Mr. and Mrs. Simpson S. Lee, of Marcurred on Saturday, Feb. 5, by their children and grandchildren. The evening was spent in merrymaking, the grandparents enjoying it fully as much as the grandchildren. At midnight the games were abandoned and the party turned

THAT FILTHY SHOW.

Sir: In justice to the Scranton Lied-erkranz and to Mr. Fenyvessy kindiy allow me a word of explanation in reference to your article of Saturday and this morning. Both the Liederkranz and Mr. Fenyvessy have made every effort that only clean shows shall be given. The lease with Mr. Fenvessy expressly for-bids all unclean and immoral shows.

Acting in line with this provision of the lease, Mr. Fenyvessy on opening the season had printed and posted in conspicuous places in the hall large card posters, plainly calling the attention of show managers to this clause in the lease and warning them that they would be held responsible for any loss that might accrue to him by reason of the production of any improper performance. More-over to my personal knowledge he has voluntarily cancelled one or more shows that he had reason to believe were objectionable,

As a result of his care no objectionable performance was given previous to last Thursday evening. The show manager was immediately called to account for the impropriety of a portion of that evening's performance by Mr. Fenvessy in my presence and strongly warned not to repeat that portion, which he then promised not to do. On Friday evening Mr. Fenvessy was out of the city, and relying on the show manager's promise, I did not myself remain in the hall to observe the performance. Apparently his > Almost simultaneously with the above accident 17-year-old Edward Reese, a driver in the Hampton mines, was similarly injured. Along the route which the lad drives his "coal" out there is a narrow spot and the rail is bad. Reese attempted to go ahead of the car just coming to this point and was caught by the car which jumped the track. He was removed to the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reese, of Hampton street. A physician was summoned and found that the lad was suffering from the squeeze and shock.

Patrick J. Higgins, a miner, employed in the Oxford mines, narrowly escaped instant death yesterday morning, shortly before noon, by being caught in a Shoemaker, and children, and Mrs. Lizpremature blast. He wanted to get a little more coal down before quitting for the day and had placed a short charge in a hole. This fact probably accounts for his escape. The usual time was given for the blast to explede and it not doing so, Mr. Higgins went back into his "chamber" to investigate. His laborer waited for the signal that all was well and he escaped injury.

Just as the miner had almost reached the "face," the charge exploded. He was hurled to the "floor" and almost buried beneath the flying chunks of coal. He was immediately extricated from his perilous position and removed to his residence at 503 Meridian street. A physician was summoned and investigation disclosed a dislocated right elbow, numerous cuts and bruises and a severe shock. He will not be able to work for several weeks and is thankful for his good fortune in not being instantly killed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. EVANS. The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas C. Evans was held from the residence, 923 North Main avenue, yesterday atternoon. The remains were borne to the Tabernacle Congregational church where the services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. David P. Jones. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives and the handsome broad casket was almost concealed beneath the numerous and beautiful floral offerneral sermon and a selected choir sang the funeral songs. At the conclusion of the services the remains were viewed and then borne to the Washburn street emetery, where interment was made. A large cortege accompanied the remains to the cemetery. The pallbearers were: D. Pritchard, Reese Lloyd, S. Jones, S. Rogers, William Reese and R. E. Thomas,
