THE STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE P

ANNUAL DINNER LACKAWANNA COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

surgeons, nearly sixty in number, banqueted at the Scranton club last night. The event teenth annual dinner of the Lackawanna County Medical society. which has become recognized as one of the most prominent of the medical bodies of the state. The dinner was served in the club dining room on the seventh floor of the board of trade building. Small tables senting from four to eight persons were used. They were decorated with smilax and cut flowers. The two guests of honor were Dr. Roswell Park, professor of surgery at the University of Buffalo, and Dr. C. L. Stevens, of Athens, secretary of the State Medical society. Dr. P. F. Gunster, of this city, was toastmaster. Dr. William Pepper, of Philadelphia, ex-provost of the University of Fennsylvania, had been anpounced to respond to a toast but was ill and obliged to send his regrets.

The toast programme embodied one novel feature in that the identity of the speakers was concealed under such fic-titious names as "Herr Peter Famous Funster," "Major Munchausen," "Icha-bod Crane," "Lord Retrospect," "Prince of Athens," "Little Lord Fauntieroy" and "Beau Brummel." Until the mediciners arose to respond to the toasts, all except the banquet committee were in the dark as to who the speakers The toast programme was as follows:

Bessey, Donne, Newbury, Seiler, Wehlau, Anna Law, Grover, of Peck-

ville, Thompson. The Lackawanna County Medical society has seventy-five members and is in a more prosperous condition than at any time since its organization in 1878. All the prominent physicians in the county are members and take an active interest in the society's affairs and, according to a statement made by one of the officers, are competent to assume any work known to medicine or surgery. The officers are: Dr. Lewis S. Barnes, president; Dr. Addison W. Smith and Dr. William E. Keller, vicepresidents; Dr. Gilbert D. Murray, secretary; Dr. L. M. Gates, treasurer; Dr. W. G. Fulton and Dr. J. L. Rea, censors, and Dr. H. D. Gardner, librarian.

According to a circular letter recently issued to the members, nineteen meetings are to be held and forty-one papers read during the year. The papers are to be generally discussed and clinical cases are to be presented at each meeting,

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS PROVIDENCE CONCLAVE OF HEPTASOPHS. COMPANY H ARMORY

Providence conclave, No. 195, Improved Order of Heptasophs, ducted the installation of their officers for the ensuing year under auspicious circumstances in Company H armory, North Scranton, last evening. The members of the conclave which is the largest and most flourishing of any of the neighboring conclaves assembled in Fenner & Chappell's hall, and afterwards marched in a body to the armory which was artistically decorated. Bunting and evergreen were prominent features in the decoration and the stage neatly arranged was a source of admiration to those present.

Long before the hour set for the affair to begin the seating capacity of the armory was overtaxed and the tardy ones were compelled to find standing

The gathering was called to order by the chairman who, after an introductory speech, introduced A. A. Vosburg, Physicians and | ed with a well executed plano solo by | William F. Fenne, John P. Murray, Miss Grady, which was followed by a song by the Electric City Glee club. Harry Smith then sang a song and was compelled to respond to an encore. The next on the programme was a recita-tion by Miss Lois Reese, which was followed by a duet with Mrs. Evans and Miss Griener as participants. Then came the feature of the evening, the installation of the officers which was conducted by District Deputy Supreme Archon Walter V. Hendricks. The officers installed were: Archon, R. C. Dean; provost, James Reed; financial secretary, B. B. Atherton; treasurer, George Griffin; secretary, A. B. Munn; prelate, E. C. Beidleman; inspector, C. B. Reese; warden, Peter Hill; sentinel, Louis Huff.

After the installation the programme was resumed, Missea Wenchell, Smith, Powell, Professors Breen and Phillips taking part. City Treasurer C. G. Boland gave an interesting address. The members of the conclave and their wives, also a large number of brethren of sister conclaves, then sat down and partook of a delicious supper which was served by the ladies of the Providence Presbyterian church.

TWELFTH ANNUAL BANQUET OF SCRANTON CONCLAVE OF HEPTASOPHS IN SCRANTON BICYCLE CLUB

Scranton Conlave, No. 117, Improved Order of Heptasophs, held its twelfth annual banquet last night, The Scranton Bicycle club house was the scene of the festivities and they were unquestionably the most mjoyableever conducted under the society's auspices. As is their custom, the Heptasophs were accompanied by their lady friends. Some little disturbance to the prescribed programme was occasioned by the fact that the attendance exceeded expectations, but this did not in any way interfere with its enjoyment, if indeed it did not add to it, because of its novelty. It was proposed to have the banquet and speeches in the dining hall and then follow with a hop in the dancing hall. The dining hall, however, would not accommodate all at one time, so it was arranged that there should be two sittings and then all should congregate in the dance hall to hear the speechmaking. While the first table was being served the people down stairs danced to the music that enlivened the dinner and then those who sat at the first table followed the same programme while waiting for the delayed diners. Rev. Foster U. Gift made the opening invocation.

The menu card contained the following promises, which were amply fulfilled by Caterer Joseph Curt:

Blue Points on Half Shell. Roasts. Cranberry Sauce. Vermont Turkey. Cranbe Philadelphia Capon. Baked Ham. Salad.

Chicken Mayonnaise, Potato. Desert.

