SOCIAL SESSION FOLLOWED

Addresses Were Made by Several Prominent Members of the Order. Pleasant Time Enjoyed at the Jackson Street Baptist Church. First Annual Social of the Ladies' Lyceum Tourist Club -- Necktie Social in Bellevue Baptist Mission.

The members of West Side conclave. No. 211, Improved Order Heptasophs. met in regular session last evening in their rooms in Ivorite hall, South Main avenue. The regular business was quickly disposed of and the installation of officers for the ensuing term was taken up. An occasion of this kind, coming but once a year is always the signal for a public meeting and a general good time. Last evening was no exception to this rule and the sixth annual one was in all probability the best of all.

The committee of arrangements com prising Stewart Biesecker, chairman; W. L. Campion, John T. Edwards and John T. James had done their work well and every person of the large assemblage seemed pleased. District Deputy Supreme Archon Walter V. Hendricks acted as installing officer and the officers installed were: Roger Fvans, past erchon; W. Campion worthy archon: John D. Davies, provost; Morgan P. Daniels, prelate; Lewis A. Howell, inspector; Stewart Blesecker, secretary; Elias E. Evans. financier, E. D. Jones, treasurer, Harry Thomas, warden: Charles R. Hill, sentinel. Financier Ellas E. Evans begins his sixth successive term of office or since the organization of the conclave, Dec. 11, 1891. The conclave then numbered 30 in membership and now numbers 124. The officers installed, cigars were passed and an excellent programme was carried out. Stewart Blesecker acted as chairman and Prof. Lewis Watkins was accompanist. Duets were given by W. J. Jones and W. Morgan: comic songs by W. Morgan; solos by William Evans and P. H. Warren, A. S. Rowley, the inimitable, gave some of his plano solos. Addresses upon general topics were given by City School Superintendent George Howell, City Treasurer C. G. Boland; District Depaties Supreme Archons Walter V. Hendricks and E. D. Jones. This most entoyable session was brought to an end by the serving of light refreshments.

SOCIAL LAST NIGHT. A large audience attended the Sulphur-Diamond social held at the Jackson street Baptist church last evening by the Fidelian society. The early part of the evening was spent in the enjoyment of a short programme. Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, the pastor, was chairman, and Miss Marion Hutchinson acted as accompanist. The exercises consisted of recitations by the Misses Annle Thomas, Elizabeth Thomas, and petite Bessie Slote. Miss Hutchinson gave a plano solo. Mrs. B. T. Jayne and E. R. Griffiths and the Misses Mable Jayne and Edith Mor-

The members of the Ladies' Lyeum Tourist club of the Irish Catho ic Benevolent Union conducted their first annual social in St. David's hall last evening. It was a decidedly successful affair which in a large measue was due to the efficient committee of arrangements, comprising the Misses B. Gallagher, Margaret Kellutt, Mary McNully, Elizabeth Hurst, Margaret Cusick, Ella Cavanaugh, and Mar-garet Corry. The following gentlemen also ably seconded the efforts of the young ladies: Daniel Regan, Charles Graham, James Cusick and Joseph Cassidy. The music for the dance numbers was provided by Mrs. Agnes Malott. The prompting was done by Cornelius Coleman.

Lively Fight for Councils in Progress in the Twelfth Ward.

All of Them Appear to Be Confident All of Them Appear to Be Confident of Victory--Surprise Party Ten-dered to Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Spruks at Their Home on Pittston Avenue. New Building and Loan Association Is to Be Organized Tuesday Night.

There is the warmest kind of a warm fight in progress in the Twelfth ward for the offices of select and common All of the candidates are council. Democrats and they are hammering away at each other with right good will.

For select council the candidates are James A. Manley, the present incumbent; John Shea, Honry F. Coyle and Anthony Lundy. The first named three all insist that they will surely be elected. It is Mr. Lundy's first plunge into politics and while he is outclassed by his competitors so far as experience and craftiness goes, his friends say that he stands a good chance of being elected. because of the manner which the vote of the ward will be split up.

For common council Morgan Swee ney, the present representative of that ward in the lower branch, and John Monaghan are pitted against each other and they are making things lively in the Twelfth this murky weather.

Mr. Hammen lives a short distance away on Willow Early Wednesday afternoon strept. they started out from home of visit friends at Ore Mine Spring, a place located a few miles from Mountain lake. To reach the Spring it is necessary to travel over an almost unbroken stretch of unsettled country, Mr. Westpfahl had his kodak with him.

Snow was falling and, it seemed, as the two men trod onward, that the depth of white on the road increased until, when the top of the mountain was reached, walking had become a struggle. The men pushed on, however, but at dusk were still some distance from the end of their destination. The air was bitter cold and a strong breeze topped the mountain, chilling the two navellers to the bone. It was only their own exertion, as they plodded on, that kept them from perishing from the cold.

Finally, close upon midnight, Messrs. Wesepfahl and Hammen reached the settlement about the Ore mine. They rested over night and through the next day, returning Friday, American Girls.

W. E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record, I heard a pretty story the other day of two American girls who visited the palace at Potsdam and had the unusual honor of being escorted about the ugly old building by the Emperor himself. It illustrates a trait in his character that is not often talked about, but is shown frequently. The imperial palace is open to visitors only when the emperor and his family are absent; but, without knowing this fact, the two American ladies made the jourdivers from the bed of the river. ney out there, and were repulsed by the usher at the door.
