the school books would be placed at the disposal of pupils, gratuitously. There were several like sacrifices. For the benefit of the pupils who lost personal property, such as books, etc., by the fire, it was announced that the association would replace, as far as possible, the destroyed property. J. Frank Richards, teacher

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS ELECTED.

Annual Meeting of Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit Company. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit company was held yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the deposit building on Lackawanna avenue. The reports showed that the year had been a very successful one. The deposits increased $120,000 and the profit before taxes amounted to over $100,000 in court and voluntary trusts in addition to trusts under corporation mortgages amounting to over $5,000,000.

The old board of directors was re-elected. It consists of Henry J. Anderson, Henry Bell, Jr., J. P. Black, William Connell, J. E. Dimmick, P. J. Horan, T. C. Snover, George Sanderson, Conrad Schroeder, William T. Smith, Edward B. Sturges and Charles H. Welles. The directors selected the following officers: William T. Smith, president; Henry J. Anderson, vice-president; John W. Fowler, treasurer; Henry Bell, Jr., secretary. The regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent was declared and $5,000 was placed in the surplus fund.

A THRIFTY LOT, THESE.

Seventy-four Lackawanna Prisoners in the Pen Earn $312.14. That delegation of Lackawanna sojourners at the state summer and winter resort, Cherry Hill, cost the county $4,111.65 or a little more than a thousand dollars over what they cost during the preceding year.

The seventy-four worthies who make up the delegation managed to earn all of $312.14 during the year. Only seventeen of them are credited with having earned anything. Maggie Conway made the list with $64.84 to her credit. Frank Burshine earned $55.20 and David Warden and John Rastovsky, $51 each.

STATE CONVENTION OF A. O. H.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12. The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Tonight Y. M. C. A. standard course; 'Michael Angelo,' by Aaron V. Bower.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall. It will be a most important gathering, because at this meeting both branches of the order will be formally united. There will be 350 delegates in attendance.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

THE INSTITUTE WILL NOT SUSPEND.

Meeting of Pupils and Faculty Held Last Night in Library Hall. Classes will be distributed.

CLASSES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

Will Meet in the School of Lackawanna, Old Faurot House, Scranton Conservatory of Music and Art, Scranton Camera Club, and at Various Other Places That Have Been Placed at the Disposal of the Faculty of the Raymond Institute.

One of the results of the destruction of the Young Men's Christian association building by fire last week—and a fact which has escaped sufficient notice—was the suspension of the John Raymond Institute, conducted in the building, with its 275 or more pupils, under a score of teachers. These pupils are of a class of young men to whom the loss of anything means much. In Albright Memorial hall last night a meeting was held at the call of Professor W. H. Buell, president of the faculty, which shows a remarkable feeling of pupils and faculty, one for the other, and all for the association with which they suffered losses. Before the general meeting of pupils and faculty the teachers assembled and discussed the matter of continuing through the present term, seven weeks of which remain. By personal sacrifice on the part of the teachers President Buell was able to inform the pupils at the meeting afterward that the school, although dissipated in its effect, would continue throughout the seven weeks period. He said that no one particular place could be secured to carry on the work, but the several classes will be taught at the same periods as before in almost as many places in the city as there are classes.

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

This novel departure in school conducting has probably been seldom attempted anywhere. The Raymond Institute, it must be understood, is more practical than the average of ordinary school. Trades are taught and this can not be done by theory alone. The work must be demonstrated. Hence a meeting in one place is at once seen to be impracticable. Young men of the locale of the John Raymond Institute for the rest of the term: English classes—Professors Neymeyer, Bevan and Fraser—at the School of the Lackawanna. Bookkeeping—Alonzo Tappen, teacher—at the School of the Lackawanna. Physics, algebra—G. W. Hawley, teacher—School of the Lackawanna. Electricity—J. Frank Richards, teacher—at the old Faurot house, conditional upon the acceptance of this place by the association. Free-hand drawing class—Miss Worthington, teacher—at the Scranton Conservatory of Music and Art, by the kindness of Alfred Pennington. Architectural drawing—L. A. Osborne, teacher—at the rooms of the Scranton Camera club, on Lackawanna avenue. Stenography, typewriting—Miss M. Wolfe, teacher—at Miss Wolfe's office in the Commonwealth building. Mining class—J. T. Baird, teacher—at Mr. Baird's home. Carpentry—C. V. Smith, teacher—at Mr. Smith's workshop.