French Ice Cream. Funcy Cakes, Coffee. Nuts. At 11 o'clock, when the inner man had been satisfied and all had assembled in the spacious dancing hall, Dr. James Stein, archon, with a few timely remarks, opened the post-prandial exercises. There were delightful vocal Jumbers by John T. Watkins and Miss Annette Reynolds, both being encored, and by Miss Bessie Posner, a pupil of Miss Reynolds, who was liberally applauded but declined to respond to an encore, it being her first public appearance. Toasts were responded to by J. S. Miller, who spoke of the "Order of Heptasophs;" D. T. Yost, whose subject was "Social Fraternity;" H. E. Paine, who dealt with "The Ladies," and City Solicitor M. A. McGinley, who had "Our City" for a subject. Mr. Miller, during the course of his remarks, made the statement that there are over one thousand Heptasophs in the city of Scranton.

Selections by Bauer's orchestra Interspersed the programme. When it was concluded several hours of dancing was indulged in.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Dr. James Stein, Justin Sigrist and G. F. Weeks. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, Mrs. H. . Heermans, Mrs. George F. Weeks, Mrs. Otto Deubler, J. H. Hopkins, H. J. Heermans, E. J. Paine, Otto Deuber and George W. Finn.

The conclave is at present officered as follows: Dr. James Stein, archon; D. T. Yost, past archon; J. S. Miller, secretary; E. J. Paine, financier; A. R. Raub, treasurer; J. Sigrist, provost; G. W. Finn, prelate; H. Landau, warder; George Rollison, sentinel; George Fenne, inspector.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John F. Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Yost, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hintermeister, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. ## THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS.

The Girl from Paris.

That chic, bewitching "Girl from Paris made her second appearance of the sea-son in this city last night. The Lyceum was the scene of her triumph, for she did achieve a triumph if the fervor of the applause that greeted her and her compatriots is any criterion by which to judge. And, by-the-by, one of these self-same compatriots is a fellow of infinite est and irresistible humor. His name is James Sullivan, and he was assigned the role of Hans, proprietor of a hotel at a German health resort. His make-up and his dialect were works of high art and he was besides the most unobtrusively tunny individual that has trod the boards of the Lyceum for several moons. One can forgive the naughty winks and wicked posing of "The Girl from Paris" for the sake of Sullivan. "Tis a pity he shines

the other young women who have e sayed the title role, but it must not be surmised from this that she makes th se interpretation of the character in clace among the vocalists of the com-cany as surely as Sullivan does among the comedians. She is not pretty but she s graceful and when she sings-well you orget that she is not exactly beautiful ie company throughout was composed of excellent material. Besides those men-loned above some of the members who deserve special mention in the order named are Alexander Clark, Frank Smithson, Nick Long, Phoebe Coyne, Benjamin Howard and Edward Chapmar Sprightly music, beautiful costumes and large chorus were features of the perormance. All of the scenery is carried by the company. That used in the sec-

A very entertaining musical comedy is The Deacon's Daughter," which was seen at the Academy of Music last night before a good sized audience. It is a comedy in which the late Annie Pixley me with great success. This success has been duplicated by Miss Kennedy, who has been starring in it for the last two sea-sons. The costuming of the piece is exceptionally fine and it is also staged in an excellent manner.

Altogether "The Deacon's Daughter" is thoroughly enjoyable entertainment is given in which there are no bare spots The Deacon's Daughter" will be repeatvenings at the Academy.

Rhea Tomorrow Night.

At the Lyceum tomorrow night Rhea will appear in a play of great historical interest. Its title is "Napoleon." In in-cident it has many excellent points and the dialogue is sparkling throughout and at times exceedingly vivacious and the performance, as might be inferred, is i eeping with the merits of the play. Rher is admirably fitted for the title role and from the moment of her entrance she solds the audience spell bound

"Sowing the Wind."

"Sowing the Wind" is a truly fascin-athing play conceived by the illustrious playwright, Sydney Grundy, who handles a delicate problem in an exceedingly clever manner. This play produces a great effect, the audience laughs when the dramatist desires to awaken laughter; weeps when he wishes them to weep; with the unfortunate person-has created for sorrow; exults over the defeat of those he lashes, and rejoices in the joy of those he caresses. "Sowing the Wind" will be the attraction at the Lyceum Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Fast Mail Coming.

A new idea was introduced, quite accilently, too, in "Fast Mail." during a per-formance at Havlin's theater. The scene of the freight train was on, and head brakeman had just spoken his lines and turning the switch, was about to leave the stage, when the new stage carpenter, Theodore W. MARY HAYES WANTED. Sheriff Has Not Been Able to Make

Prisoner of Her. Once again doth Mary Hayes set at defiance the whole executive force of the commonwealth in Lackawanna county. She is wanted to stand trial for keeping a tippling house over in the Twelfth ward, and when she did not respond when called, on Tuesday, a deputy sheriff was dispatched with a capias and instructions to bring her

Whether it was the memory of the fate of ex-Deputy Sheriff "Billy" Craig and various other officers of the law who were rash enough to attempt Mrs. Hayes' arrest, or whether it was that this latest envoy of the court met with some such experience as his predecessors, does not appear, but whatever it was, Mrs. Hayes was not brought into court and the district attorney yester-day confessed his inability to get her. said Judge Archbald, in amazement, "I am surprised to hear such an admission. To think that the sheriff of this county, with all the power he has at command, should have it said for him that he can not encompass the arrest of a woman." "But it is true, nevertheless, your nonor," said Mr. Jones. "We have exhausted every available means at command and yet are unsuccessful." "But you haven't exhausted every available means," rejoined the court. Have you never heard of the judge who, on an occasion similar to this, told the sheriff that every available means had not been exhausted, that he had not summoned him, the judge. The sheriff, so the story goes, then and there impressed the judge into service, held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock under his posse power, and ordered him from the parental residence. Interment to bring in the prisoner. And the judge brought him in.

"Well, we will do that in this case." suggested Mr. Newcomb, attorney for the prosecution, but Judge Archbald intimated that it would not be done And Mary Hayes is still at liberty.