The other classes have either not been definitely located or will be discontinued altogether.

BOOKS ALSO GIVEN.

Besides the use of his School of the Lackawanna, Professor Buell announced that the school books would be placed at the disposal of pupils, gratuitously. There were several like sacrifices. For the benefit of the pupils who lost personal property, such as books, etc., by the fire, it was announced that the association would replace, as far as possible, the destroyed property. J. Frank Richards, teacher

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS ELECTED.

Annual Meeting of Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit Company. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit company was held yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the deposit building on Lackawanna avenue. The reports showed that the year had been a very successful one. The deposits increased $120,000 and the profit before taxes amounted to over $100,000 in court and voluntary trusts in addition to trusts under corporation mortgages amounting to over $5,000,000.

The old board of directors was re-elected. It consists of Henry J. Anderson, Henry Bell, Jr., J. P. Black, William Connell, J. E. Dimmick, P. J. Horan, T. C. Snover, George Sanderson, Conrad Schroeder, William T. Smith, Edward B. Sturges and Charles H. Welles. The directors selected the following officers: William T. Smith, president; Henry J. Anderson, vice-president; John W. Fowler, treasurer; Henry Bell, Jr., secretary. The regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent was declared and $5,000 was placed in the surplus fund.

A THRIFTY LOT, THESE.

Seventy-four Lackawanna Prisoners in the Pen Earn $312.14. That delegation of Lackawanna sojourners at the state summer and winter resort, Cherry Hill, cost the county $4,111.65 or a little more than a thousand dollars over what they cost during the preceding year.

The seventy-four worthies who make up the delegation managed to earn all of $312.14 during the year. Only seventeen of them are credited with having earned anything. Maggie Conway made the list with $64.84 to her credit. Frank Burshine earned $55.20 and David Warden and John Rastovsky, $51 each.

STATE CONVENTION OF A. O. H.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12. The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Tonight Y. M. C. A. standard course; 'Michael Angelo,' by Aaron V. Bower.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall. It will be a most important gathering, because at this meeting both branches of the order will be formally united. There will be 350 delegates in attendance.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

Will Open in This City on Tuesday, April 12.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open in this city Tuesday, April 12. The sessions will be held in College hall.

THE INSTITUTE WILL NOT SUSPEND.

Meeting of Pupils and Faculty Held Last Night in Library Hall. Classes will be distributed.

CLASSES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

Will Meet in the School of Lackawanna, Old Faurot House, Scranton Conservatory of Music and Art, Scranton Camera Club, and at Various Other Places That Have Been Placed at the Disposal of the Faculty of the Raymond Institute.

One of the results of the destruction of the Young Men's Christian association building by fire last week—and a fact which has escaped sufficient notice—was the suspension of the John Raymond Institute, conducted in the building, with its 275 or more pupils, under a score of teachers. These pupils are of a class of young men to whom the loss of anything means much. In Albright Memorial hall last night a meeting was held at the call of Professor W. H. Buell, president of the faculty, which shows a remarkable feeling of pupils and faculty, one for the other, and all for the association with which they suffered losses. Before the general meeting of pupils and faculty the teachers assembled and discussed the matter of continuing through the present term, seven weeks of which remain. By personal sacrifice on the part of the teachers President Buell was able to inform the pupils at the meeting afterward that the school, although dissipated in its effect, would continue throughout the seven weeks period. He said that no one particular place could be secured to carry on the work, but the several classes will be taught at the same periods as before in almost as many places in the city as there are classes.

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

This novel departure in school conducting has probably been seldom attempted anywhere. The Raymond Institute, it must be understood, is more practical than the average of ordinary school. Trades are taught